

AVOCA NEWS

Everett Emhoff is struggling with a case of the mumps and at the present time it looks like a tie.

Oscar Zimmer and his mother were over to Lincoln last Tuesday visiting with friends and looking after some shopping.

The Campfire Girls are arranging for the holding of a banquet on the coming Monday evening and will have a very fine time, they say.

Carl O. Zaiser, Vernon Rawalt and Claude Meyers were over to Wayne for a few days last week hunting pheasants and got all they needed.

Wolford Greenrod has been kept to his home and bed with an attack of the flu for a number of days, but is feeling better now and is out again.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Freeman of northeast of Weeping Water, were guests for the day last Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Freeman, their son and family.

The Trunkbolz Oil company of Eagle and Lincoln who have tanks at Avoca have just painted their tanks an aluminum color and which makes a very nice appearance.

Wm. Maseman was a visitor in Plattsmouth last Monday, called there as a juror, but as he served on the former jury he was told to go home and look after his business, which pleased him greatly.

John Kuntz who has fallen on one of his fingers so that it is not very handy to work has accepted the invitation of a friend in Otoe to accompany him on a trip to Boulder, Colo., where they will visit until the first of next week.

Fred Marquardt of the Avoca elevator is purchasing ear corn as the farmer desires to dispose of it for a little ready money. Fred is not anxious to make the purchase of this grain as he would rather wait until it is marketable and when it can be handled with more satisfaction and safety. However, to accommodate those needing some money he is receiving some.

A large number of the people of Avoca were over to Weeping Water last Sunday attending the celebration of the 75th birthday anniversary of the founding of the Congregational church of that place. Among those from here attending were Fred Marquardt and wife, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Brendel, Elmer Hallstrom and wife, J. M. Koljer and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Baier.

Marion Pittman, rural mail carrier, says that Christmas is but a few weeks away now and that it behooves all who are to send presents to mail to get at it at once, to securely wrap their parcels and have them well directed and with sufficient postage that they may arrive at their destination in time for Christmas and not have them caught in the congested mails later on. This is very good advice.

Mrs. Alfred Roeloffs Dies.

Mrs. Alfred Roeloffs, 38, mother of three children and wife of Mr. Roeloffs who has been very poorly for many months, being afflicted with a cancer, passed away last Saturday night and was buried from the North Branch church on Tuesday afternoon. A large number of the host of friends of the deceased and the family were present at the funeral.

Give Friends Birthday Surprise.

Miss Meta Mueller was fortunate in that she was awarded a birthday anniversary last week and the friends being aware of the fact gave her a very pleasant surprise last Sunday evening when they gathered in number about twenty and with good things to eat and a merry disposition they provided a most pleasant evening with many presents and wishes for many more such happy occasions.

Church Services for Sunday.

The Rev. Thompson of Lincoln, a pastor of the Congregational church of that place, will be in Avoca and deliver a discourse at the Congregational church the coming Sunday.

Have a Good Paper.

The paper issued by the Avoca school is a very creditable journal and one well filled with news and attractive advertisements. The circulation covers the town and immediate vicinity as all the students' families are readers of the paper.

Senior Class Visits Lincoln.

The Senior class of the Avoca high school, sponsored by Supt. L. L. Larson and wife, were over to Lincoln one day last week where they visited the city and enjoyed a good time and had their pictures taken. The members of the class are Misses Agnes McCann, Dorothy Sudduth, Inez Oldering, Marie Grafe, Cora Nutzman and Masters Vera Rawalt, Ernest Gollner, Ray Meyer, Donald Sudduth, M. McCormick and Orville Doty.

ATTEND CHURCH MEETING

Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wescott and George L. Farley motored to Weeping Water where they attended the 75th anniversary of the Congregational church of that city.

Mr. Farley's parents were among the pioneers of the community of Weeping Water and it brought many memories as he visited the community where he had spent his boyhood days and early manhood, the anniversary recalling many recollections of the old friends now so long gone. Mrs. Wescott also spent her younger years there where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Street, made their home from 1888 to 1895.

Mr. Farley was called upon and gave a few remarks on the history of the church and recalled many important events that had transpired in this church. In the Weeping Water church was organized the first Christian Endeavor society west of the Missouri river and there also was originated by Lucus Reed, Sr., when superintendent of the Sunday school, of the plan of giving a penny a day to the foreign missionary society of the church, now a world wide movement.

