

Princess Elizabeth, Father Go for a Ride

They may be rulers of Great Britain some day, but today their thoughts are on a horsetack ride through the woods at Royal Lodge, Windsor, England. At the left is Princess Elizabeth, elder daughter of the Duke of York, right. The duke is first in line to the British throne with Princess Elizabeth, who celebrated her tenth birthday the day this photo was taken, second in line.

Motion Picture Stars Find Fame an Uncertain Element

Current Season Brings Additional Proof That Film World Is Unstable One

Anna Sten

Diana Wynward

Maurice Chevalier

Ruth Chatterton

By JEAN ALLEN, International Illustrated News Feature Writer

HOLLYWOOD—One of the perennial mysteries of this turbulent celluloid world is the manner in which "unknowns" skyrocket to fame and some established stars tumble to oblivion almost overnight.

The 1936 season has in several instances demonstrated the fact that none of the current celebrities can afford to take chances with their respective careers. And recent months have proved that the humble extra, although confronted with almost insurmountable odds, still makes the grade occasionally.

One of the worst jinxes which the stars fear is having a run of two or three bad pictures which may bring a sudden end to their popularity. Ann Harding has been unfortunate in her choice of vehicles and Ruth Chatterton, once hailed as "the first lady of the screen," has been inactive for an extended period because she was miscast in several pictures.

Movie Success Uncertain

Maurice Chevalier is another whose boxoffice appeal was on the decline when he returned to his native Paris. Once one of the greatest drawing cards in Hollywood, his producers made the mistake of casting him in pictures which were too similar in plot.

Diana Wynward shot to fame overnight as the star of "Cavalcade," but enjoyed only a brief portion of fame. Nearly $1,000,000 was spent in training and promoting Anna Sten, glamorous Russian star, but she was unconditionally released when her first two pictures failed to click with the public.

The late John Gilbert was another whose career was one of ups-and-downs. He suffered a severe setback with the advent of the talkies, returned to win brief success, and then again faded from the picture.

New Types in Demand

What is it that account for public taste and determines whether a star will prove a sensation or a flop in a picture? Apparently there is no answer, because producers have lost millions of dollars on bad guesses.

In some instances, producers elevate a player to stardom on the strength of one picture which proved a sensation, only to discover that it was the picture and not the player which captured the public fancy.

There is a constant demand for new faces and new types. It is this ceaseless search for talent which always makes it within the realm of possibility for anyone to crash the gates of Hollywood. But only a dozen or so of the thousands of extras who have at one time or another worked in films have been successful in winning a featured role.

There are some, it is true, who have been headliners for years—such stars as Greta Garbo, Marion Davies, Constance Bennett, Lionel Barrymore—but these are the exceptions, and for each of them there are a score of others whose names have been in lights and are now lost in the twilight.

Rules for Scoring Points in Yard and Garden Contest

Plan to Be Used in Grading Various Yards and Gardens Entered in the Local Contest.

The following detailed scoring points are to be used as the basis for the awards in the Plattsmouth Garden club yard and garden contest:

FRONT YARD

1. Attractiveness, 15 points
 - (a) General Impression—5 points (Hospitality, homelikeness, appearance from street, etc., etc.)
 - (b) Details—(10 points). Plantings well to boundaries, rather than "cluttered" about the lawn. Plantings to form a "frame" for most attractive parts of the house, keeping house as dominant "center of interest." Foundation plantings well chosen. Shade formed by trees. All season bloom. Neatness, care, etc. Good lawn, free from weeds. Vines, trellis work, window boxes, etc. Unusual things that impress you. Permanency of planting.
2. Improvements made this year, 10 points.
 - (a) General Impression—5 points.
 - (b) Details—(15 points). Privacy gained by border plantings, shrub and tree screens, etc. Shade formed by trees. Comfort, restfulness,—lounging facilities. (Garden furniture, etc.)

REAR YARD

1. Livability, 20 points. (Adaptability for human use and enjoyment). (Outdoor living room).
 - (a) General Impression (5 points).
 - (b) Details—(15 points). Privacy gained by border plantings, shrub and tree screens, etc. Shade formed by trees. Comfort, restfulness,—lounging facilities. (Garden furniture, etc.)
2. Attractiveness, 30 points.
 - (a) General Impression—(5 points)
 - (b) Flower garden—(10 points). Pattern, composition, color, continuous bloom, neatness.
 - (c) Border plantings—(10 points). General outline, continuous bloom, artistic composition, good background for outdoor living-room. Trees for shade.
 - (d) Garden features—(5 points). Pool, rockery, bird bath, bird houses, pergola, seats, summer house, etc. Above features well placed; not overdone. Unusual things that impress you.
3. Improvements made this year, 10 points.
 - (a) General Impression—(5 points)
 - (b) Flower garden—(10 points). Cleanliness, freedom from weeds, ash cans, etc. in alley. Neatness of laundry yard. Garage—door openings concealed by plantings,—appearance of drive, etc. Garbage cans, concealed by shrubs, vines or flowers.

