PIONEER NEBRASKAN DIES

Charles Rivett, 85, veteran stone mason and building contractor who had lived in Bethany twenty-two years, died Monday morning at his home, 6703 Holdrege, in the Lincoln suburb. A native of Paddington, England, he came to this country in 1874 and settled at Nebraska City. He lived in Elmwood forty years before moving to Lincoln. He was a member of Bethany Christian church.

Surviving are his wife, Foncine; three daughters, Mrs. George McFall of Brunswick, Mrs. A. M. Trumble of Eagle and Mrs. W. P. Tyson of Springfield, Ore.; six sons, Frank of Salem, Ore., James of Oakland, Calif., Charles of Lincoln, Floyd H. of Long Beach, Calif., L. R. Rivett of Havelock and Rex D. of York; two brothers, William of Lincoln and Richard of Ocean Park, Ore.; sister, Mrs. Mary Mitchell of Scottsbluff; fifteen grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

CHARGES CONFRONT CARR

Denver.—Criminal charges were filed against James H. Carr, secretary of state who resigned under fire in the Colorado liquor scandal. Information filed in district court charged Carr, William E. O'Toole, one of the central figures in the scandal and Ed Leisenring, owner of a drug firm here, with conspiracy to commit a misdemeanor, "to wit, extortion."

Basis for the information, District Attorney Wettengel said, was an alleged attempt of O'Toole to "shake-down" a Denver wholesale drug firm, McKesson-Robbins, for $3,000 in return for which the company was to receive a liquor retail license suspended for failure to pay liquor taxes. The taxes, later determined to be about $2,000, were compromised by Carr at $3,000.

NO MORE KENTUCKY DUELS

Frankfort, Ky.—Before Albert Benjamin Chandler became governor of Kentucky he had to swear solemnly he never fought a duel with deadly weapons, nor sent or accepted a challenge, nor acted as a second at a duel. The oath recited by the 37 year old governor, brought a smile to the throng about the capitol steps. But it was serious business when the farmers of the third constitution in 1850, in a spirit of reform, required the oath of state officials to outlaw dueling among politicians. Writers of the present constitution in 1891 retained the oath.

'Little TVA' in Nebraska Seen by Sen. Norris

Co-operation of 3 Big Public Power Districts All That Is Needed, Veteran Declares.

Senator George W. Norris said Tuesday at Washington the only thing necessary to assure development of a "little Tennessee valley authority" in Nebraska was the co-operation of officials of three big public power districts in the state.

At the same time, Norris said, unless such co-operation was achieved he thought there was little chance that benefits of low power production costs would be passed on to the people.

Secretary Ickes earlier announced a special engineering board, which studied the Nebraska situation, made a definite recommendation for co-ordination of the Platte, Tri-County and Loup River Power projects.

Need More Money.

"It would be a wonderful thing for the state," Norris said. "It would mean we would have a little TVA whose benefits can scarcely be estimated. It would take considerably more money than has been allotted, but if the district co-operate there is no question that the funds would be provided."

The Nebraskan said public works officials felt the linking of power facilities of the three projects would provide one of the "most wonderful power set-ups" they ever had seen.

PWA's first attempt to assure co-ordination ran into a snag when Platte Valley directors rejected a proposed agreement.

Norris said co-ordination would put each project on better financial footing by increasing greatly the firm power available for sale. Without co-ordination, he said, vast quantities of power produced at Columbus and North Platte would be dumped power.

For Power Trust.

"The only purchaser for dump power," Norris said, "would be the power trust. But if the projects are linked together, the firm power can be sold so as to benefit municipalities and farmers."

Ickes has not disclosed how the engineering board suggested the projects should be co-ordinated. However, a separate agency to sell power for all three districts has been under consideration.

A. F. OF L. URGES A SIX-POINT PLAN FOR INDUSTRY

Washington, Dec. 10.—A six-point economic program was submitted to labor groups of George L. Berry's industrial conference Tuesday by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

Shortly after Berry told business to "quit quabbling" and asserted an industrial council would be set up despite opposition from business ranks. Green put forward the A. F. of L. plan for consideration by the conference. It called for:

1. Shortening the work week.
2. Minimum wage standards for women and minors.
3. Elimination of child labor, night work for women and homework.
4. "Unstinted enforcement and unqualified compliance with" the Wagner labor disputes act.
5. Formulation of wage and hour standards by management and labor organized on a nationwide basis.
6. Enactment of the bill by Senator O'Mahoney (D.), Wyoming, to set up wage and hour standards thru a system of licensing industry.

NEBRASKAN FACES AN EMBEZZLING CHARGE

Sidney, Neb., Dec. 10.—Embezzlement charges were filed Tuesday against Roger Brennan, former manager of the Dalton Co-operative association of Dalton. Brennan was accused of embezzling $895 in cash and property belonging to the company.

County Attorney P. J. Heaton back to the alleged defalcations dated to Dec. 10, 1932. Brennan was manager from early in 1932 until July 31, this year, when he was replaced.

