SEWING CIRCLE GIRLS CLUB

We met at the home of Marvene Heil, Aug. 14. After our regular business meeting Bonadelle Larson gave a demonstration on "How to Wrap a Gift." We discussed our lesson about guest towels. We learned how to press and fold towels. We judged our finished kitchen aprons. Our placings were made in two groups: First, Bonadelle Larson and Emilie Bieri; second, Kathleen Heil and Kathleen Larson; third, Clarice Heil and Marvene Heil; fourth Dorothy Ulrich and Darlene Heil. We planned our achievement meeting to be held on August 20. After the meeting a delicious lunch was served.

HERE FROM CHICAGO

Mr. and Mrs. Blythe D. Rosencrans and little daughter, Mary, of Chicago, arrived here Saturday evening to enjoy a visit with Mr. Rosencrans' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Rosencrans and other relatives and friends. They were accompanied by Miss Mary Rosencrans, who has been visiting at Chicago, going there from her vacation trip to the Minnesota lakes.

RETURNS FROM HOSPITAL

Mrs. Mathilde Ramsel, who has been at the Nicholas Senn hospital at Omaha for the past nine months, suffering from the effects of injuries received in an auto accident, returned home Saturday. She is showing a great deal of improvement but will require some time before she is able to resume her usual activities around the home.

HAVE TONSILECTOMIES

The past few days several of the residents of the city have had tonsilectomies performed here and among this number has been Chester Taylor, Dwayne Henry and Miss Lucille Case. All of the patients are doing nicely and on the highway to complete recovery from the effects of the operations.

UNDERGOES TONSILECTOMY

Ralph, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Parkening, was operated on Tuesday for the removal of his tonsils and which proved very successful and the young lad is now resting very easily. It is expected that within a few days that he will be able to resume his usual activities.

Asks Damages for Auto Crash North of Union

Mrs. Ruth Cremeens Asks $2,000 for Injuries Received in Wreck North of Union.

Following the crash Monday night on highway No. 75 north of Union, a suit for damages was filed here Tuesday afternoon in the district court by Mrs. Ruth Cremeens of Central City against Leo Almstead of Sioux City, Iowa, and Leland Redding of St. Joseph, Missouri.

The plaintiff asks that she be given judgment in the sum of $2,000 for personal injuries suffered in the auto accident in which she was riding in the car driven by her husband, Robert Cremeens.

The petition alleges that the car in which she was traveling ran into the car of Mr. Almstead, parked diagonally on highway No. 75, alleging that the car was without lights and unable to be seen until the accident. It is also stated that at the time of the accident Mr. Redding was at the wheel of the Almstead car.

Mrs. Cremeens is at Nebraska City at the home of her brother-in-law, Hershel Cremeens, suffering from shock and the loss of blood from a deep gash in her right arm which required twenty-five stitches to close.

NEHAWKA CLUB MEETS

The Bluebird Club of Nehawka met with Mrs. Elmer Stoll Wednesday afternoon August 12. Mrs. Herbert Stoll was assistant hostess. All members but one were present. The afternoon was spent at varied entertainments.

Visitors present were Mrs. M. P. Fleming and Mrs. Floyd Gerbeling, sister of Mrs. Herbert Stoll of Plattsmouth; Mrs. Lee Snively, Alvo; Mrs. Ralph Snively, Mrs. Guy McGill and Bonnie, Elmwood; Mrs. Alvin Reynolds, Mrs. Henry Thiele, and Miss LaVerna Ingwerson, Nehawka. Refreshments were served.

VISIT WITH SISTER

Miss Alpha C. Peterson, county superintendent of schools, with Miss Gerda Peterson, were at Lincoln Sunday where they spent the day with their sister, Mrs. Hulda Sterner, of York, who is taking medical treatment at Lincoln. Mrs. Sterner was taken ill at Albuquerque, New Mexico, where she was visiting and was brought on to Lincoln by a son, her daughter, a trained nurse, living in the capitol city and who is looking after the care of the mother. The Plattsmouth ladies found the sister doing very nicely and is doing just as well as could be expected.

VISIT RELATIVES HERE

Monday Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Turner and two children of Marquette, Nebraska, were here for the day, being luncheon guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Capwell, the latter a sister of Mrs. Turner and in the evening were entertained at dinner at the home of County Treasurer and Mrs. John E. Turner, the former a brother of Mr. Turner. They departed from here for Elmwood where they will visit with the relatives there before going on to their home.

George Quick is Charged in Bellevue Death

Statement of Frank Hatfield That George Quick, a Roomer, Killed Wife, Leads to Charge.

Murder charges against George Quick were drawn up by County Attorney R. J. Nickerson at Papillion Tuesday as the result of a statement by Frank Hatfield that his wife, Lotie, had been killed by Quick, a roomer at the Hatfield home near Bellevue, on the morning of Aug. 2.

