Weeping Water

Those who love to dance are well pleased with the street dances that Bill Johnson has been giving.

Edward VanEvery, of Lincoln, a brother of William VanEvery, was a visitor at the home of the latter and family here last Sunday.

Fay Herrigar, Murray blacksmith, visited in Weeping Water last Sunday, coming over to call on his fellow tradesman, John E. Johnson.

Arthur Barthold, of the new cafe, spent last week end at the home of his parents at Nebraska City, but was back on the job early this week.

George Metcalf and Mrs. Amos Cappen and son, Hubert, were called to Lincoln Monday to look after business matters and also visited friends there during their stay.

William Patterson, of Murray, was visiting at the home of his two brothers, Judge A. J. Patterson and David Patterson, over the week end and during the fore part of this week.

Marion Spangler began filling his silo with ensilage this week, cutting up the corn stalks from which earlier in the season he was expecting to harvest a bountiful crop of corn this fall.

Dennis Oldham made a trip to Missouri early this week, where he purchased a truck load of watermelons, which he brought to Weeping Water in order to supply those who are watermelon hungry.

Earl Oldham was a visitor in Omaha Tuesday with a truck load of produce which he had purchased. Included in the lot were sixty beautiful white ducks which he had bought the evening before.

Bill Johnson has installed two new electric refrigerator units to keep the beverages he dispenses cold. He is also having his parlor repapered and redecorated so as to have everything spic and span for the county fair next month.

Elmer Michelsen and family visited in Omaha last Sunday, and on their return, stopped at Louisville, where they enjoyed a swim at the state park recreation ground. They were joined there by Fred Allen, wife and daughter.

Lloyd Superman, who has been employed at the new cafe and restaurant, returned to his work there last Sunday, after completing a vacation of two weeks, during which time Clifford Kirkpatrick was assisting with the work at the eating house.

William Sander, who was born in Germany 37 years ago last Sunday, August 16, was receiving the well wishes of his friends on his anniversary and the good wife provided a special dinner for her husband and a number of his friends to further celebrate the event.

Miss Agnes Rough, the milliner and beautician, was called to Omaha last Tuesday to look after business matters, including the purchase of supplies for the beauty shop and the buying of new fall millinery. Miss Mabel Dudley was looking after the business during her absence.

Art Johnson, who recently acquired a moving picture show at Newman Grove, and has been looking after the conduct of the same, visited at home over the week end, but returned to the northern Nebraska town the first of the week to care for the new business, which he is expecting to pay well.

Thomas Christian and wife, with their son, Lester Christian and wife, who reside near Elmwood, made up a party of four who went to Burwell, Nebraska, last Friday, to attend the rodeo at that place, as well as visit friends and relatives who reside in that part of the state. They stayed a number of days and enjoyed their trip very much, returning home the fore part of this week.

Will be Home Soon

Mrs. Richard Hobson, to whom was born a fine baby daughter, at the hospital in Omaha, together with the little new arrival, who has been named Mary Susan, will return to their home in Weeping Water the latter part of this week. The father, who has been the recipient of congratulations over the arrival, is well pleased that the wife and mother will be coming home and happiness extends to the grandparents on both sides.

Returned from Southern Trip

Clinton Wilkinson, Jr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Wilkinson, business man of Weeping Water, has returned from a trip to Texas which he made in company with other carriers of the World-Herald who secured a certain number of new subscribers. The party spent a week in the south, attending the Texas centennial and enjoying many interesting sights.

Killed in Auto Accident

C. H. Dorr, who has resided here for some time, being a timekeeper at the quarries, and well known to a great many of the people of Weeping Water, was killed last Sunday while on a visit to his home at Wahoo. He was out with his family in his automobile and was a few miles west of Wahoo when the accident which took his life occurred. It was near 10 o'clock at night, and his car was sideswiped by a truck, one of Mr. Dorr's arms being literally torn from his body. He died a short time afterwards.

Visited Old Friends Here

Henry Heebner was a visitor in Weeping Water last Tuesday, meeting many of his friends here. Mr. Heebner was born a few miles from Weeping Water and is now 70 years of age, having lived in Cass county for many years, and having the acquaintance of nearly everyone he meets. He farmed a few miles from Weeping Water, hauling corn here to market forty and fifty years ago, when the road was only a country lane, well high impassable in time of wet weather. He was pleased to note the fine condition of the highways leading into town now, which can be traversed with heavy loads in all kinds of weather.

To Improve Post Office

Post Office Inspector B. C. Batie was a visitor in Weeping Water the first of this week, making an inspection of the post office and conferring with Postmaster Sterling Amick in regard to some changes to be made in the office. Among these were the asking of bids for a lease on quarters, a regular procedure every ten years, even though no change in location be contemplated.

It is decided that the post office will be continued at its present location, the room to be redecorated and equipped with government owned furniture and boxes as well as other requisite equipment.

Heretofore the local post office has been equipped by the postmaster, and this change will eliminate necessity of the postmaster tying up an investment in boxes and equipment, the rental on which has gone to the postal department. The new equipment will be installed in the near future and will make a great improvement in the office. This is the first of this class so equipped in the state.

Entertained Relatives Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Gorder entertained at their home in Weeping Water last Sunday, having as guests Henry Wessell and wife, of Nehawka. Mrs. Wessell is an aunt of Mrs. Lyrup, wife of Rev. Lyrup, who with her husband have been spending a vacation in Weeping Water, leaving this week for their new location. Mr. and Mrs. John W. Murdoch and Mrs. W. T. Schlichtemeier and daughter, Miss Clara, were also guests, the ladies being sisters of Mrs. Gorder and aunts of Mrs. Lyrup. A most enjoyable time was had by all.

KING EDWARD A DIVER

Lumbarda, Jugoslavia.—King Edward of England demonstrated his skill as a diver, while his vacation party halted its leisurely cruise, for a swim in the Oratic. The king and his friends, including Secretary of War Alfred Duff Cooper and his wife, Lady Diana, boarded a motorboat and for 15 minutes the king dived and swam beside the little vessel.

STORE BURGLARIZED

Aurora, Neb.—No trace has been found of burglars who broke into the Johnson Clothing store Wednesday night and took $800 worth of clothing and other articles. Loot included 42 suits of men's clothing and the loss was not insured.

FARM YOUTH DIES

Big Springs, Neb.—Claude Hein, 18, farm youth near Big Springs, died Saturday from pneumonia after his temperature reached 106 degrees.

Rock surfacing of farm-to-market roads this winter will be of benefit to every resident and land owner in Cass county.

BREX BEAT THE U. P.

From Monday's Daily: The BREX kitty ball team last night played an exhibition with the U. P. shops of Omaha and in which the locals won by the score of 8 to 7, both teams playing a good game. Edward Gradoville featured a home run as his contribution to the win of his team and Jack O'Donnell, first sacker of the Donats, understudy of his father, secured three hits from five trips to the plate.

TO LOCATE IN SOUTH

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Law and little son, departed Monday for Minnesota where they will enjoy a short visit with relatives and friends and later expect to go on to the south. They are to locate at Harlingen, Texas, the former home of the family and where the mother of Mr. Law is residing. Mrs. Law is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Reichstadt of this city.
