Betty Joan Cook

It seems most ungentlemanly of any fish to resist so charming an angler as Betty Joan Cook, but the young lady was apparently having quite a struggle to land her prize when this photo was taken at Miami, Fla.

Frostbite and Exposure Among WPA Workers

Bulletin Gives Description of Injuries and the Methods of Treatment.

The following bulletin was issued by the state safety engineer of the WPA regarding frostbite and exposure of the men engaged in the WPA work over the state:

Several cases of frostbite and exposure have been reported due to the extremely cold weather which has, and is, existing throughout the country. Every effort must be made to see that men are properly clothed in cold weather and adequately protected against sudden changes in temperature.

For your guidance, I am listing below some information in regard to frostbite and exposure which may be helpful.

Frostbite

DEFINITION: Frostbite is the injury produced by the freezing of a part of the body. Usually an area in which the ice is actually frozen is small, but it may be of considerable size. The nose, cheeks, ears, toes and fingers are the places most frequently frosted.

CAUSE: This is due to exposure to the cold, especially with insufficient clothing. A person with poor circulation or one who is exhausted, is always less resistant to cold.

PREVENTION: Avoid undue exposure to cold when exhausted. WEAR SUFFICIENT CLOTHING. If a part becomes too cold, place it in contact with a warm skin surface, rubbing to stimulate the circulation, or covering the part with more clothing.

SYMPTOMS: Frostbite is more likely to occur when a high wind is blowing; this removes heat from the body very rapidly. There is usually considerable pain if the hands or feet are frosted, but often the frosted ears, cheeks and nose are not painful and the victim is not aware of his condition until told by someone else. The frosted area becomes a peculiar grayish white, due to the ice frozen in the tissues.

TREATMENT: The experience of many Arctic explorers has demonstrated clearly that rubbing after freezing is NOT the proper treatment. Rubbing with snow is ESPECIALLY BAD. The frozen tissues are bruised and torn and gangrene is very apt to result. Gently cover the frozen part with the hand or other body surface until the part is thawed and circulation is re-established. If a hand is frozen, hold next to the skin in the armpit or between the thighs, or the frozen part may be thawed very gradually in cool air or cold water. If this can not be done, cover the part with extra clothing until thawed. Do not expose to hot stove, fire or radiator for some time, as severe pain or even permanent damage may result.

In cases where the patient is only chilled and no parts of the body are frozen, and he is not unconscious, put in a warm bed and given hot stimulating drinks.

State Safety Consultant.

MOTOR VEHICLE INCREASE

Annual compilations show a gain of over 5,000 in the number of automobiles registered in Nebraska during 1935, and more than $116,000 in license fees.

The year prior also showed a gain in autos owned and used and the amount of license fees collected. The 1934 totals were around 22,000 greater in number of cars and trucks and $159,000 more in fees than for 1933, which was the low point year during the depression.

The number of machines registered during 1935 was 431,494 compared to 426,475 in 1934. Gross income from license fees during 1935 amounted to $1,983,640, and in 1934, $1,867,063.

The increase was made up by passenger cars, trucks, dealers licenses, permits for trailers and a gain in the motorbus group. A small decline in the farm truck registration was made up by local commercial trucks. A new division of "Z" trailers used by tourists, sportsmen, etc., is the cause of the apparent decrease of such auxiliary units used for local and commercial purposes. They were formerly included in other groups.

Comparative figures in all classes of motor vehicles for the past year and the one preceding are:

Kind	1935	1934
Passenger	347,311	346,605
Truck
Local	9,159	8,622
Commercial	26,264	24,246

Cass county has no bonded indebtedness, as, like the state, it has paid cash for its gravel roads and other improvements. That's a mighty good policy to pursue.

Blizzard Sweeps Over the Entire Western States

Temperature Here Early Today 12 Below Zero as Wind Drives the Snow Into Deep Drifts.

From Saturday's Daily:

This part of the west was swept late Friday night and early today by one of the old fashioned blizzards that have equalled any of recent years. The storm warnings were sent out Friday noon of the storm in Wyoming and its sweeping eastward, breaking in this section about 12 last night when the snow was fanned by the high wind.

This morning the residents awoke to find the twelve below staring them in the face and the streets and walks drifted full of snow that made travel difficult and in some sections it was out of the question to get out of the homes.

The roads leading into Plattsmouth were closed early, especially the east-west roads, the Louisville and Cedar Creek roads being buried under the deep banks of snow blown by the wind. The snow on highway No. 75 this morning made travel very difficult and bread trucks that arrived here today were very late and had to battle against the fast increasing banks of snow.

Radio warnings were sent out this afternoon urging all who did not have to be out on the highways to remain at home or in their home communities and not try any week-end trips.

COUNCILMEN, MARSHAL OUT

West Point, Neb.—The most recent meeting of the West Point city council was marked by resignations of three city officers and by a bit of hurrying around for councilmen to constitute a quorum.