Mrs. Wescott was heard on the program in a vocal number, "The Publican," by Vanderwater, Mr. Wescott playing the accompaniment.

JACK WISE ACQUITTED

From Wednesday's LEAD
This morning the case of the State of Nebraska vs. Jack Wise, charged with selling intoxicating liquor without a license was submitted to the jury and in a short time the verdict was given freeing Wise from the charge. He had been charged with having sold a pint of liquor to Ross Shropshire, who later was arrested and in his trial the claim was made that liquor had been procured from Wise.

Pete Nelson of Seward, Nebr., is visiting at the Fred J. Drucker home at Plattsmouth.

Only Another Week Left of Red Cross Roll Call

Membership Campaign Closes Thanksgiving Day—Everyone Should Contribute to This Need

Only another week of the Red Cross membership campaign remains. The annual roll call will come to a close on Thanksgiving day.

From all over the country come reports of the greatest membership enrolled in recent years. This is especially true here in Nebraska, where the Red Cross performed admirably last summer when one of the greatest disasters the state has ever experienced occurred in the Republican valley. The Red Cross was on the job within twelve hours after the first call came for relief and money was poured into the devastated area to provide food, clothing and shelter for the many homeless persons. This money comes almost entirely from memberships—yours and mine.

"Some day," says the Nebraska City News-Press, "a disaster will strike closer to us than the Republican Valley, for the law of averages shows that no place on earth is immune from some great, devastating phenomenon of nature which ruthlessly, and quickly takes lives without warning and disrupts whole communities."

The Red Cross is a great national organization, yet in a more liberal sense it is our organization. Its activities extend to the smallest town and hamlet in Nebraska. It is well managed and economical in administration. Cass county veterans have been aided, home safety has been taught and swimming and life saving instruction given right here at home. Extensive relief and aid has been extended to people in distress in nearly every state in the union during the past year.

Who knows when we will need the succor of this great organization in our own community—when a tornado or other calamity may strike without warning and find us wholly unprepared to meet the emergency?

The Journal urges its readers not to refuse the solicitation of volunteer workers who will ask you to renew your membership in this great humanitarian American organization.

Cass county can be thankful, and will, we are sure, on Thanksgiving day to have given its share to this agency of mercy, the Greatest Mother—the American Red Cross.

Your membership will help to make this possible.

HONOR ST. LOUIS VISITOR

Mrs. R. W. Clement was hostess Tuesday afternoon at a most delightful 1 o'clock luncheon, honoring her sister, Mrs. Anna Britt, of St. Louis, who is here to spend a short time with the relatives and old time friends.

The members of the group, old friends of many years standing, had a most enjoyable visit with the guest of honor following the exquisitely appointed luncheon.

Mrs. Clement was assisted in the entertaining and serving by her daughters, Mrs. Henry C. McMaken of Omaha and Mrs. Ralph Gansemer of Murray.

Those enjoying the occasion were Miss Verna Leonard, Misses Mia and Barbara Gering, Miss Dora Fricke, Mrs. Henry Herold, Mrs. J. A. Donegan, Mrs. Maude Fricke, and the guest of honor, Mrs. Britt.

Thanksgiving favors of all kinds now on display at the Bates Book & Stationery store.

DUST FLIES IN KANSAS

Dodge City, Kas.—A dust storm was reported at Liberal and Elkhart in southwest Kansas and in parts of the Oklahoma and Texas panhandles. Dust clouds floated over here, but remained high in the air.

TO BEGIN POWER PROJECT

Beatrice.—Directors of the South-eastern Nebraska Public Power district said they received word Saturday from Washington that their contract with the Rural Electrification administration was complete. Work on the project is to begin immediately.

HAVE PLEASANT MEETING

The members of the local court of the Catholic Daughters of America were most delightfully entertained Tuesday evening at the hospitable home of Mrs. J. C. Petersen on Park hill, this being the regular social session of the order.

The evening was spent in cards and in the pinocle games Mrs. John Cloldt was the most successful, while in bridge Mrs. Thomas Walling was the winner, much pleasure being derived from these pastimes.

At a suitable hour dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Petersen, Mrs. W. A. Swatek, Mrs. Hermie Svoboda, Mrs. Anna Zitka and Miss Josephine Rys.
