AVOCA NEWS

Mary Wilson, instructor in the school at Mullen, was home last Sunday for a visit with the folks over the week end.

Jack Betts and Claude Hollenberger who are painting the church at Oteo are getting along very nicely and will soon have the contract completed.

Miss Dorothy Barker who is staying in Avoca and attending school was spending last Sunday at the home of her mother, Mrs. Ella Barker at Murray.

The Avoca telephone exchange has been renovated, given a new painting on the interior and as well have a new directory which adds greatly to finding the numbers wanted.

Marion C. Pittman and family were over to Omaha Sunday where they enjoyed a visit for the day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Pittman and had a very fine time.

The Campfire Girls are to stage a food and bake sale at the McCann cafe Saturday and all can thus see what kind of cooks the girls are. We are certain they will prove the very best.

Art Johnson and sister, Clara, of Weeping Water and Mrs. Clara McCann and son, Bobbie were in Avoca last Friday enjoying the pheasant supper which was had at the McCann restaurant.

Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson of Shubert when Mr. Johnson was taking a load of stock to the Omaha market stopped here and Mrs. Johnson remained for a visit and when Mr. Johnson returned, picking up the wife they returned home.

Wm. Smith and wife of Cozad and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rasmussen also of that place and the nephews of W. H. Bogard were visiting for a short time last Monday at the Bogard home and looking the town over as they resided here for many years and removed to the west.

Leo McCann, Wm. Kuntz and Wm. Kemp went over to Fremont for a few days hunting and returned later in the week with a quantity of fine pheasant which were cooked at the McCann cafe and a real pheasant six o'clock dinner was had. Harry Akbur and wife of Dunbar were also there to enjoy the dinner.

Clyde Bogard went over to Shenandoah this Wednesday and secured his sister, Mrs. A. Z. Thomas and the two girls, bringing them to Avoca where they will spend the remainder of the week with Grandfather W. H. Bogard and on Sunday Mr. Thomas will come over for the family and also visit for the day Sunday.

Charles Bogard Passes.

Charles Bogard, brother of W. H. Bogard, and seventy-four years of age, passed away at his late home in Fremont where he had resided for forty years, leaving the wife, one son and one daughter.

Mr. Bogard was born in Wyoming, Illinois and with the family came to Nebraska in 1879 and had made his home in this state since. He united with the Methodist church early in life and lived a devoted life in the footsteps of the Master. He and the good wife which he leaves by his departure, were united in marriage

Murray

FOR SALE: Pure bred Poland China gilts. Albert Young, Murray. Ed Redden, who has been living in the W. A. Scott house, moved late last week to the Holmes property on west Main street.

Lon Crosser was called to Omaha last Friday, where he was looking after some business and on his return brought back with him a tank load of gasoline.

Mesdames Victor Wehrbein and Anderson Lloyd were visiting with friends and doing some shopping in Omaha last Saturday.

Mrs. Margaret Brendel is having the home refurnished on the interior, which is adding much to this already beautiful home. Mrs. Will Seybolt is assisting with the work.

Martin G. Stava, of Plattsmouth, was a guest at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Troop and husband last Sunday. Mrs. Troop has been in poor health for some time.

George Meisinger, who has been kept at home on account of poor health, is now improved to a point where he is able to be up and around, but is not feeling the best as yet.

The Murray lumber yard received and unloaded a car of lumber Saturday, and along came a car of cement to be unloaded the first of the week, which, with the other work coming to the yard, kept them pretty busy.

Charles ("Chuck") Davis, a member of the Cisney orchestra, who is a very good piano-accompanied player, will furnish music for a dance to be given at the Crosser hall on Saturday night. See their ad on this page.

Dr. P. T. Heineman and wife and Dr. L. S. Pucelik and wife of Plattsmouth were visiting in Murray last Saturday evening, and attended the supper which was served by the ladies of the Presbyterian church.

Representative George E. Nickles went to Lincoln Monday to attend the special session of the Nebraska legislature. During his absence, his brother, Lee, of Plattsmouth, is here to assist with and direct the work at the lumber yard.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Scott, who have been visiting in Murray during the past two weeks, departed Monday for their home at Richland, Kansas. They expected to stop at Paul, Neb., for a visit of a few days with friends before continuing on home.

Four nephews of Henry Vest arrived here from their home at Memphis, Mo., expecting to find employment in the corn fields of Cass county, but the damp weather has deterred the work and they will have to wait until the corn is in proper condition for cribbing.

