SOCIAL CIRCLE CLUB

The May meeting of the Social Circle club was held with Mrs. Louis Burbee. Mrs. Bruce Wolf was assistant. The afternoon was spent in playing games and visiting, this being the first social meeting it was greatly enjoyed. Those not fortunate in being there lost out on a very delightful afternoon. Mrs. Harry Gobelman brought a large collection of flower plants which she divided among the other ladies.

At the close of the meeting the hostesses served a delicious lunch of brick ice cream, iced tea and two kinds of cake. Several visitors were present to enjoy the afternoon.

The next meeting will be June 9th at the home of Mrs. Tony Klimm. This being guest day every member be sure and come and bring a guest. The hostesses are preparing a program and a good time is expected.

FUNERAL OF MRS. SAUTER

The funeral of the late Mrs. Philip Sauter was held on Monday afternoon at the Horton funeral home at Seventh and Vine streets, where a large group of the old friends had gathered to pay their last tributes of respect to her memory.

The services were conducted by the Rev. Luther M. Kuhns, prominent in the Masonic order and long time member of the Masonic Home board.

Liberty chapter of the Eastern Star conducted their ritualistic service at the funeral, Mrs. Sauter being a member of this chapter while a resident of Omaha.

During the services Frank A. Cloidt gave three numbers, "Saved by Grace," "Rock of Ages" and "Wonderful Peace." Miss Estelle Baird was the accompanist.

The interment was at Oak Hill cemetery where the husband and son are at rest.

HERE FOR DECORATION DAY

Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Kennedy and daughter, Betty Ann and Mrs. Harry Northcutt and son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Don Fisher, of Omaha were here Saturday to spend a short time visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Crabill and family.

VISITING IN CITY

Miss Arleen Wood, of Springfield, Missouri, is in the city to enjoy a visit of some duration at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Gobelman. She has spent several of her summers here with the Gobelman family and has many friends who will be pleased to see her here for a visit.

Knights of Columbus Hold Annual Election

John M. Meisinger Is Re-elected as Grand Knight of Monsignor M. A. Shine Council.

From Wednesday's Daily
Last evening the members of Monsignor M. A. Shine Council 1966, Knights of Columbus held their regular meeting at their hall at Seventh and Chicago avenue, a very pleasing attendance of the members being present to take part in the proceedings.

This was the regular election of officers and all of those who have so efficiently served for the past year were re-elected to their respective offices as follows:

Chaplain—Father George Agius. Grand Knight—John M. Meisinger. Deputy Grand Knight—Theodore Svoboda.

Chancellor—James Holy. Recorder—J. J. Cloidt. Financial Secretary—W. H. Woolcott.

Treasurer—W. A. Swatek. Lecturer—Theodore Piek. Advocate—Louis Svoboda. Warden—Frank A. Neugebauer. Inside Guard—O. M. Kintz. Outside Guard—Joseph Wooster. Trustees—E. H. Schulhof, John Bergmann.

The members discussed plans for the ensuing year for the advancement of the chapter before the adjournment hour called them to their homes.

HAVE A FINE MEETING

The members of the Rotary club Tuesday had a very pleasant treat afforded them in a talk from Robert Wurl, who was formerly engaged with one of the large eastern shipping lines and had a very extensive experience in coastwise shipping on the Atlantic and Pacific. Mr. Wurl took up the life of a sailor and gave a most interesting description of their tasks and the handling of the ships as they proceeded from port to port with their cargoes of goods. He told of his experiences on a voyage from New York along the Atlantic seaboard, south to the Panama canal and thence through the canal and up the Pacific coast to Seattle, Washington, where the cargo was delivered to its destination. The talk was one out of the ordinary and most interestingly presented.

Emil J. Weyrich with his motion picture camera was present and gave a showing of pictures of the Panama canal which was very instructive and gave an excellent idea of the great American owned waterway that connects the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

The meeting was under the leadership of L. O. Minor and was one of the most entertaining that has been enjoyed for some time.

There were a number of guests present, E. T. Dutcher, Warrensburg, Missouri; N. C. Abbott of Nebraska City and his son-in-law, Donald A. McKinnon of Rochester, New York.

COMMITTEE IS ORGANIZED

The democratic county central committee met here Saturday to complete the work of organizing following the selection of the committee at the county convention held here on April 30th.

The officers selected for the campaign were as follows:
Chairman—Marvin Carr, Eagle.
First Vice-Chairman—Miss Mia U. Gerling, Plattsmouth.

Second Vice-Chairman—Mrs. Louis Ward Egenberger, Plattsmouth.
Secretary-Treasurer—O. C. Hinds, Weeping Water.

With the selection of the officers the committee will be able to get started on the preliminary work of the campaign and to plan to put Cass county over for the national and state tickets.

Mr. Carr has been serving as the chairman since the resignation of Elmer Hallstrom and has shown fine organization qualities that should make a valuable asset for the party in the forthcoming campaign.

