NOT SURE OF FEDERAL AID

Omaha.—State Highway Engineer Tilley Thursday told the Nebraska chapter of the Associated General Contractors of America that it was "entirely problematical" whether any federal emergency funds will be available for the year beginning July 1. Tilley, speaking at the Nebraska chapter's annual convention, said there has been nothing to indicate federal funds as yet, altho there is some talk of possible new allotments from the balance left over in the $4,800,000,000 public works fund. Concerning the regular federal aid for highways, which must be matched by the states, Tilley said it was noticeable that the president's budget did not contain any recommendation for such an appropriation.

It may be the intention to pay this also from unexpected money in the $4,800,000,000 fund, he said. Tilley stated that in Nebraska, 47 percent of the federal funds available in Nebraska for the fiscal year ending next July 1 has been contracted for. This, he said, represents about $5,000,000 worth of work. Between now and spring he hopes, he said, to place under contract the other 57 percent, representing about $5,500,000 worth of work.

AID STATIONS PLANNED

Falls City, Neb.—That highway first aid stations would be one of the major projects for the organization Richardson county for the coming year has been revealed by J. C. Samp, national Red Cross field representative. Samp made the announcement on his arrival from St. Louis to plan for the annual Red Cross meeting here Friday night.

Letz-all-laff

at RETZLAFF

Perhaps it should be (and is) the other way round, with Retzlaff doing the "laffing" at the suckers who paid to see him "take the count" and even the radio broadcasters who paid to broadcast the fight, and even the gullible listeners-in, who wasted their time listening, even though it didn't cost anything to do that.

Persistency is what counts most in advertising!
