State Fair Board Asks for $104,100

Budget Increases Mostly for New Roofs and Agricultural Society Activities.

The state board of agriculture, thru Secretary Reed, has filed budget requests for an increase of $33,500, of which $30,000 is an increase for maintenance and repairs, including a new roof for the poultry building at the state fair grounds and coating for roofs on four of the large buildings to protect them from further damage.

The next largest item of increase is $10,000 for agricultural activities. The latter are the incorporated societies such as poultry, dairy, livestock which have been aided by the state for many years. The last legislature appropriated $15,000 for these societies. This money is merely handled by the state board of agriculture and paid out to the societies, none of it being for the state board organization. Reed says the appropriation for the societies was cut in 1929 and they feel they should have a larger appropriation. The appropriations two years ago totaled $65,700. The requests now total $104,100.

In asking for an increase of the appropriation of $20,000 to $50,000 for maintenance and repairs Reed explains that a new roof is needed for the poultry building on the fair grounds and a coating on the roof of the swine barn, the grand stand at the race track, auditorium, agricultural hall and other buildings, all of which will cost $15,000. He also asks for $2,000 to connect the fair water system with a city main at 14th st., and asks for $33,000 for maintenance of the grounds, making a total of $50,000 instead of $20,000.

In asking for an increase of the appropriation for development of the 4-11 boys and girls work from $7,500 to $10,000 Reed asks for the increase on account of the size of the exhibit and the interest taken in this department.

For operating expenses, to pay advance costs of a fair before it opens, Reed asks that the appropriation be increased from $14,000 to $20,000, an increase of $6,000.

For meetings of organized agriculture in various places in the state, $2,500; premiums at the fair, $4,000; and $2,600 for salary of superintendent of grounds, no increase is asked. The last legislature appropriated $25,115 for payment of half the deficit on premiums of the 1931-32 fairs and of this amount $24,065.49 has been paid. The board asks for no appropriation of this nature in the present budget requests.

WHEELER PRAISES NORRIS

Hartington, Neb.—Senator Wheeler (d. Mont.), urged re-election of Senator Norris and told a political audience here millions of people over the world would be affected were Norris defeated.

Wheeler said inhabitants of despotic countries looked to America for leadership to liberty and that America's position in the eyes of the world depends on men like Nebraska's senior senator. Norris was pictured as more powerful than any other five senators.

John Havekost of Hooper, congressional candidate, spoke at the rally; and Clarence Haley, county democratic chairman, presided.

HAS A CURIOSITY

At the farm home of Louis Sack, near this city, there is a red haw tree that is a combination of fall and summer. The tree had matured the red fruit as usual for this season of the year and now is also producing blooms as in the early summer. The appearance of both flower and fruit at the same time has attracted much attention from the visitors at the Sack home.

See the goods you buy. Catalog descriptions are flowery enough, but how about the goods when you get them?