PARKING, 5 points.

1. Attractiveness. Trees kept well trimmed. Freedom from weeds. Good lawn, care, etc. Total for entire judging—100 points for ideal conditions.

VISITS AT WEEPING WATER

From Saturday's Daily Raymond C. Cook, deputy grand custodian of the Nebraska grand lodge of the A. F. & A. M. of Nebraska, was a visitor at Weeping Water last evening. Mr. Cook made a visit of inspection to Euclid lodge No. 97, A. F. & A. M. and the officers of the lodge found very efficient in their work. The master of the lodge is D. D. Wainscott, county farm bureau agent.

Utility Companies to Seek Quick Trial of Case

Litigation to Restrain PWA from Nebraska Projects Sought to Be Tried Soon.

The Iowa-Nebraska Light and Power company and four other Nebraska electric companies now seeking to restrain PWA from proceeding with its plans to institute a state-wide power system financed with federal money will seek an immediate trial of their case in the supreme court of the District of Columbia, Lowell R. King, president of the Iowa-Nebraska company announced this afternoon.

The government has asked for a continuance of the case until next fall.

A temporary injunction was obtained by the electric companies early in February restraining the PWA and its officers from proceeding with their plan.

Mr. King said the government's attempt to delay the case until fall came as a surprise move as he and other men representing the utilities have been in Washington for the last ten or twelve days prepared and ready for the trial.

"The electric companies did not seek at the time the injunction suit was filed, nor since, to stop or delay construction of the Columbus or Sutherland projects as originally planned and contracted for, nor did they seek to stop the irrigation features of the tri-county project," Mr. King said. "This latest move of the government to delay the case will unnecessarily postpone the final determination of the question of the government's right to build a competitive state-wide electric system, to the possible destruction of the investment of electric companies now serving this territory."

PASSES CENTURY MARK

Herman Waintroub, who for many years was engaged in business in this city, is now passing his century mark, 100 years of life, at his home in Los Angeles, California, where he has made his home since leaving here a number of years ago.

Mr. Waintroub was long a familiar figure here where he operated a notion store and in his quiet and unassuming way had his part in the daily life of the community, honest and faithful in his dealings with his fellowman and to those who had the opportunity of knowing him best, a strong and steadfast friend.

A number of the children had located on the west coast and where Mr. Waintroub with his daughter, Henrietta and his son, Edward, finally removed, closing the old home here.

He is enjoying excellent health, letters received by friends state, and in spite of his long years of life is able to fully participate in the daily tasks.

HERE FOR CLASS PLAY

Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Thomas of Nebraska City and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Thomas of Omaha, were here Friday evening to attend the senior class play in which Miss Aimee Jane Thomas was one of the leading characters. Miss Thomas departed with the parents after the play for Nebraska City to spend the week end there.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

In the office of the clerk of the district court an action has been commenced by Claude Lahoda against Marie Lahoda, asking a decree of divorce from the defendant. The petition of the plaintiff states that the parties were married at Council Bluffs, Iowa, November 24, 1926. The allegations for the suit is that of desertion.

MANLEY NEWS

John A. Stander and family were at Greenwood last Sunday, where they visited with friends.

Herman Dall has just made the purchase of a new Buick car, trading in the old car on the new one.

Mr. and Mrs. James Carper and Donald Murphy of Lincoln were visiting at the Carper home Tuesday.

Rev. Patrick Harte drove to Shubert Tuesday to attend the funeral of the pastor at that place. He also gave the funeral sermon.

Deb Munn, of Weeping Water, and his sister, Mrs. Ella Green, of Peoria, Ill., spent Tuesday with their niece, Mrs. Harold Krecklow.

Frank H. Stander, of Omaha, was a visitor in Manley and was looking after some business matters for a short time as well as visiting with his many friends.

