

UNION ITEMS.

Ben Martin, of Nebraska City, was looking after some business matters in Union last Monday morning and was meeting his many friends here.

Paul Davis, who is employed in Nebraska City, was spending the week end in Union with his folks, returning to his work in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Banning, of Lincoln, were guests at the Mont Robb home over the week end, returning to the capital city Sunday evening.

Mrs. John R. Pearson, who has been staying here with her mother, Mrs. Mary B. Allison, who has been in poor health, spent the week end at her home in Auburn.

Business called George A. Stites to maha on Monday of this week, where he looked after some matters connected with the conduct of the Union Co-operative Credit association.

Miss Constance Mills of Nebraska City was a guest over the week end at the home of her friend, Miss Gwen Stites, of Union, the two young ladies enjoying their visit together in spite of the cold weather.

Tommy Chapman, who is well known by the people of Union and especially the younger set, was a visitor here over the week end. He is attending college in Lincoln, studying dental surgery.

A son of John Vanhorn and wife has been very ill with pneumonia during the past week, but with the best of medical attention and nursing has passed the crisis and now seems safely on the road to recovery.

George Garrison has not been feeling the best of late and was confined to his home and bed on account of an attack of pleurisy. He is reported as some better at this time, although still far from his accustomed good health.

Rex Young was in Union last Monday, where he was crying the sale of Ray Becker, who is going out of the farming business and will devote all his time to the conduct of the Becker Oil company, of which he is the proprietor.

James Pittman while looking after the usual routine of chores about the farm, had the misfortune to fracture two of his ribs, which caused him to suffer considerably. Dr. R. W. Tyson was over to the home Monday afternoon and reduced the fracture, taping the broken ribs to hold them in place while they are knitting back together again.

Hugh Kelly and family, who have been making their home over near the river while the river work was going on, with the coming of the extreme cold weather moved to town and are now occupying one of the rental properties of Grandmother Mrs. Rachel Pell. This makes a better place to reside than down on the river where the thermometer registered 28 degrees below zero on last Monday.

Busy Bee Extension Club
The Busy Bee Extension club held a business meeting last Friday at the home of Mrs. Sam Pugh. There were eight members present and three visitors, Mesdames Ted Sanders, Edward Eaton and Will Cook.

Due to absence of the president, the meeting was called to order by the club leaders. Many useful ideas were taught in crocheting, smocking, hemstitching and various other useful stitches.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be a social meeting and will be held on Friday, February 14, at the home of Mrs. Charles Meredith, with Mrs. Everett, Mrs. Burton and Thelma Hutchins as hostesses. The club members are all cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Arrived at New Charge

Rev. E. N. Kunkel and family, who were called from Union in the midst of a conference year, to minister to the Methodist church at Plainview, have arrived at their new home and are now nicely located in the parsonage home there, with Rev. Kunkel taking up his work in great earnestness. They write they are liking the new location very well and find the town of Plainview a very pleasing little city in Pierce county, located in the center of a large stretch of absolutely level country (from whence the town derives its name).

During their trip to their new home in the north they ran into the front end of the severe storm wave that has fastened itself on eastern Nebraska, and with snow falling and the wind blowing found traveling on the highways very dangerous. When within a few miles of their destination the blinding snow caused them to miss the center track and when the car skidded they found themselves in a ditch by the roadside, the car turned over on its side. It was fortunate that no one was hurt and after an inconvenient delay they were able to get the vehicle righted and finish their trip without further mishap.

Plenty Cold on River

As everyone knows, it has been plenty cold during the past ten days. Each day the temperature is a matter of some discussion, as different thermometers, some of them perhaps not the most accurate, and others located in more sheltered places, record a wide variance. Monday morning was the coldest to date, in fact for several years, with the general range from 20 to 30 degrees below zero. However, on the creek bottoms it was colder than on the hills. Down along the Missouri river, where work is at a standstill just now, comes a report of some extreme cold, given us by James Fitzpatrick, who has a thermometer that must have gotten its feet frozen, for it registered (believe it or not) exactly 29 degrees below zero. Anyhow, it was plenty cold everywhere this reporter went that day.

Credit Association Meets

The stockholders of the Union Co-operative Credit association met at the place of business last Friday and heard reports of the business done during the past year, which showed it to be in very a healthy condition and able to minister to the financial needs of the community. The meeting also looked after the election of officers for the coming year, most of whom were re-named to serve during 1936. The association has filled a place in the community life, rendering banking service to citizens and business houses of the community, since the closing of the bank here, and as a result makes it possible for business transactions to be continued along the usual channels.

Tom Turner Still Very Sick

Word received from the hospital in Omaha states that the condition of Tom Turner, who has been there for two weeks for treatment and an operation remains critical, although he is showing a slight improvement and hopes are entertained that he will be able to pull through in good shape. It was found necessary to give him three blood transfusions, one before his operation and two since. He has rallied somewhat since the last of these. At best it will be a long time before he recovers sufficiently to sit up and many weeks before he may be able to return home. His many old friends here are hopeful for his recovery.