RETURN FROM CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reed who have been spending the past seven weeks in California, have returned home after a most delightful outing and trip along the coast country. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marion F. Reed, the former a brother of Walter, who resides at Los Angeles. They met many acquaintances on the coast and which added to the pleasures of the trip.

From Monday's Daily

Complete Red Cross Training

Two classes have completed the American Red Cross First Aid instruction.

The first class was composed of fifteen students from the Weeping Water high school, as follows: Ivan Baker, Warren Baker, Paul Embury, Joseph Fitzgerald, Meredith Henege, Howard Henege, Gladys Hohman, Helen Hayes, Mervin Kevelt, Helen Murphy, Mayme Michelson, Robert Roun, Cecelia Sparks, Wilma Keech and Gladys Winther.

The second class is composed of employees of the Fort George highway station south of Weeping Water on the O street road, being J. F. George, Mrs. J. F. George, Ray Norris and Mrs. Ray Norris.

The instructor was Dr. Hubert F. Greene, first lieutenant, Medical Reserve, station at the CCC camp at Weeping Water, who is well qualified to act in this capacity.

This course of instruction qualifies the attendants at the Fort George station to render first aid in accident cases. Very soon you will see established at this point (intersection of highways 34 and 50) the sign: "American Red Cross First Aid Station."

This is a service the Red Cross is providing over the United States, to give emergency aid to the injured, as well as to make people more conscious of the necessity of safe driving—serving as a warning to slow up and drive properly. Nineteen of these stations have been established in Nebraska to date. Mrs. Ray Norris is chairman of the First Aid and Life Saving services for the Cass County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Bible School Lesson Study!

Sunday, June 7th By L. Neitzel, Murdock, Neb.

"Jesus in Gethsemane"

Luke 22:39-53.

The climax of the suffering is reached in the Garden of Gethsemane. It was in a garden where the cause of Christ's suffering is laid. The physical suffering of Christ was of short duration, but his spiritual or mental suffering dates from the moment that in the council of the Trinity it was decreed to "make man" and that was from the foundation of the world. (Rev. 13:8). As "councillor" (isa. 9:6), he supported the plan to make man, although he knew the consequences; when the question arose in the council, "Who will and can redeem fallen man?" It was at that moment that the Son of God rose to the height of his majesty when he declared, "I will redeem the race!" He volunteered to become the Lamb of God—the sacrifice for sin "once for all." See again Rev. 13:8; Heb. 10:14, 26; Eph. 5:2; Heb. 10:10. The father in his great compassion accepted this offer, and so Jesus becomes the "willing" mediator between God and man.

Now Jesus comes under the "will of God" and accordingly his will dominates, and the son is resigned and ready to carry out the plan agreed upon. See again Heb. 10: 5-10. This ends the prologue to our present lesson study.

"Now we are on the way to Gethsemane; picture in your mind if you can this most solemn walk ever made by man. A parallel that comes near this is found in Gen. 22—a three-day journey by Abraham, with a happy ending, just like Jesus—the third day, after this "victory over the dark domain."

Every man, some time in life, will come to his Gethsemane. All must go the way Jesus went—no sorrow, no joy; no cross, no crown! It is the place where the supreme sacrifice is made; the place of renunciation—to disown—to surrender to the will of another. It is there where battles are fought and victories won. The soul that is not crucified with Christ, has not experienced the joy of having "risen" with Christ, and can say with Paul, "Christ shall be magnified in my body . . . for me to live in Christ." (Phil. 1:20, 21).

nished his power over death. (Mat. 9:18; Mark 6:37); his great glory (Luke 9:28); his greatest sorrow (Mat. 26:37; Mark 14:33).
Jesus needed human sympathy and comfort in the hour when he sought the face of God, but the Father does not testify as on former occasions—but sent a ministering spirit, an angel to "strengthen" him. Christ at prayer—kneeling—is the only attitude in prayer mentioned in relation to the Lord Jesus, except in the parallel passage in Matthew in which it is said he "fell on his face" as he prayed. Standing at prayer was the common attitude in the Gospels. It is interesting to note how often the later followers of Jesus knelt for prayer. (Acts 7:60; 9:40; 20:36; 21:5; Eph. 3:14).

Much discussion has been had regarding the "cup" mentioned by Jesus. The most reasonable explanation is to take it as referring to his death on the cross and the suffering that accompanied his death. Jesus was not afraid of death. It was the particular death that he must die, from which Christ shrank. He died as a sacrifice for sin; he knew that such a death would involve his actual separation from God his Father for the time. The prayer of Jesus in the garden should be the prayer of every believer every hour of his life. It is not easy. "He prayed more earnestly;" "being in an agony," "sorrowful and very heavy," "amazed," "his sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground (and it was a cold night—April 6) are expressions of the great agitation of his soul, but altogether too inadequate to portray the struggle with the powers of darkness, for men's soul as the prize. (Dear reader, it was for you Christ prayed, went to battle and victory
