Industry at Seven Year High Over Nation

Increase in December Brings Industrial Activity to Peak—Monthly Business Survey. Washington, Jan. 27.—Industrial activity during December reached its highest level for that month in seven years as a result of expansion in the heavy industries, the federal reserve board reported today in its monthly industrial survey. The board estimated that industrial output last month was 103 per cent of the 1923-25 average, the highest of any month since May, 1930, and the highest of any December since 1928. Except for the month of July, 1933, when production was boosted by a speculative boom, activity has been under the 1923-25 average in every month since the early stages of the depression. The course of December business through the depression was shown by the board in the following index based on 1923-25 as 100: December, 1929, 96; 1930, 77; 1931, 68; 1932, 60; 1933, 69; 1934, 78; 1935, 103.

FRENCHMEN FIGHT A DUEL

Paris.—A dispute that had its origin in a dispassionate court of law took two Paris lawyers, interpreters of justice, to the duelling grounds, where for ten minutes they hacked at each other with sabers more cutting than their words. And for the first time in duels in recent months, blood was drawn. It stained the right arm of the younger attorney, Maitre Y. LeBris, who gave ground before his opponent, Maitre Marcel Mouraud. What specifically they fought for was not announced. It was stated merely that offense was given in a courtroom and the swordsmen were not reconciled by their bout at dawn in the Parc des Princes.

Hurls Charge of 'Traitor' at Al Smith

Senator Robinson of Arkansas in Blistering Attack on the "Happy Warrior."

The new deal officially portrayed Alfred E. Smith Tuesday night at Washington as a turncoat "warring against his own people and against the men and women with whom he fought shoulder to shoulder in the past."

The spokesman, in reply to the Saturday speech impugning the Americanism and integrity of Roosevelt policies, was Smith's running-mate in the 1928 campaign for the presidency—Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas.

He said "the hour long harangue before the miscalled Liberty league was barren and sterile, without a single constructive suggestion."

"Governor Smith," he concluded a national broadcast, "you approved of NRA, you approved farm relief, you urged federal spending for public works, you urged congress to cut red tape and confer power on the executive, and you urged autocratic power for the president."

Now "Unhappy Warrior." "The new deal was the platform of the 'happy warrior.'"

"The policies of the Liberty league have become the platform of the 'unhappy warrior.'"

Smith had contended the 1932 platform, save for stock exchange control and repeal of prohibition, was "thrown in the wastebasket" by the administration.

In charging the new deal fostered an unconstitutional farm program, the senator said, Smith forgets that in 1928 he advocated principles of McNary-Haugen bill which in many respects was far more drastic in use of the taxing power than AAA ever was.

Whether the rejoinder would impel further moves by Smith became an immediate topic of speculation. He indicated in New York he might answer Robinson.

The speech was replete with quotations from Smith's positions in the past.

Derby Now "High Hat." "Yes," said Robinson, "Governor Smith has not only changed sides in the great battle but he has forgotten apparently the issues upon which he ran for the presidency."

"The brown derby has been discarded for the high hat; he has turned away from the East Side with those little shops and fish markets, and now his gaze rests lovingly upon the gilded towers of Park avenue." Secretary Ickes and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, led appeals Tuesday for "progressives" to offset conservative democratic deflections. President Roosevelt declined comment at a press conference on Smith's address.

There was nothing for Americans to be proud of, Lewis said, in seeing Smith "raise himself like a glibbering political jackanapes before an audience like that which assembled at the billion-dollar dinner."