Hatfield was subjected to a severe grilling by the county attorney, members of the sheriff's staff and state investigators.

He finally admitted, according to Nickerson, that Quick had killed Mrs. Hatfield when she refused to prepare a meal for him after the three had returned home from a dance about 2:30 a. m. on the morning of Aug. 2. First indications were she had been beaten to death with a shovel but new evidence was developed which eliminated the shovel as a death instrument, Nickerson said.

Both Hatfield and Quick have been in custody several days. They were held for questioning immediately after the body of the woman was found in the home, but released temporarily when preliminary questioning failed to link either with the crime.

Asked why he had not implicated Quick at the first questioning, instead of denying any knowledge of the slaying, Hatfield declared he had been threatened with death by Quick if he told what he knew.

Confronted with the accusation against him, Quick continued to deny any implication in the crime.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

Football fans are anxiously awaiting to see what the 1936 Plattsmouth high school team will be like. All indications point that this team will measure up to some of the best teams that we have had in the past. There will be a number of letter men back who are seasoned in football experience and should make an excellent record. Coach Bogges intends to run three squads and arrange games for the second team.

The following is the first team schedule:
Sept. 25—Glenwood, Iowa, there.
Oct. 2—Valley, here.
Oct. 9—Ashland, here.
Oct. 16—College View, there.
Oct. 23—Auburn, here.
Oct. 30—Blair, there.
Nov. 6—Tecumseh, here.
Nov. 13—Open.
Nov. 20—Nebraska City, there.

FALLS ASLEEP

From Wednesday's Daily
This morning at 2:30 Officers Pickrell and Stewart in their tour over the business section of the city, discovered a stranger sleeping in one of the doorways on Main st. between 4th and 5th streets. The stranger, who had evidently partaken too freely of the flowing bowl, had peacefully sank into slumber and from which he was aroused with difficulty. Taken to the city jail to spend the remainder of his sleep, he gave the name of F. M. Hill and stated that he had drifted into the city and growing tired had laid him down to rest.

UNION ITEMS.

Mike Roddy, of Nebraska City, was looking after some business matters here last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Becker and family took in the picnic at Rock Bluff last Sunday.

Genevieve Becker was home Sunday for a while. She has been working in Nebraska City.

Ray Becker and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ehlers were at Sidney Tuesday, where they took in the rodeo.

Donald Becker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Becker, run a nail thru his foot and has been under the doctor's care for the week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Keedy, of Ashland, where they are engaged in the drug business, visited relatives in Union last Sunday.

D. Ray Frans was a visitor at St. Joseph, Mo., from Friday until Monday, going to visit an uncle who has been sick for some time.

Last Sunday at the Rock Bluff reunion and picnic, there was a ball game between the Union and Rock Bluff team, with Union winning by a score of 13 to 4.

While engaged in a game of baseball last Sunday, Bernard Morris slid into second base in such manner as to twist his back and make him lame for a few days.

Mrs. C. E. Withrow, of Palmyra, who has been visiting here with her children, Mrs. Navaux and Elmer Withrow and family, for the past ten days, returned home last Sunday.

Mrs. Vesta Clark and daughter, Mrs. Olive Kinney, spent the week end at the homes of two sisters of Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Nat Kennedy and Mrs. Thede Hinds, who reside in Council Bluffs.

Mr. and Mrs. Rue H. Frans, of Syracuse, were guests at the home of Mrs. Jennie Frans, mother of Rue, last Sunday, also visiting for a short time at the home of D. Ray Frans and family.

An article appeared in last week's items saying Ray Becker had sold two tractors and two corn binders. It was not Ray, but Henry H. Becker, who sold them, and he has three more to deliver this week.

James Leech, who has been nursing an infected hand, was in charge of the Becker filling station last Tuesday, while Mr. Becker and wife and Otto Ehlers and wife were attending the rodeo at Sidney.

Emmett Morton and wife went to Sidney to take in the rodeo and were accompanied by Fred Clark. Fred Clark says it is a wonderful show, but going once is sufficient. It was very hot, but there was a large crowd present at the afternoon show.

C. S. Stone, of Hastings, had some business matters calling him here the latter part of the week and remained for the Rock Bluff reunion and picnic, which was held Sunday. He enjoyed meeting many of his old friends while here.

Frank and Anna, and the girls, Deedy, Punk and Bessie Ann Nickles, who are a portion of the Bauer family, were all over to Harvey, or as he is more commonly known, Pete Shroader's at Greenwood for an over Sunday visit.