AL SMITH NAMED TRUSTEE

New York.—Former Governor Smith was appointed temporary federal trustee for the Postal Telegraph corporation, now under reorganization in accordance with the bankruptcy act. Smith, ill at his home, accepted the post in a telephone conversation with Federal Judge Alfred C. Cox. Judge Cox deferred appointment of another trustee to serve as a managing officer until representatives of the creditors could confer with Smith and make a joint recommendation.

Elmwood News

Mrs. E. O. Liston who has been in Florida for the past two weeks visiting with her son, James Liston, returned home last Monday.

Dr. and Mrs. Totman who have been visiting in Colorado with friends and relatives for the past few weeks returned home last Monday after having enjoyed their stay there very pleasantly.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Beachner of Lincoln and little son, David were guests of the mother of Mrs. Beachner, Mrs. Bess Streeter Aldrich, the authoress, in Elmwood last Sunday where all enjoyed a very pleasant visit for the day, returning to Lincoln in the evening.

George F. Wilson, Wm. Costman and Elmer Schreeves had in hand the cutting of a large doorway in the Tyson building for the big door which is to be used for the driving in and out of all manner of farming machinery which the new firm of Schreeves and Clapp will soon open.

Miss Betty Clement, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Clement, who is a student at the state university at Lincoln, was a guest of her parents and other members of the family for over the week end last Sunday, all enjoying the visit very much. Miss Betty returned to her studies Monday morning.

Former Citizen Buried Here.

About fifty years ago Charles Rivitt came to Elmwood from Nebraska City and engaged in his trade which was plastering and brick and stone mason, making his home there for some twenty years. He prospered to the extent he was able to accumulate a good farm and home in Elmwood. Later he moved to the west coast where he made his home for a number of years but for the past twenty years had been located in Lincoln.

Last Monday he passed away there at the advanced age of 85 years. He leaves a wife and a number of children, all of whom are grown and have families. The funeral and burial was had in Elmwood Wednesday of this week. Mr. Rivitt will be remembered by a large circle of friends who resided here when he was a resident of Elmwood.

Preparing Building for Business.

What is known as the Tyson building and which was used by L. A. Tyson for years as a drug store, but which has been vacant for some time is at this time being put in condition for occupancy by the new implement firm of Shreeve and Clapp, who expect to have their formal opening next month.

Junior Play This Week.

The Junior class of the Elmwood schools is to present their annual class play, "The Third Night," this week. The members of the cast have been giving much time and study in preparation for the play, and which is sure to please the audience.

Carnival a Success.

The three day carnival, or to be more nearly correct, a three night show, as it was held in the evening rather than during the day, was very successful. The various attractions which were put on were all of a class to appeal to the fun loving public and all responded to make the matter a financial success. The event was staged for the purpose of defraying the expense of installing the heating plant in the Elmwood Community building. They did not raise sufficient amount for the purpose but they did receive $236.00, which goes a long way in paying the bills.

They Had a Good Time.

Four people, namely James Hayes, Orley Clement, Elmer Shreeve and Emil Rosenow, all cracking good bridge players and all feeling that they can win even under adverse circumstances, played a series of games last Monday evening and on side claimed 3584 points while they allotted to the other side 3027. Both sides are claiming the game and we are not the arbiter.

Visits Sister Here.

Mrs. Florence Grunden of North Platte, but formerly a resident here, arrived in Elmwood last week to visit for a time with her sister, Mrs. Walter Bartlett, who has been very sick for a number of months, but is at this time feeling much better and very cheerful over her improvement, and as well is greatly encouraged over the arrival of her sister. The ladies are enjoying a very pleasant visit.

Enjoyed Christmas Gathering.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Eldenmiller on Tuesday afternoon the members of the American Legion Auxiliary were gathered where they enjoyed a very fine afternoon with a Christmas program and a passing out of candy packages to the kiddies and with the holiday decorations made it indeed a Christmas party and sure the kiddies thought so as well. This feature out of the way now attention can be turned to other holiday festivities.

The Hogs Pay Well.

Wm. Bornemeier, living a few miles northwest of Elmwood where he farms, did not sign up for reducing his hog crop, neither did he reduce his corn crop. Last spring he had some 42 head of shoats which he had fed and given an even chance to become hogs and they did, for at the age of ten months they weighed 252 pounds on the average and brought $9.50 cwt. at Nebraska City, with no commission for selling, to pay, bringing Mr. Bornemeier $1,005.48, not so bad for a small herd of hogs.

Visiting Here With Friends.

Benjamin Numach, the father of Mrs. P. A. Mockenhaupt, living near Greenwood, is visiting with the daughter and also Lee Miller of Valley who is a brother-in-law of Mr. Mockenhaupt and wife have been visiting at the Mockenhaupt home. All three of the men were in Elmwood last Tuesday looking after some business matters and visiting with friends.

Returned to Her School.

Miss Doris Greene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Greene who is instructor in music at the school of Calloway, who about a month ago was taken with the flu, having to come home until well, returned last Monday to Calloway to take up her work again.

Two Cars of Horses.

Ralph Reeves, brother of Mrs. Emily Gonzales, arrived in Elmwood last week with two car loads of horses which he is shipping east and offering for sale. Mr. Reeves was over to Murdock where he was visiting with another sister, Mrs. James Mills and family for a short time.
