Jefferson Birthday Honored in This City

President's Speech to Be Featured at Ball at American Legion Hall by Young Democrats.

W. Forbes Morgan, secretary of the democratic national committee, notified Francis M. Hetherington that the responses to the Jefferson Day dances have exceeded the preliminary estimates and the idea is meeting with enthusiastic support from the Young Democratic organizations throughout the country.

In a letter the national committee's secretary reported that the key rally and dance at Baltimore would probably see in excess of 25,000 persons gathered at the Fifth Regiment Armory to hear President Roosevelt's tribute to Thomas Jefferson on the birthday of the Father of Democracy.

"More than one thousand Washingtonians," Mr. Morgan wrote, "will make the journey from the capitol to Baltimore and large groups are going from the nearby states of Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Virginia and West Virginia. The Baltimore meeting will be preceded by an old-fashioned torch light parade guiding the vast throng to the Armory. Included in the parade will be floats depicting various episodes of the Roosevelt administration. Provision has been made to take care of the overflow in adjoining buildings."

Local democrats and friends of the administration, will gather at the American Legion Hall to pay tribute to the party's founder and its present leader.

President Roosevelt's speech will be heard in Plattsmouth at 10:00 p. m. (e.s.t.)

ily and will drive to and from work or use the trains and busses.

Benjamin J. Rich.

Benjamin J. Rich, 66, and for more than forty years a resident of Weeping Water and who has been a robust man, ever ready for any job, no matter how hard or difficult, and a jovial man, always merry and was a friend of everyone he knew. He was born in Iowa 66 years ago. Since coming to Weeping Water he has been employed with the city and has been on the work of making better streets for more than a quarter of a century.

On last Friday he went to milk, as was his custom and after having been at the job for a short time called to his son to come and finish the cow he was milking. He went to the house, sitting on the porch for a moment and then going into the house, collapsed, dying in a few moments.

The funeral was held from the Hobson funeral home on Monday and interment at Oakwood cemetery here. Mr. Rich leaves his wife, one daughter and four sons to mourn his departure as well as a vacant place in the community which will be difficult to fill on account of his very pleasing personality.

Moved to Weeping Water.

J. Johansen who made his home in Murdock for many years and who came to Weeping Water to assist at the market of Knude Jensen during the time when Mr. Jensen was sick, proved himself such a capable man that he was given a permanent position in the market here. Mr. Johansen moved his household effects from Murdock here the first of the week and has become a citizen of Weeping Water and is now located in the Hunter property.

CARPENTER HERE FRIDAY

Terry Carpenter, former congressman from the fifth district, now a candidate for nomination on the democratic ticket for the U. S. senate, will make his first address in Plattsmouth at 7:30 p. m., April 3, 1936 at the district court room.

Mr. Carpenter was elected to congress from the fifth district—and his friends and political supporters were estounded at his refusal to file for a second term.

"The fact that some dozen men absolutely control all legislation in the house of representatives," said Terry, "proved to me that it was necessary for a man to serve at least a ten or twelve year apprenticeship in the lower body before it would be possible for him to attain any results for his constituents—hence my refusal to file."