Enjoyable Family Gathering

W. G. Ost, of Palatine, Illinois, has been visiting in Union and Nehawka the past few days and was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McCarthy here last Sunday. Mrs. McCarthy is a niece of Mrs. Ost as is also Mrs. A. F. Anderson, while W. A. Ost is a nephew. Included among the other relatives present at the McCarthy home were Mrs. Albertine Ost, a sister-in-law, W. A. Ost and family and A. F. Anderson and family.

Had an Excellent Meeting

Mrs. L. G. Todd was hostess to the Ladies Aid, of the Methodist church at their Dollar Day meeting last Thursday, having a houseful of the members present. A fine program was enjoyed and there were some splendid eats provided. A neat sum was raised to assist in paying the minister's salary. The program committee was composed of Mesdames Cross, Barritt and Eikenberry, while the committee on refreshments comprised Mesdames Todd, Anderson, Snodgrass, Ralph Pearsley and E. P. Booher.

Add Man to Station Force

The Missouri Pacific railroad, which formerly employed a man at Weeping Water in the capacity of car inspector and repairman, doing light repair work on the cars, discontinued such service some time ago when the traffic fell off, but now with the handling of much stone from the quarries, which is coming through Union for points to the north and south, the company has restored this service, but has stationed the man at Union instead

Died at St. Louis

Relatives here received the sad news Wednesday of the death of James Edwin Grimes, age 17, only child of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Grimes, at his home in St. Louis, Mo. Edwin had many friends as well as several aunts and cousins here who are deeply grieved to learn of his untimely death. H. F. Comer was the only one from here able to attend the funeral, which was held at St. Louis on Saturday.

Visited at Brewster

Mrs. Belle Frans and Mrs. C. K. Frans, both of Nebraska City, came to Union where they picked up Mrs. Jennie Frans and continued on their way to Brewster, Nebraska, to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Riggs, the latter a sister of Mesdames Jennie and Belle Frans. The car was driven by Mrs. C. K. Frans and they enjoyed a trouble-free trip, a fine visit and the pleasure of attending a rodeo as well.

Moved to Plattsmouth

E. H. Griffin and wife moved to Plattsmouth last Thursday, where they will make their home in the future. They were visited Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Horace W. Griffin, who also called on their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Max Bowman while in the county seat. Mr. Bowman has been suffering from an infected hand for several weeks and was unable to be at his barber shop or do any work.

Wind Does Freak Trick

Frank Bauer, who visited at Greenwood and vicinity last Sunday, reports the damage done by the wind as being very heavy. The large barn of Mrs. Ollie Sayles was blown down and a piece of 2x4 nailed to a wide board was blown through the roof of the barn, resembling the freaks of a tornado. It is hard to estimate the force behind a 2x4 that would literally drive it through a roof, but we would hate to be in its way. In spite of the wind and electrical demonstration only a very little rain fell.

At Veterans' Hospital

Eugene Roddy, the Murray mail carrier, took Ralph Davis to the Veterans' hospital at Lincoln last Sunday, where he will receive treatment hoped to restore him to health, although the doctors at that institution say it will require months of treatment and even then they are not sure he can be helped a great deal.

Enjoyed Fish Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hansel entertained at dinner last Sunday, having as guests their daughter, Mrs. Ralph Pearsley and family. The menu was a very pleasing one, with fish as the main course, and when we say fish, we mean plenty of it, which was enjoyed by all and especially by Mr. Pearsley.

W. L. Stine Has to Say

Mr. W. L. Stine, who is a philosopher of the home kind who keeps his eyes open and does not have much say, has offered a solution to the matter of getting rain in abundance which he says he is sure will work. That is to do away with the radios, for he claims that before the advent of the air talkers there was plenty of rain and will be again if the radios of the country are shut off. We are not going to try it until after the world's series and the election are over.

Enjoyed a Fine Afternoon

Mrs. J. C. Hansel who is much interested in the work of the W. C. T. U. was hostess to the members of the society last Tuesday, when twenty of their number met at the Hansel home and had a very fine time, not alone with the work they found in the union, but as well in making the afternoon most enjoyable for their hostess, as it was also an observance of her birthday anniversary. The ladies as well as Mrs. Hansel enjoyed the occasion very much.

Enjoyed Pleasant Afternoon

The ladies of the farm extension club were meeting last Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. H. Niday where they demonstrated on the work they had in hand and which was a large amount. Refreshments were served and all voted Mrs. Niday an excellent entertainer.

DIES AT COUNCIL BLUFFS

From Tuesday's Daily
Robert Andrews of this city, received the sad news this morning at the death at Council Bluffs early today, of his mother, Mrs. Emily G. Under. The deceased lady was ninety years of age and was a resident of Plattsmouth some forty-eight years ago and will be remembered by many of the older residents. She was married three times and all of her husbands have preceded her in death in her long years of life. The funeral services will be at Council Bluffs.

RECALL POLICE BADGES

Omaha.—There will be no more of the practice of civilians carrying police badges. Police Commissioner Jepsen ruled Monday. He plans to call in the badges and announce that only members of the official family will be permitted to keep them.

