Stalin and Likely Successor?

Josef Stalin, dictator of Soviet Russia, is shown, left, with Klement Voroshilov, war commissar, who, it is reported, would succeed Stalin in the event of the latter's death. It has been officially denied, however, that Stalin is mortally ill and that Voroshilov is preparing to step into his office. Stalin is reported in "excellent health".

Her friends will be pleased to know of her continued improvement.

Charles Hemphill has been under the weather during the past week, being so he was not able to get around a part of the time. He is considerably better at this writing, however.

Henry Wessell and wife drove to the home of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Murdock last Sunday for a visit, but on their arrival found the Murdocks had gone visiting out in the state and were not home.

Albert Anderson and family spent the day last Sunday at the home of Mrs. Anderson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Steffens, of Lorton. Present at the Steffens home that day were other relatives who had come down from their home in Norfolk.

Attending Convention in East

Miss Lanna McReynolds, postmistress of Nehawka, is in Cleveland, Ohio, this week attending the national convention of postmasters and postmistresses of the United States. During her absence, business at the postoffice is being looked after by the assistant postmistress, Mrs. Chas. Hemphill, who is familiar with the conduct of same.

Visited at Ohio

Last Sunday, J. W. Murdock and family and Mrs. W. S. Norris (who was formerly a Murdock) together with Mr. and Mrs. Vilas Kettlehut, went to Ohio for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pyke, former residents here, who now reside near that place. Mrs. Pyke was formerly Miss Murdock and closely related to the different members of the visiting party. They spent a most pleasant day there and returned home late in the evening.

Their visit to Ohio calls to mind the interesting sequences that led to the naming of the town, as two groups of settlers located there, one from Ohio and the other from Iowa, and when there became a sufficient number to warrant incorporating a town, a compromise between the two groups resulted in it being called Ohio.

Schools Open Auspiciously

Nehawka has an enviable reputation among towns of this size over the state in the matter of school facilities, as the consolidated school here serves the town and surrounding territory and has one of the best facilities that money can hire, the equal of those in large city schools. The schools opened last week with plenty of enthusiasm among both the instructors and students and a very promising year looms ahead.

Of course, it costs a nice sum of money to maintain good schools and hire competent instructors, but in the end the dividends that accrue will more than offset the cost involved.

As a result of the facilities offered by the local schools a considerable number of tuition pupils from eighth grade rural districts are attracted to the high school here, thus helping to relieve the burden of cost of maintaining our fine school system.

Guests from Honolulu

Some fifteen years ago when Miss Gertrude Sturm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew F. Sturm, who is now Mrs. John O. Yeiser, of Omaha, was a student at the fashionable Wellesley girls' college in Massachusetts, she became a close friend and chum of a fellow student. As time went on, both married, Miss Sturm making her home in Omaha, while her friend married a Dr. Duryea and with her husband located in Honolulu, where she has since resided.

Just recently, Dr. Duryea and wife came back to the United States for a visit of some two months, and in the course of their journey came through Omaha, where they stopped off for a short time. Mr. and Mrs. Duryea and Mrs. Yeiser were guests at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sturm, in Nehawka, a few days ago, and a most enjoyable time was had, especially the two former school girl chums, who lived in memory's fancy the days of their school life.

Dr. and Mrs. Duryea tell many interesting stories of life on this important island empire located some 2,000 miles from the shores of the United States. The city of Honolulu, where they reside, has about 150,000 population and is located on the island of Hilo, which is just about the size of Cass county. The main products are sugar and pineapple. The climate there is ideal, they say, with temperatures ranging from 65 to 80 degrees the year 'round.

Returns from Western Trip

Mrs. Nelson Berger arrived home last week from a trip to the west, where she visited relatives in California, Oregon and Washington during the past month. She had a most enjoyable time and saw many interesting sights, but like most travelers, was well pleased to get back home again.

Cass county has no bonded indebtedness, as, like the state, it has paid cash for its gravel roads and other improvements. That's a mighty good policy to pursue.

L. P. Langhorst of Elmwood was looking after some business matters in Weeping Water Monday of this week and was also meeting his many friends, being a guest of Postmaster Stirling Amick.

C. A. Johnson of Lincoln, better known as Grandpa Johnson, is spending the week in Weeping Water visiting with the folks here and as well with his many old time friends and also attending the county fair.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Copple of west of Alvo where they are farming, were in Weeping Water last Tuesday looking over the exhibits at the county fair and were expecting to attend the fair for a number of days.

Mrs. M. L. Fernbaugh and daughter, Lelia Mae of Lincoln, are spending the week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Binger as well as visiting with her many friends here and attending the Cass county fair.

Searl S. Davis and Byron Golding of Plattsmouth were looking after some business matters in Weeping Water Monday of this week, having some business matters to look after. By the way that was Mr. Golding's 64th birthday, he being born in Plattsmouth September 14, 1872.

Art Johnson, who is engaged in the moving picture business at Newman Grove, is spending the week in Weeping Water, enjoying the county fair and assisting at the cafe during the time. Art is well pleased with his business at Newman Grove and has some one in charge while he is here.