D. Ray Frans, wife and son, Jimmie, of Union, were guests in Murray last Saturday night, coming to attend the supper given by the Presbyterian ladies. As the preceding day was Mrs. Frans' birthday, they reserved an entire table and had a number of friends present with them to help celebrate the occasion.

Luther Womack was called to the county seat last Monday morning to look after some business matters. He has been anxious to get at the job of picking corn, but the time is a little early, as the moisture has not dried out sufficiently. A good hard freeze is needed now to put the corn in fine shape for husking.

Lucaer Carper was at Nehawka last Sunday for a visit at the home of his mother, Mrs. G. Carper. Other guests there included Mrs. Carper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Griffin, who had come for a visit of some duration, while Mr. Griffin is busy making and installing numerous built-in cupboards and cabinets at the home of the daughter.

Served an Excellent Supper

The ladies of the Presbyterian church of Murray gave a supper last Saturday night, having a large crowd present to enjoy the splendid repast which they provided. The ladies realized a nice sum from the labors and everyone was well pleased with the food and the price charged.

Ladies Aid to Meet Nov. 6

The Ladies Aid of the Christian church will hold a meeting Wednesday afternoon, November 6th, at the church parlors, when they will look after some work and enjoy a very appropriate and interesting program. ## Cass County Farmers are For Corn-Hog Plan

Large Majority Given for the Proposed 1936 Corn-Hog Program, 1,311 Yes, 450 No.

Cass county farmers lined up with other counties in the state and nation when they voted almost three to one in favor of the submission of a voluntary corn-hog contract for next year. The question on which farmers throughout the nation voted "Yes" or "No" in a referendum held last week was, "Do you favor a corn-hog adjustment program to follow the 1935 program which expires November 30, 1935?"

The vote for the county as it was tabulated by the county committee was as follows:

Signers	1,156	294
Non-Signers	155	156
Total	1,311	450

The Bible school session will be allotted for this service and also a portion of the preaching hour. Following the specially arranged program, Rev. Lloyd Schubert, the minister, will deliver a brief sermon on the subject, "The Father's Place in the Home." All are invited to attend this service, especially the fathers of the community.

Woman's Club Meets

The regular meeting of the Murray Woman's club was held on last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Harry Nelson. All members were present. At the close of the meeting, delicious refreshments were served by Mr. Nelson.

The next meeting will be held on November 21st, at the home of Mrs. O. A. Davis.

Returns from the West

Miss Gwendolyn Hanson, who has been visiting for the past two months at the Ray Young home at Fort Collins, Colo., arrived in Omaha on last Sunday and was met there by her father, Arthur T. Hanson, who drove up after her. She enjoyed her stay in the west, but home looked pretty good to her after a two months' absence.

Visiting Here for a Time

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Miller, who reside at Plainview, came down to Lincoln Saturday to take in the Nebraska-Oklahoma football game, and after the game came to Murray, where they are visiting this week at the homes of A. G. Long and William Sporer. The three ladies are sisters. Mr. Miller is a rural mail carrier out of Plainview, having a route which covers some 70 miles. He is taking his annual vacation of two weeks at this time.

TEACHERS HURT IN CRASH

Royal, Neb.—Four Royal school teachers are recovering from injuries suffered in an automobile accident which occurred while they were en route home from the district convention at Norfolk. The car in which they were riding hurtled over a grade at a curve in the highway near here. Mrs. Martin Wade, wife of the principal of the Royal schools, was worst injured, being cut on the head. Mr. Wade and Mrs. Belle Coakley escaped with minor injuries. Others in the car, also slightly hurt, were Miss Gwendolyn Rundquist, Royal teacher, and her mother, Mrs. C. E. Rundquist. Miss Rundquist, who was driving, was blinded by the lights of an approaching truck.

BLACK WIDOWS WINNERS

Grass Range, Montana.—Barney Degner, in from Grass Range, says that for years there was a prairie dog town out in the Flatwillow section that extended out their place. Early this year the black widows began to go down until today there isn't a single prairie dog to be found on the place, but across every hole is strung the coarse, strong web of a black widow. Prairie dogs have never been popular but as compared with these new inhabitants, they are unanimously in favor of the prairie dogs.

Turkey Raising in Nebraska is Discussed

Discussion by Geo. S. Round, Ass't. Editor, University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

The Old Gobbler will soon "gobble" no more on the farm. It won't be long until he will be slaughtered, dressed, graded and sent to eastern markets where he will be the choicest of foods on the Thanksgiving dinner table.