Birthdays Very Close Together

Mrs. H. A. Chilcott was passing her birthday anniversary last Friday and on Saturday Mrs. Fannie Eikenberry came to the anniversary of her natal day, while on Sunday, January 26, Mrs. J. T. Carper, a sister of Mrs. Eikenberry, who makes her home with the latter, also passed her birth anniversary, this being her 86th—and she is still enjoying good health the greater part of the time.

The ladies had expected to celebrate their birth anniversaries together, but the weather was so cold they could not get about readily and they gave up the plan, especially as Mrs. Eikenberry was sick for the past several days, but is feeling considerably better at this time.

Much Warmer in Missouri

Mrs. H. W. Griffin received a letter a few days ago from her father, J. H. Osborne, who resides at Fairplay, Mo., telling of the folks there feeling very well and also stating that the weather there has been much warmer than in this part of the country. Fairplay is located some 400 miles south of Union and only once has the mercury reached the zero mark there, the winter being very mild and with no snow.

Still in Poor Health

Fred Nutzman, who has been seriously ill at his home south of Nehawka, although improved to a point where he is able to sit up part of the time, is not able to get about any and will have to remain confined to his home for a long time yet. His friends are hopeful for his continued improvement and that he will again be able to be out by spring when the weather warms up.

Ruth Chapman-Semple Sick

Mrs. Ruth Semple, formerly Miss Ruth Chapman, well known by a host of friends in Plattsmouth, where she lived during her childhood, has been having a siege of typhoid fever that has lasted more than a month. It is thought she contracted the disease by the eating of uncooked or raw oysters. She and her husband have two children, but none of the other members of the family have been affected. Mrs. Semple is reported as getting along very nicely at this time.

A Fine Baby Boy

An eight pound boy arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Stoll Sunday night, making the parents very happy. The arrival of this fine youngster also brought smiles to the faces of his great-grandfather, H. H. Stoll, and his great-grandmother, Mrs. Thomas E. Fulton, who recently returned from a visit in the northwest, where she was a guest of her two daughters. In fact all are happy

Has Found Sales Very Good

Rex Young, the well known and efficient auctioneer, who resides in Plattsmouth, reports he has sale dates for every day in the week from January 4 to and including March 3, and many others inquiring for dates which he is not able to give them.

At a sale he cried last week over in Otce county, a span of mules sold for $460, which is a right smart amount of money. In another sale he conducted, cows brought $110 each.

At another place a herd of swine brought an average of $33 each, with some of the hogs selling well over the $40 mark. Good horses at the various sales he has been crying are bringing from $150 to $200 each—and plenty of competition among the bidders for them at those prices.

Taking farm sales as a basis for our opinion, we would say that prosperity is returning and is no longer just around the corner, but right in our midst.

A small sized advertisement run steadily will produce greater results than now and then use of larger space.

Nehawka

Billie Pearce, who is attending the University of Nebraska, was a visitor at the home of his parents over the week end.

Lawrence Kruger, of Avoca, was a visitor in Nehawka Sunday, coming to visit at the home of his grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Kruger. Victor Coyne, who has been visiting at the home of his mother, Mrs. Wm. Eastridge, of Plattsmouth, for the past few weeks, returned to his home here a few days ago.

A tractor demonstration was put on here one day last week, showing the latest and most approved farming methods with the use of power machinery. The demonstration was quite largely attended.

Miss Lois Troop, who is a student at the University of Nebraska, visited over Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Troop, also renewing acquaintance with her many friends in this neighborhood.

While Frank Lintkey was en route home a few nights ago, his car slid off the road into a ditch, with the result that much of the glass was broken. That comprised about all the damage, however, and Mr. Lintkey is well pleased that he was not injured.

Susanne Yeiser, of Omaha, who has been visiting here during the past three weeks at the home of her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Sturm, accompanied her mother, Mrs. John O. Yeiser home last Sunday, the latter having come down a few days previous for a visit at the home of her parents. On their return to Omaha, they were accompanied by Mrs. Sturm, who is spending most of this week in the metropolis.

Making Good Progress

Will T. Schlichtemeier, who has been at the hospital in Omaha for a number of weeks, receiving treatment, is reported as getting along very nicely at this time. Mrs. Schlichtemeier has been at his bedside during his long illness, doing what she could to aid in his recovery.

Harry Reed was in Omaha one day last week and called at the hospital, where he found the patient making very satisfactory progress.

COAST COED 'SHANGHAIED'

Stanford University, Calif.—Marjan Trosper, a junior student, didn't attend her university classes because she was "shanghaied" on a liner bound for Honolulu.

Miss Trosper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Trosper of Oklahoma City, went to the San Francisco pier Monday to bid bon voyage to friends. The liner Malolo pulled away but Miss Trosper did not notice the departure until the ship was well at sea. Then she cabled a frantic appeal to her parents for funds. The coed will spend a brief "vacation" in Honolulu before returning.
