

FAVOR THREE CENT POSTAGE

Washington. — Scanning postal revenues for the fiscal year 1936, post office department officials saw little likelihood that the department would recommend return to 2 cents postage when the 3 cent law expires next summer. Roy M. North, deputy third assistant postmaster general, said that since the 3 cent postage law was enacted in 1932, "the extra cent has meant between 75 and 90 million dollars annually to our balance sheet. In 1934 we were about 12 million to the good," North said. "Obviously, 3 cent postage has kept us out of the red. I don't see any chance at this time," he added, "of our asking congress to return the nation to 2 cent postage."

The present 3 cent postage law was passed by congress, North recalled, in the closing months of the Hoover administration while Walter F. Brown was postmaster general.

ASK PART OF $425,660 TAX

Omaha.—Oscar Roeser and Sons, Grand Island bakers, filed suit in district court here Friday on behalf of the Roeser firm and two other out-state bakers against the Omaha Flour Mills, inc., asking "an equitable distribution" of $425,660 in tax refunds the petitioners assert were received by the milling company when the supreme court invalidated the AAA.

Other parties to the suit are Lenora Tangerman, Grand Island baker, and Kenneth Dryden, trustee in bankruptcy for William Griffith, Kearney baker. The suit contends the plaintiffs are entitled to the percentage of the tax which they declare the milling concern passed on to them.

MRS. J. ADELSON DIES

Polk, Neb.—Mrs. John Adelson, 64, died Sunday after a long illness. She was prominent in church and community work here many years. Surviving are Mrs. Adelson's husband, two daughters, two sons, and a sister.

BREAK MADE FOR LIBERTY

Columbus, O.—Six Ohio penitentiary prisoners housed in the cell block for incorrigibles made a desperate but futile break for freedom late Monday.

Locking two guards in their cells, the six men, three of them serving life sentences for murder, were stopped when a wall guard fired a warning shot. Warden James C. Woodard and other guards with drawn guns surrounded them and they surrendered quietly. Warden Woodard said all of the prisoners were placed in solitary confinement as soon as captured.

BLAST IN POSTOFFICE

Atkinson, Neb.—Damage estimated at $300 resulted from a steam boiler explosion in the Atkinson postoffice Sunday afternoon, which shattered all windows and doors. Several small boys standing in front of the building were slightly cut by flying glass. Steam and water caused considerable damage to mail, equipment and furniture.

CHURCHES IN TRIAL MERGER

York, Neb.—The First Congregational and First Baptist churches of York approved an experimental merger Sunday. The congregations will combine until May, 1937; and then determine whether to continue the plan.

The Congregational church, without a pastor, submitted the proposal. The Congregational church will be used and that group will supply 60 percent of the total expenses. The Baptists will provide a parsonage and pay 40 percent of the expenses. The pastor of the merged churches will be Rev. Ray West, Baptist minister.

The new congregation, whose membership is approximately 300, will be known as the Baptist-Congregational church. Representatives of the two churches will meet early this week to arrange Christmas programs.