Bible School Lesson Study!

Sunday, August 23rd By L. Neitzel, Murdock, Neb.

"The Gospel for All Men"

Acts 11:5-18; Rom. 1:15-17.

If the study of this lesson carries the conviction to men of the absolute necessity of the Gospel of Jesus Christ for all men, everywhere, then it will also show and prove the inadequacy of any religious thought or cult as a substitute for man's salvation. Then we have the unfolding of God's plan to bring the Gospel of Jesus Christ to the world—by persecution. How strange—but how effective! "Therefore, they that were scattered abroad, went everywhere preaching the word." (Acts 8:4). As Philip the deacon went as far as Caesarea, where he preached Christ, we see the possibility that Cornelius came under his preaching and became a "seeker." Here is a man with a high reputation. Four things stand out in his character. (1) He was a devout man, devoted to religious thoughts; (2) he feared God; (3) he was a benevolent man, helping the poor as need arose, and (4) he led a prayer-life.

Excellent qualities, but not enough for salvation. So was Naaman, the Syrian, a great man—but a leper. (II Kings, 5).

God could do something with Cornelius; he was a man whom God could trust. An Italian by birth, a Roman citizen, a high officer in the army—one who stood plenty high in the estimation of the Jews—but, withal, a sinner. As a seeker for the truth, we find him for four days fasting and praying. (See Acts 10:30). When he became of the proper frame of mind and spirit, God sent a ministering spirit (Heb. 1:14) to lend encouragement and impart instruction.

So, likewise, does God help every earnest soul.

This man's religion affected his whole household; otherwise it would be of little value. Obedience is a soldier's first law—so he follows instructions at once—he sends for the preacher. The next day at noon the preacher had a great revelation and experience—on the housetop—Joppa Caesarea are about 40 miles apart.

Peter is also obedient, for after he had told the Lord he would not do as told, he changed his mind and went with the men to Caesarea. It is quite a company—ten men—who set out from Joppa.

May we stop a moment and consider God's way in leading men, to bring them together to further his plans to build his kingdom. Peter underwent a tremendous change—a revolution! And so the Jew and the Gentile meet on common ground; and Peter fulfilled his God-given mission (Matt. 16:19) to open the kingdom to the Jews at Jerusalem at pentecost, and now to the Gentiles at Caesarea, the "Gentiles' Pentecost." After this he becomes one of the twelve, as James becomes the leader of the Jewish part of the Christian church and Paul to the Gentiles.

This meeting of two great men is an event; each recognizing in the other that greatness of character—one representing the greatest world power, the other the potential power of God's kingdom. The result was the establishing of Christ's kingdom in a heathen city. The first Gentile convert; or was the Ethiopian the first? We think not; he was acquainted with Jehovah worship and came to Jerusalem for that purpose. (The teacher should give here a vivid description of the scenes in Cornelius' home).

The Judaizers found fault with Peter's acts, so that he had to bring the matter before the mother-church. There he rehearses the whole matter and defends his going to the Gentiles, and could prove by six witnesses that his story was true. When Peter finished, he had silenced the trouble-makers, and they joined in and glorified God, saying: "Then hath God also to the Gentiles granted repentance unto life." Thus the fact is established that the Gospel is for all men; a universal salvation is what Christ wrought! "He died for all."

This lesson has a remarkable ending. We meet the Apostle Paul, who had preached this Gospel over twenty years; who had seen its effect on men of all classes; under all climes. He is a competent and qualified witness, and he says: "I am not ashamed of the Gospel; for it is the power of God..." (This was the text for the first sermon this writer preached 58 years ago.) Numerous instances could be cited of the power of the Gospel under the preaching of this energetic man, Paul, who was possessed of great courage and vision. See a Felix tremble (Acts 24:25) as Paul preaches about "righteousness, temperance and judgment to come." That man was convinced of his bad life. See King Agrippa wince when Paul spoke "the words of truth and soberness." Agrippa is convinced, but will not yield to become a Christian.

Where is the preaching of today where the power of God is manifest in such manner that men cry out: "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?" Our converts of today do not show "a Godly sorrow that worketh repentance" (II Cor. 7:9), hence they have not the joy of sins forgiven. What a sorrowful spectacle! The early church was not built of such material.

That Gospel will reveal the righteousness of God; that faith is the victory; that the more abundant life is only found in Christ Jesus.

Race War Flares in Alabama

Mrs. U. L. Williams and baby.

Every available highway patrolman in northern Alabama was mobilized for emergency duty following a bloody gun battle between whites and Negroes precipitated when a posse of white men attempted to capture a Negro accused of trying to kidnap the infant baby of Mrs. U. L. Williams of Anniston, Ala., above.
