Spangler and daughter, Margaret Todd, and Grandmother Perry, Charles Perry and wife of Lincoln. Mrs. W. A. Cook of Elmwood, Guy Kiser and family of Myrard and Allie Leonard and wife, of near the Forest Leonard home.

Has a Rare Coin.

Thomas Nelson, assistant at the Nickles lumber yard, has a very rare piece of money about two times the size of an ordinary silver dollar, a Swedish one, equivalent to one cent in our money, and bearing the date of 1669 which is rather old. Mr. Nelson has been asked to place a price on the relic but so far has not concluded to do so. This 267 year old coin is creating a good deal of interest.

Thanksgiving Day with Daughter

Charles R. Boedeker, Sr., departed early this week for Clearfield, Iowa, where he went to spend Thanksgiving day with his daughter and husband, Rev. H. B. Hutchman and wife, where Rev. Hutchman is minister of the church at that place. Mr. Boedeker will also spend some time visiting before he returns to Murray.

Thanksgiving Day at Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Flemming W. Robb of Lincoln are to entertain for Thanksgiving at their home in Lincoln Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Tyson and little daughter. They will stop in Elmwood to pick up the parents of the doctor, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Tyson.

STATE OWNS U. S. BONDS

Nebraska, which has no state debt, now owns more than $5,500,000 of federal bonds, State Treasurer Hall said. The new figure was attained with the purchase of $175,000 additional federal bonds as investments for the state school fund. The school fund previously owned federal bonds listed at $1,646,570 and the state treasury held $3,714,074 of other federal bonds in its cash account. Many banks no longer pay interest on state deposits, and much of the state's cash is put into U. S. bonds to draw interest until the funds are needed. The state board of educational lands and funds which has around $14,000,000 invested in bonds of various kinds now seldom invests in bonds issued by Nebraska municipalities.

Prokop, Mrs. Prokop being sister of Mrs. Binger, who greatly desired to go to the home of her sister but saw it more clearly to remain home and entertain other members of the family.

The Weeping Water Postoffice.

Weeping Water is one of the very outstanding cities of the state in its enterprise and progressiveness. With slightly over a thousand inhabitants it is far ahead of towns much larger. The Dr. Kunkel hospital is one evidence of the spirit of progress. Another is the caring for the Cass county fair. Now comes the postoffice, which is being changed for the better with an all steel equipment and arranged so that better service can be given and the work at the same time made more convenient for the workers. Last week the new furniture was installed under the supervision of Walter D. Love, the contractor. The interior decorating was under the supervision of Menager and Bobbitt. Since the change in the office, it is much better than most offices with populations two or three times the size of Weeping Water.

Gave New Cafe Surprise.

Miss Mayme Hillman who some time ago sold her cafe to Bert Fischer, W. O. Johnson who has been in the restaurant business for a number of years, getting an offer in another line offered to dispose of his cafe and sold it to Miss Hillman. She changed it and opened up for business Friday of last week. Twenty-four of the business men of Weeping Water gave the new institution a surprise when they walked in for breakfast, all at the same time. While the surprise was great Mayme was equal to the occasion, even on short notice.

Were Not Beaten This Year.

The Weeping Water high school football team went through the present season undefeated, although they were tied two times. The people of Weeping Water and vicinity are proud of the fine team turned out this year and as a recognition Frank Domingo and Mr. Stickney gave the team a very fine banquet, accompanied by a very fine program.

Quarry Suspends Work.

The quarry east of town, called the government quarry last Monday evening suspended work for a season as there is no outlet for the stone, as the Missouri river is low and the stone cannot be used for the purpose for which it was intended. All interested in the enterprise of river improvement, both workers and others are hoping it will not be long before the work may be resumed.

Visited in the Country.

Miss Anna Hart and Miss Mildred took a day off Thursday, Thanksgiving day, and went out to the home of Rudolph Hart, brother of the young ladies where they all enjoyed a very fine Thanksgiving day dinner and were joined by the brothers and sister on the farm.

Bedford, Ia.—The body of John Clark, 40 year old Athelstan trapper, guarded by his vicious, faithful police dog, was found by a posse buried in a skunk den in the hill country south of here.

Three Big Tasks Await Congress at New Session

Crop Insurance, Revised Neutrality Laws and Relief Program Put in Forefront.