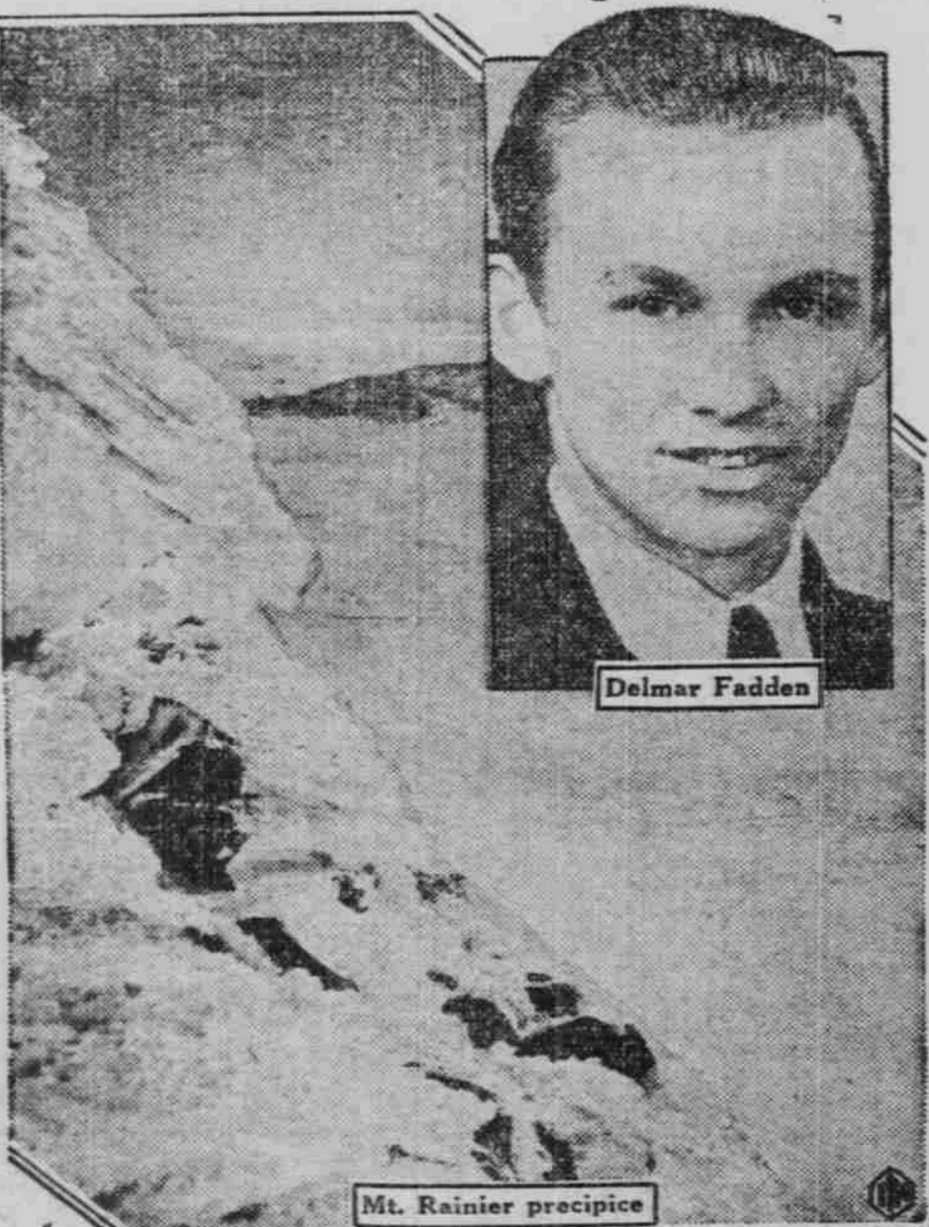

William Krienke, night marshal, resigned because he was serving a term in the county jail for intoxication. Herman Sasa, second ward councilman, resigned to take Krienke's place as marshal. Resignations being in order, Irvin Schwartz, councilman from the third ward, resigned because he is moving to a farm near Lyons.

And then there were three, one being out of town.

City Clerk William Stieren was dispatched in 27 below zero weather to notify M. J. Schmitt that he was a councilman in place of Sasa. Then an urgent call went out for the mayor, Dr. J. J. Kiefer. And when everybody arrived Walter Stotzel was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Schwartz.

I'M SOLD
It always works

Just do what hospitals do, and the doctors insist on. Use a liquid laxative, and you can bring yourself to clocklike regularity without strain or ill effect.

A liquid can always be taken in gradually reduced doses. Reduced dosage is the secret of any real relief from constipation.

Ask a doctor about this. Ask your druggist how very popular Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has become. It gives the right kind of help, and right amount of help. Taking a little less each time, gives the bowels a chance to act of their own accord, until they are moving regularly and thoroughly without any help at all.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin contains senna and cascara—both natural laxatives that form no habit. The action is gentle, but sure. It will relieve any sluggishness or bilious condition due to constipation without upset.

the federal government and incurs no obligation on the part of the town beyond that of putting up the balance of the cost.

Everyone has the right to their individual opinion on matters of this nature, as well as the right to vote as they see fit. However, it is this writer's opinion that the improvement will enhance the value of all property far more than it will cost. Also, it is an established fact that the levy will not have to be raised any due to the voting of these bonds.

The Greenwood schools are in such shape financially that by June, 1936, the school district treasurer will actually have on hand about $3,000 to apply on this $7,500 bond issue. At present Greenwood has no place to compete with other schools in sports and different school functions.

Through taking a fairly good check on the surrounding vicinity, it is revealed that the added number of tuition-paying students which Greenwood can pull in the next ten years' time, would alone bring in sufficient revenue to practically pay for this improvement outright. There will be no added expense of running the school and the increased valuation of your property investment will more than offset any argument against the proposition.

Another thing to remember is that we of this community will have to help pay our proportionate share of this $5,727 outright federal grant, regardless of whether we accept it ourselves or permit some other community to take it.

Let's all pull together for this fine proposition and put our community up where it belongs, which will induce people to invest their money and make their home in Greenwood. As stated above, everyone has the right to his individual opinion, and this viewpoint is that of the writer, shared in, we believe by a large number of the citizens and voters of the community.
