Football to Fore in High School Circles

Fifty-six Respond to Practice Call; Prospects for Season Look Good—Game This Week.

The response to the call for football practice at the high school has been responded to by some fifty-six of the young men of the school, twelve of these being lettermen of 1935 and a large group of the second string squad of the past year. Coach Boggess is much encouraged by the number of the younger players that are out for service and which indicates a keen interest in the fall sport program of the school.

The squad is being given a thorough working out and every member is being given training for the season. It is hoped that games for the various teams may be arranged so that the players may meet competition in their own class.

This Friday the Platters will have Central high school "B" team here for a practice game and to test the players for the regular opening of the schedule with Glenwood on September 25th at that place.

The players who have responded to the call for training are as follows: Warren Albee, Bill Armstrong, Dale Bowman, Don Burcham, Bill Carey, Jack Canterbury, Max Chandler, Jack Christy, Ambrose Claus, John Cloldt, Everett Daniel, Wayne Falk, Jack Forbes, Clark Finney, Norman Gamblin, John Gayer, Dick Hatt, Dennis Hiskett, Ben Hayskins, Bernard Jackson, Alvin Johnson, Ralph Johnson, Kiser, Bill Knorr, Eugene Lester, Ted Libershal, Buddy Long, Don McCarroll, Ben McCarty, Don McPherson, Morgan Meisinger, Joy Miller, Don Mrasek, Harley Minnear, Frank Nelson, Elmer Newton, Joe Phillips, Ronald Rebal, Warren Reed, Lester Reeves, Rhoades, Gail Rust, Max Seitz, Bill Steinkamp, Harold Stewart, Earle Taylor, John Tibball, Robert Vallery, Virgil Weight, Allan White, Raymond Wooster, Joe York, Don Hyke, Buddy Stull, Frank Aschenbrenner, James Kozak.

The class in first aid has been pushed by the Ofe Oil station. Requests have come to the station for a first aid post at that place. In order to establish such a service, at least two persons at the station must take the course in Red Cross first aid and pass the examination sent out from National headquarters. Since Dr. Westover had taught such a class in Mynard, he was called upon. The only expense is the text.

The assignments were made by the bishop and Rev. V. C. Wright, who has so well served the Plattsmouth Methodist church in the past year, was again returned to the position, starting his second year in the pastorate. The return of Rev. Wright is very pleasing to the members of the congregation where he has labored so efficiently in the past year and increased the church both spiritually and materially and by his service brought many to the fold of the church.

In the other charges in the Omaha district in Cass county, Rev. N. B. Callaway was assigned to the Louisville church to succeed Rev. ## Heavy Rainfall Brings Overflow on South Side

Month of Sewer at Tenth Street Blocked and Flood Water Swept on Into Main Section of City

From Tuesday's Daily: The rainfall of early this morning which brought .52 of an inch was followed later in the morning by a much heavier downpour of 1.10 inches and resulted in the overflowing of Chicago avenue and south Sixth street.

The entrance of the sewer at Tenth street and Chicago avenue was blocked early in the heavy rain and as the waters, draining from a territory of several miles in extent swept down the creek to strike the blocked sewer it overflowed and swept on down Chicago avenue and thence into Sixth street.

The water in Sixth street failed to get over the curbing but debris catching in the intakes of the box sewers held back the water and a great deal of the surface water swept on into Main street and for some moments created a great deal of excitement as the waters rose.

There was no damage reported from the high water but a very large number of the persons in the business section of the city gathered along Sixth street to watch the waters and the test of the new sewers in carrying off the water. Where the intakes were opened from their store of debris the water flowed freely on into the sewers and on down to the river bottoms.

Residents of the territory near this city report heavy rains during the morning and for the first time in many months the water courses were flowing with the refreshing rainfall.

HAVE A FINE RAIN

The heaviest rain of the summer season visited this section of a Cass county on Saturday afternoon and evening, bringing with it the much needed moisture. The rainfall was 2.46 inches and will bring a great deal of benefit to the pastures, late gardens and vegetation. The rain was largely confined to this section of the state however. The rain was heavy enough to do some washing in fields, a number of the farmers report from this section.

OLD RESIDENT CELEBRATES

From Monday's Daily: Today was the sixty-fourth birthday anniversary of Byron Golding, local merchant, who also has the distinction of being a native born Plattsonian. The parents of Mr. Golding, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Golding, were among the early residents of this city and shortly after their arrival here the son was born. He has made his home here for the greater part of the time and has been active in the business life of the community. He says that he is feeling fine and ready for all of the battles of life.

RECEIVE NEW CLUBS

The city police are now armed with wood night sticks in addition to their other weapons and which make a very nasty weapon in subduing refractory prisoners. The clubs are long and of heavy wood and resemble a small baseball bat with a guarantee that if they are properly handled they will tame down the most unruly prisoner. The clubs are still unused however and it is hoped that the officers will not find it necessary to wrap them around any prisoners.

Democrats Give Views Before Fair Audience

Cochran and Luckey Speak at Weeping Water Wednesday—Exhibit Judging Under Way.

Congressman H. C. Luckey said "The 'let the buyer beware' policy has been changed to 'the seller beware' policy," in his talk at the County Fair Wednesday afternoon. He also stated that prosperity is on its way and pointed to the steel industry as a barometer of coming prosperity.

"In the years 1930-1935," he stated, "there was a decline of 79% in the industry, thus it was running only 21% of capacity. From 1933-1936, the business had advanced 338% and is putting out 75% of normal production."

"We are coming out of this depression," he stated, "and of the twelve billion dollars spent on relief measures, six are in recoverable assets." He compared this figure to the eleven billion dollars still owed United States by European nations on the war debt.

The speaker also made attacks on big financial corporations in the east. "This campaign," he states, "is a battle between the common people and specialized interests. Human rights must stand above property rights." He ended his talk with a plea that the "American people stand behind the first government to recognize the agricultural problem as a national problem."

Governor Roy L. Cochran stated that Nebraska is in a unique position in that it has no indebtedness. The "Pay as you go policy" has made the problem in this state "not one of selling bonds but of buying bonds," he stated. He said that the state has fourteen billion dollars in surplus funds, twelve are in a permanent school fund and two in Soldier's relief funds. He also told that the state now has the lowest levy for 18 years and the lowest evaluation for 20.

He pointed to Nebraska as one of the first states to adopt the policy of social security. He recommended that the administration of relief funds be given to the local governments in as many cases as possible.

Fred Carsten, candidate for state legislature, also spoke during the afternoon. Speakers were introduced by Marvin Carr of Eagle, democratic county chairman.

Judges were working on exhibits but no ribbons were placed yesterday afternoon. Plattsmouth has a fine art exhibit from the high school. Although there is no entry for competition in this class of work, the display speaks well for the schools of this community. Safety exhibits were numerous among grade school work. Something new in creative art for children were the corn starch paintings.

A surprisingly good exhibit of corn is on display at the county fair. Also quite a number of flowers. The exhibit of grain barely escaped destruction Wednesday when a pen of fine white pigs escaped into the room. Rumors were that they "smelled the corn."

Livestock exhibits were about normal, also poultry. The pet show was quite an attraction to children. Among the unique displays were a four-legged chicken, a tree squirrel, baby geese, and guinea pigs.

There is as usual a fine display in the fancy work and fine arts groups.