John A. Stander was at Cedar Creek last Wednesday, where he was looking for some seed corn, as he is ready to plant at this time and thinks the planting should be done.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gilda and Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, of Nebraska City, spent Sunday with their niece, Mrs. Harold Krecklow. Mr. and Mrs. Davis of Manley were dinner guests also.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Rauth drove to Omaha Sunday afternoon, where Mrs. Rauth was a guest of her daughter, Miss Anne V. Rauth at a Mother and Daughter Tea given at the Paxton by the Gamma Chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

Herman Rauth and wife were visiting with friends in and near Greenwood Sunday and on their return home went south past Alvo, coming through the southern portion of the county, where they observed damage done by washing of the soil from the recent heavy rains.

Hail Causes Damage

The hail which came Tuesday of last week, seriously damaged the roof of the lumber shed at the Manley yard, requiring a new roof on the shed. With the allowance made by the insurance company and some additional put up by the lumber company, an entire new roof has been placed on the sheds, thus insuring against leakage when the storms come.

Manley Gets Good Record

At the Bible contest which was held at the Christian church in Murray last Sunday, Mrs. Emma Andrews, of Manley, was winner in the Adult division, having the highest score of anyone in her class. In the Junior division, Frank Dall was awarded second place, thus making a good showing for the Bible students of this vicinity.

Changing the Landscape

Work has been progressing nicely on the job of grading the yard at the country home of John C. Rauth, described last week. The trees have been removed and the ground graded to a uniform slope from the house to the roadway, making a great improvement in the property.

John Gruber and Venie Rockwell have been assisting with the work.

Preparing Wind Break

Herman Rauth has just received a consignment of fifty Scotch pines, which he is planting along the edge of his place to protect the north and west exposures from the winter winds in years to come. As the trees are now only four feet in height, they will not be of much aid this coming winter.

Called on Edward Murphy

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Haws and Mr. and Mrs. John Carper drove to Lincoln Tuesday evening to see Edward Murphy, who had been injured in an auto accident earlier in the day. Mr. Murphy's many friends will be happy to hear that his injuries are not as severe as first reported.

Attended Deanery Meeting

Among those attending the Deanery meeting at Nebraska City May 4th were Mesdames John Carper, Frank Bergman, Francis Revilliac, John Murphy, Walter Mockenhaupt, William Sheehan, Jr., Michael Sheehan, William Erhart, John C. Rauth, Ralph Welte, Hugh O'Brien, Walter O'Brien, John Sheehan and the Mesdames Mayme Maher and Loretta Sheehan.

Mrs. Frank J. Bergman was named as one of the delegates to attend the Diocesan meeting of the N. C. C. W., which will be held in Lincoln May 13th and 14th.

Inflated or ordinary dollars—either kind will still buy most if expended in your home community, where a part is retained to help meet the tax burden and other community obligations.

JURY FINDS FOR RAILROAD

From Friday's Daily

This morning in the district court the sealed verdict in the case of Fritz Siemoneit vs. the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, was opened and in the verdict the jury found in favor of the defendant railroad company.

The case occupied three days of the court and was given to the jury late Thursday afternoon and the verdict arrived at last night and sealed for the opening of court.

This was the last of the jury cases and Judge D. W. Livingston this morning excused the members of the panel from service and they were allowed to return to their homes and usual activities.

Judge Livingston is to start a jury term in Otoe county on Monday morning which will take some time but he is expected to be back in two weeks to take up several matters in the Cass county court.

TO ENJOY SEA VOYAGE

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Robertson of this city have received the announcement from the naval academy at Annapolis, Maryland, of the forthcoming summer cruise of the midshipmen which will start on June 5th. The midshipmen will be taken on the battleships, Arkansas, Wyoming and Colorado and their voyage will cover a very extensive tour. Their first port of call will be in England with a short stay, thence to Sweden for a visit and then to Cherbourg, France, from where they will return to American waters for training and practice before returning to the academy in the latter part of August.

James M. Robertson, II, is one of the midshipmen who will enjoy the trip.

FEDERATION MEETS

The Methodist Womens Federation was entertained by the Dorcas circle, Thursday afternoon at the Methodist church parlors.

The May dime card jubilee was observed at this meeting. The money obtained from this service is applied on the principle of the church debt.

Mrs. Devoe, program chairman, had arranged for Mr. Lee Knolle, director of the 8th grade boys glee club to present the program, which consisted of three numbers by the glee club and solos by Junior Devoe and Bruno Reichstadt. The Federation wish to thank Mr. Knolle and the boys for this courtesy.

The Dorcas circle served the refreshments.