Washington.—Three jobs for the next congress were suggested by President Roosevelt and Senator Carter Glass (d., Va.), while other administration leaders set to work on a dozen pressing legislative tasks. At least six major measures appeared certain of consideration, altho the president made it plain that his legislative program would not take shape for many weeks. He expressed hope in a white house press conference for passage of a farm tenacy bill, providing federal aid for farm purchases. Chairman Jones (d., Tex.), of the house agriculture committee, already has predicted that such legislation is "assured."

Minor changes in the Tennessee Valley act, placing heavier stress on land use and conservation activities, also received the president's endorsement. Revision of the tax on undistributed corporation surpluses seemed increasingly probable as Glass, chairman of the appropriations committee, announced he favored "some changes" of an unspecified nature in the undistributed corporate profits tax law. Simplification of the federal tax structure has been studied for more than three months by a joint committee of the house and senate.

Other Probable Legislation.

Other legislation apparently headed for the statute book, included: 1. A crop insurance plan, slowly being carpentered by agriculture department experts and the house agriculture committee. 2. New neutrality laws, to replace the present act expiring May 1, Chairman McReynolds (d., Tenn.), of the house foreign affairs committee, and Senator Nye (d., N. D.), both are drafting anti-war legislation. 3. A relief bill, probably to be submitted by the president late in the session.

A dozen other problems will clamor for attention when the session opens Jan. 3, returning congressmen said. Much new deal legislation, for example, will expire in 1937 unless it is renewed by congress. The list includes the president's authority to devalue the dollar, the Reconstruction Finance corporation's lending power, the public works administration, the electric farm and home authority, and the reciprocal tariff.

Three committees named by the senate, house and President Roosevelt—are expected to submit blueprints for a thorough reorganization of executive departments. Senator Guffey (d., Pa.), has pledged himself to press for enactment of a coal bill, regulating prices and trade practices. Other congressmen have demanded revival of NRA wage and hour standards, thru federal licensing of corporations engaged in interstate trade, or by other methods.

DEMOCRATS IN THE RED

Omaha.—Douglas county democrats finished the campaign in the "red," while republicans emerged with a balance of $1,122.74. The report received by Election Commissioner Tusa from Treas. J. M. Roncka of the democratic county central committee, listed 600 contributors who gave $16,148.95. Expenditures were $20,983.53, Roncka said. G. E. Carpenter, republican county central committee treasurer, listed receipts of $10,514.73 and expenditures of $9,391.99. Joseph McGroarty, treasurer of the Douglas County Cochran for Governor club, listed contributions of $5,001 during September and October and expenditures of $1,896.26.

DAIRY FARMERS INCENSED

Farmington, Minn.—Indignant dairy farmers, numbering nearly 500, converged on the Farmington Farmers Co-operative milk plant in protest against a rumor that a strike threatened the plant. The Farmington co-operative, one of the largest milk concentration points in the state was closed temporarily to avert disorder.

At noon the angry farmers were gradually dispersing. Local authorities reported the situation "well in hand."

GRETNA MAN WEDS

Reno, Nev.—A marriage license was issued here to John D. Thiessen of Gretna, Neb., and Rachel Christopherson of San Francisco.

BANK DEBITS HIGH

Washington.—A federal reserve board report showed that during the week ended Nov. 18, bank debits in 274 cities reached the highest level since Oct. 7, 1931. At $11,159,529,000, debits in reporting cities for the week ended Nov. 18 compared with $8,018,420,000 in the previous week and $8,730,630,000 in the same week a year ago. The increase last week, officials said, may have resulted in part from the heavy overflow of corporate dividends.

LAWYER SLAIN IN OFFICE

Cleveland, Tenn.—P. B. Mayfield, Cleveland attorney, was shot to death in his office here. Officers arrested Dr. Vance Bell, former county physician, and charged him with the shooting. Mrs. Willie McCracken, Mayfield's secretary, said Dr. Bell walked into the office and shot the attorney three times in the stomach. Mayfield was vice president of the Bank of Cleveland.

MELVIN PURVIS FINED

San Jose, Calif.—A man identified by Police Judge Percy O'Connor as Melvin Purvis, former department of justice agent, was fined $15 on a speeding charge. Purvis, who resigned from government service shortly after his apprehension of gangster John Dillinger, is engaged in law practice at San Francisco.
