The Dan Anderson family and the Walter Engelke family were guests Sunday at the home of Ernest Ahrends, where they all enjoyed the day and a very fine visit together, celebrating Mother's day.

The churches of Nehawka observed Mother's day in an appropriate manner, having special music for the occasion and devoting a portion of the regular service hour to the paying of a tribute to the mothers.

Stuart Rough visited with friends and relatives in Omaha Sunday, driving up in his car. On Monday he departed for Iowa City, where he is spending this week at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. J. Dane and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Lundberg were guests of their son, Verner Lundberg and family last Sunday, when the mother was honored and a fine time was enjoyed by all, with a sumptuous dinner a feature of the occasion.

Mrs. R. C. Pollard and Mrs. Frank Lemon were visiting in Lincoln last Monday, driving over in the car of the former to look after some business matters. While there, they paid a visit to the public library of the capital city.

Mrs. Granville Heebner, who has been so seriously ill for some weeks past at her home here, has been showing good improvement and is so she can leave her bed and is hoping to continue to improve. She has been very ill and it is with pleasure that her many friends will learn of her improvement.

Gayle Sturm, who has been at the hospital for some time on account of a serious illness, has been making very good improvement and as a result was able to be returned home one day last week. He has not regained his lost strength as yet, but is able to get about a little and is making good progress with each succeeding day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Pollard were in Lincoln last Sunday (Mother's Day), where they enjoyed the day and a very fine dinner at the home of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Pollard. After a most pleasant day in the capital city, they returned home in the evening well satisfied with the pleasant time which they had enjoyed.

one of the cafes there. They found the place crowded and were asked if they would object to eating with another couple, being seated in a booth with a couple from Farragut, Iowa, with whom they became acquainted and enjoyed a most pleasant dinner hour. The Iowa couple, like themselves, had slipped away from home to enjoy a dinner out.

Had a Splendid Time

The banquet which the Junior class of the Nehawka high school tendered to the Senior class, was a most enjoyable social function of the many that are taking place in connection with the close of the school year. The dinner was prepared by mothers of the Junior class members and was a splendid feast. Much interest was taken in the event and the decorations and table appointments were so well arranged as to draw much favorable comment.

The dinner and program were enjoyed by all.

Will Hold Alumni Banquet

The alumni meeting and banquet of the former students of the Nehawka school will be held at the auditorium this coming Saturday and promises to be a most pleasant event, when the former students, not alone those of this immediate neighborhood, but many who have gone to other places to reside, will again get together to recount the pleasures and experiences of their school days together.

A fine after-dinner program is being arranged in connection with the banquet and a large attendance of former students is expected, as well as the seventeen who are graduating this year and will become members of the alumni.

Pleads for Friend and Draws Charge of Intoxication

R. Decker of Transient Camp, Self Appointed Attorney, Talks Himself into Charge.

Monday afternoon following a quarrel at the transient camp north of this city, Joe Roach, one of the residents there was arrested on a charge of assault and battery upon Thomas H. Manuel, also a resident there. The matter was reported to Sheriff Homer Sylvester and Roach was rounded up in the city and taken to the court house where a complaint was filed on the above named charges. The defendant desired to have several witnesses brought in to testify in the case and accordingly Deputy Sheriff Cass Sylvester brought in several of the man and among them R. Decker.

When the trial started Decker insisted on serving as the volunteer attorney for Roach and thereby drew upon himself a charge of intoxication as well as getting his client also in the noose of the law a second time. The case was heard by Judge A. H. Duxbury and who found that the evidence of the assault and battery was not sufficient and released the prisoner on this charge, but stated that the condition of the defendant and his representative was such that a charge of intoxication would be filed against them and they were accordingly escorted to the county jail to await hearing.

The intoxication charge will be heard this afternoon in the county court before Judge Duxbury.