With the holiday season rapidly approaching, growers throughout Nebraska this week made active preparations for their annual marketing activities. The market outlook, they believe, is better than one year ago.

While there are 10 to 15 percent less birds in the country this year, Nebraska growers have about 10 percent more than last year, it is estimated. Prices are now about 1 to 2 cents higher than at the corresponding time last year and growers vision more turkeys upon the household tables of the nation this year.

More birds than ever before will probably be marketed directly by growers themselves this year. The advent of cooperative marketing associations is making this possible. Turkey production in Nebraska has become a specialized industry in various parts of the state with the formation of these organizations. Among the outstanding associations are the Mid-West Turkey Growers Marketing Association in Thayer county, the Republican Valley Turkey Growers' Association in Webster county and the North Platte Turkey Growers' Association in the western section.

Production is also concentrated in Lancaster and surrounding counties with thousands of birds produced and marketed within a radius of 50 miles of Lincoln each year. In the sand-hill region turkeys are becoming more popular and Holt county is getting the reputation of being a producer of good birds.

These associations, organized through help of county agricultural agents and extension poultrymen at the Nebraska college of agriculture, apparently will play a bigger part than ever in marketing this year. They have found that they can market their own birds on a grade system under their own management.

Back in 1927, the Republican Valley Turkey Growers' Association was organized in Webster county. Three women attended the first meeting. Today 50 growers belong. Clifford Eshelman, Riverton is president. Rose Vavricka, Red Cloud, is secretary-treasurer. About 13,500 birds will be sold during the holidays this year or about 140,000 pounds. Approximately 1,400 of the birds will go to market late this month.

Another well known organization is the Mid-West Turkey Growers' Association which has E. H. Kahle, Hebron, as president, W. R. Wicks, agricultural agent in Thayer county, is secretary. Last year these producers banded themselves together and did their own marketing. They rented an old wholesale plant at Deshler. There they slaughtered their own birds, dressed them, graded the birds and sold them cooperatively. The same plan will be used this year, according to Secretary Wicks.

Lloyd Vance, extension poultryman at the Nebraska college of agriculture, reports that the North Platte Valley Turkey Growers' Association will probably market about 30 carloads of birds this year on government grade in comparison to about 26 cars last year. The birds will carry the brand, "Teton," an innovation in the marketing of birds by cooperative associations.

Up in Holt county turkey production has become popularized and hundreds of birds will be marketed soon. Agricultural Agent F. M. Reese of O'Neill reports growers are hoping to receive a little better price than last year. A cooperative effort on the part of a creamery in sponsoring a 4-H turkey project in Holt county has tended to increase the popularity of the bird. More than 4,000 pounds were distributed under this plan.

POLICE TURN 'RECKLESS'

Evanston, Ill.—A whole series of near auto accidents caused by reckless driving in this suburb famous for its low rate of fatalities, had the police department out Tuesday, but not an arrest was made.

The "reckless" drivers were the police themselves. The near accidents, which might at other times have resulted seriously, climaxed the third annual training school for traffic officers drawing to a close at Northwestern university this week.

Fifty-five traffic officers from widely scattered cities, Birmingham, Ala., Seattle, Wash., and Newark, N. J., are enrolled and after "final" examinations will return with new programs to reduce constantly mounting fatality figures.

Those witnessing Tuesday's narrow escapes will know all the "answers" when facing speeders in their home cities. They will know from personal experience, that a car driven at the comparatively moderate speed of thirty-nine miles an hour requires fifty-eight feet to stop. At forty-eight miles an hour, the same car, screeched to a standstill only after skidding dangerously for ninety-five feet.

On a wet brick pavement at nineteen miles an hour the machine slid forty-three feet to a stop. It all but turned over after skidding ninety-seven feet when the brakes were applied at thirty miles an hour.

LESS BUTTER AND CHEESE

Creamery butter production for the first nine months of the year is 2 percent below the same period last year, says the state and federal division of agricultural statistics. Cheese production is about 1 percent lower.

Creamery butter production was lower for each of the first four months, the average being 9 percent lower. It was higher for May, June and July, averaging 5 percent above the same months in 1934. Production dropped again in August and September, averaging 3 percent lower than for the previous year.

American cheese production was lower for the first six months of the year and considerably higher for July, August and September. For the first nine months of the year the production was approximately 1 percent below that for the same period last year.