Grandpa G. Rehmeier, who makes his home with his son, Fred, was visiting for some two weeks at the home of a daughter in Omaha and another two weeks with his daughter, Mrs. Frank Taylor of Alvo, as well as visiting a portion of the time with his son, Simon Rehmeier, returned home to Weeping Water last Saturday. He got back in time to attend the county fair, which is allowing him to visit with his many friends attending the fair.

Get Tomatoes and Potatoes.

Earl Oldham and son, Dennis, with their truck went to Greeley, Colorado where they found a Garden of Eden, almost, in the irrigated district where tomatoes and potatoes are grown. They secured a truck load of these vegetables, bringing them home with them.

In Weeping Water Today.

It has been arranged for Foster May, newsman broadcasting through WOW, Omaha, to be in Weeping Water and have his microphone on the streets, interviewing the people who are attending the Cass county fair and which will give Cass county, her fair and the city of Weeping Water publicity and all who so desire can express their ideas of Cass county of Nebraska and any other subject they may find of interest.

Showing Some Improvement.

Dr. W. H. Tuck who has been so seriously ill for some weeks, is reported as showing some improvement, as the doctor gave some encouragement during the past few days that he might sit up for a short time soon.

Dies in California.

Mrs. John Colbert nee Frisbee, seventy years of age, died early this week at her home at Oakland, California where she has made her home for some time past. The husband passed away a few years ago. She leaves three sons, Fred Colbert, Long Beach, Calif.; Harry Colbert of Scottsbluff and Horton Colbert of Oakland, Calif. The remains were shipped to Weeping Water, arriving this week, and the funeral and interment will be held Saturday morning. A full account of the life of this excellent woman will be given in the Journal the coming week.

Mrs. Hobson Doing Better.

Mrs. W. L. Hobson who was taken so suddenly ill last week and who had to be rushed to the hospital in Lincoln where an operation in the nature of amputation of one of her feet was required, as a blood clot had formed which was tending to impede and interfere with her circulation. Fortunately however, the operation and careful treatment at the Bryan Memorial hospital was able to save the life of this excellent woman, which was in grave danger. The many friends as well as the family are greatly pleased that Mrs. Hobson is better.

First Day of Fair.

Tuesday, scheduled as the first day of the Cass county fair, was very far from fair, for the rain came down in torrents, filling the creek with turbulent tumbling waters and also soaking the surrounding territory and insuring a good opportunity for the seeding of the fall wheat of which there is promise of great acreage to be sown.

While in a sense the opening day was spoiled for the fair, the rain did much more good than a fair day with bright skies would have. With the clearing of the weather the success of the fair is assured for the new life and hope for another year's crop, the attendance of the fair will be multiplied.

The regular amusement apparatus in the form of wheels, swing and other devices were in evidence, as well as the eating places to take care of the hungry. The entrants were very liberal as to the exhibitors and everything looks like an excellent fair which Cass county has every year whether it be a dry season or normal.

Baby Nursery for Fair.

That everyone who desired to enjoy the county fair, whether the bride with the first infant, or the more mature matron, and to be free to see the exhibits, there has been instituted in the rear of the Maytag sales room, a nursery, which will be in charge of Mrs. Myrtle Stock, where the infants on upwards to a year old can be left, and where the little one will be cared for while the mother is taking in the fair. A very nice institution.

Won 11 Ribbons and Sweepstakes.

Frances and Vinton Rehmeier, daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rehmeier were in Lincoln at the state fair where they exhibited ten Chester White pigs and there won 11 ribbons and sweepstakes. While there they sold one of the pigs and the others are now on exhibit at the county fair at Weeping Water and with the results of the state fair as a record, it looks like they would be winners here as well.

Working in Weeping Water.

A. R. Dowler who has been employed in Nebraska City for a number of years as an auto salesman, tendered his resignation there some few weeks ago and came to Weeping Water to look after his farm a few miles out and has accepted an offer of salesman proffered by the Cole Motor company.

Played Baseball.

The Old Timers and who will have to pick them out, and the ball team at the CCC camp, played ball last Sunday and while the Old Timers put up a good stiff game they were not in the picture, for they were defeated by the score of 7 to 3.

RA HAS SPENT $2,574,813

Federal money, in extent of $2,574,813, has been poured into the Seventh district of the national re-settlement program—a section comprised of the four states, Nebraska, Kansas, and the Dakotas—for emergency drouth aid. Of this money $1,224,894 went into 6,013 feed loans; $264,894 into 1,962 crop production loans; and $1,082,320 into 68,902 special grants.

Nebraska leads in the number of approved crop loans, 6165,725 being advanced on 722 emergency drouth aid applications. Feed loans in Nebraska amounted to $93,885 for 505 cases; 5,151 families also received $121,903 in special grants. The report of Regional Director Ward also said that only 2,446 farmers certified to WPA in Nebraska were working out of a list of 6,217 who had been okayed.
