Callahan Church Notes

F. C. Weber, Pastor

Splendid interest and a happy people at all the services last Sunday. We were indeed pleased for the many visitors Sunday night. Come again; you help make the service what it ought to be. This will be a busy month for the church. Let us do the Lord's work in the Lord's way.

Joy is like sunshine, you must make as much of it as you can while you have it. It is a tragedy to lose it; but it can be restored if you seek it in the right place, and ask for it in sincerity. One old sinner got it back when he went to God crying, "Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, and uphold me with thy free spirit." This invitation is extended to everyone who longs for real joy: "Come to the gospel feast." You will find a welcome at the Callahan church.

"A little talk with Jesus! How it smooths the rugged road!"

The Four Square club met at the home of Mrs. P. T. Johnson for the November meeting. The lesson subject was "The Homemaker Entertains." Upon arriving, each member was formally introduced, after which the early part of the evening was spent in playing games. We were also favored with a Christmas skit. Mrs. Bryan McDonald acted the part of "The Community Spirit" and Mrs. Schafer "The Christmas Spirit."

Tea was then served with Mesdames Johnson, Amgwert and H. A. Tool serving. The table was beautifully decorated with a Christmas centerpiece and candles.

Following tea, the business portion of the meeting was taken up. Each member responded to roll call with a line of "The Collect." Lesson leaflets and supplies for the making of plaques and book ends were then distributed.

There were twenty-one members and one visitor present. Our group chairman, Mrs. Louis Schmidt, gave a short talk on the coming activities of the club.

A number of articles, such as neckties, aprons and hooked mats were exhibited by the different members were exhibited.

After the singing of Christmas carols, the meeting adjourned with each member feeling she had spent a very profitable as well as enjoyable evening.—News Reporter.

Saw Oregon-Nebraska Game

On Thanksgiving day, Lacey McDonald took a car load of boys to Lincoln, where they enjoyed seeing the football game between the Cornhuskers and Oregon. The boys were admitted on "knot hole" tickets, which are distributed through the schools and Boy Scout organizations in the various towns of eastern Nebraska. In this manner, boys are given opportunity to see the games at a very nominal admission charge of 10 cents. The same arrangement applies to girls and Charles I. Long took a load of Murdock girls to Lincoln that day, where they too were admitted as members of the "knot hole" club, and thoroughly enjoyed seeing the Cornhuskers defeat the Oregonians.

Annual Thank-Offering Program Great success was felt Sunday evening by the four Missionary organizations of the Evangelical Lutheran church when the annual "Thank Offering" program was held. The evening was ideal and the program conducted by Mrs. Albert Bornemeier and her assistants made up an evening of profit and information.

"The Magic Thank-Offering Box" brought a graphic message to show how thank-offering box contributions give the gospel message to all classes and races.

The annual offerings for general missions contributed at this time were as follows: Woman's Missionary society, $85.47; Young People's Missionary Circle, $23.20; the Mission Band, $26.95, and the Little Heralds organization, $5.48.

A unique feature of the program was shown when each member of the organization marched to the altar and presented gifts for the King, depositing his or her individual gift in specially prepared receptacles, which were decorated with the colors of the organizations participating. The little tots led the line of march, placing their boxes in a beautifully decorated baby cradle.

It was an evening well spent. Consecrated money, given unselfishly, is a great asset to God's kingdom throughout the world. When it is given with a prayer, it does something to the individual heart which cannot be expressed, but its power is felt throughout the world.

State Auditor will Pass Upon All Spending

Validity of Bills Eating up $10,000 Balance in the Banking Investigation Fund Questioned.

Strenuous and insistent efforts of the special session of the legislature to appropriate an estimated balance of $10,000 in the banking investigation fund of $20,000 created by the regular session, resulted in three bills which either appropriate outright or by implication more than the supposé amount now in the fund.

State Auditor Ayres, who is responsible for issuing warrants under these bills, is studying them and whether or not any of them are valid as being within the subject matter mentioned in the governor's call is yet to be determined.

The governor's call specifically authorized no action by the special session except to amend the law of the regular session so that a report of the banking investigation might be filed with the special session instead of with the next regular session. Yet the special session seeks by three bills to reappropriate the $10,000 balance left in the investigation fund, and to define in various ways what it should be used for, including prosecutions for the insurance department, a department not mentioned in the governor's call nor germane to the original act of the regular session, that subject being investigation of banking, without reference to the insurance department.

Before any money is drawn under the legislative acts Auditor Ayres said he would have to pass upon his own responsibility in the matter as to whether issuance of warrants will be legal.

Before any money is drawn under the legislative acts Auditor Ayres said he would have to pass upon his own responsibility in the matter as to whether issuance of warrants will be legal.

H. R. 35 appropriates $5,000 of the banking probe balance for use of the director of insurance to institute prosecutions in relation to receiverships in his department.

H. R. 38 appropriates $2,500 of the banking probe balance for defense of house banking committee-men from a $50,000 damage suit filed in court by F. C. Radke.

S. P. 15 does not appropriate any specific sum but it authorizes the attorney general and governor to institute suits to transfer of bank receiverships from the former banking superintendent, E. H. Lutkardt, to Ben Saunders, present superintendent. As it says such suits shall be instituted under H. R. 392, the regular session's banking probe, it may be construed as authority to use part of the unused balance in that fund.

A fourth use of the banking probe balance was recognized by the special session when it struck out of the insurance prosecution bill all reference to another $5,000 amount to be used by the attorney general for suits which he might file under the banking probe law. This was done by the explanation that the regular session's bill authorizing the $20,000 investigation already gives the attorney general right to file suits deemed desirable as a result of the investigation. It is alleged suits for transfer of receiverships will more than absorb the $2,500 which apparently remains in the probe fund.

One peculiarity of bills instructing or authorizing the attorney general to file suits is that he already has power under the general statute defining his power and duties to file suits or prosecutions on behalf of the state.

HELENA GIVEN STIFF JOLTS

Helena, Mont.—Earth shocks that ranked in intensity with the major tremors of a few weeks ago, jolted Helena but the city escaped serious damage.

The jars extended over a 250 mile radius and were recorded for 10 to 15 seconds here. Weather bureau officials called them the fourth most severe in the series of 1,052 earth movements felt in Helena since Oct. 12. Damage was confined, however, to weakening some of the buildings torn by previous shocks. Helena newspapers said reports from Great Falls and Butte termed the quakes the hardest felt so far at those cities.

WHEAT HARVEST DROPS

Perth, Australia—West Australia's wheat harvest was officially estimated at 20,109,000 bushels. This represents a substantial decrease from the figures of 26,980,000 in 1934 and 37,533,000 in 1933. West Australia this season suffered from widespread drouth.

Father and Sons Banquet

Last Friday evening the Fathers and Sons gathered at the Callahan church for their annual banquet. Ninety-seven Dads and Sons did justice to the splendid supper prepared by the ladies of the church. After which all enjoyed a fine program. August Reike spoke on the subject: "Fathers Responsibility to Their Sons," and Alvin on "Sons Responsibility to Their Dads." After several toasts by the able toastmaster, Alfred Bornemeier, Dr. V. A. Hunter of Lincoln spoke on the theme "Fathers and Sons, 1935 Model."

By-laws were adopted for the Father-Son banquet, and R. Kuehn was elected president, August Reike treasurer and Marion Stock, secretary.
