Tool and wife, of this vicinity.

Mads Garden at Night Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kupke were visitors in Omaha from Sunday until Tuesday of last week, being guests at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bohlsen. While there they assisted Mr. Bohlsen with the planting of his garden. As he works during the day, the planting had to be done in the evening and they worked long after dark before they got all the seeds in. Mr. and Mrs. Kupke returned home Wednesday morning.

They report the Bohlsen family have been having a siege of whooping cough and scarlet fever, but are now entirely over the maladies.

Everybody on Their Toes When the fire alarm was blown for a practice run one evening last week, many persons thinking it was a real fire turned out, some even coming in from the country. When they found out it was only a practice run some were amused and some disgusted and one or two even gave vent to their favorite cuss words in describing their feelings. These practice runs aid in establishing efficiency among the firefighters, however, and after all the public's interest in fire is largely that of bystanders, who render little or no assistance, and often criticize the work of the firemen, so we can see no good reason for condemning the practice runs that the firemen may engage in from time to time.

Like the public they serve, they are wholly in the dark until they arrive at the "scene" as to whether they are being called on a practice run or a real fire, and exert every effort to get there quickly.

All kinds of commercial printing done promptly at the Journal office.

Fight, it being an open air entertainment sent out over the loudspeaker system which the paper maintains for that purpose. There was a large crowd in town and all were well pleased with the program, which was put on by local talent. It is the plan of the Leader-Echo publishers to continue these programs throughout the summer, providing entertainment for the people who make this their weekly Saturday night shopping point.

Making Fancy Bridges C. L. Paul, the harnessmaker, is busy with the manufacture of some very fancy riding bridges which he has found an outlet for in the cattle country of Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas. With a reduction in the number of horses used on the farms the regular harness business has been none too good the past few years, but there is still a demand for fancy riding bridges among the cowpunchers of the west and it remained for Mr. Paul to establish the proper outlet for his product, which he seems to be doing.

To Present Minstrel Show Here Raymond Cook of Plattsmouth was in Elmwood early last week and arranged for the giving of an entertainment at the community building here on April 22nd, when the Mynard Minstrels will give their sixth performance of this year's fine show, which was written and directed by Mr. Cook. Capacity crowds attended each of the four nights it was presented at the Mynard community building and later it was offered at Nehawka one night, again playing to a large audience.

Is Much Better Now Howard Liston, who has been so seriously ill and who was given a number of blood transfusions, is reported as greatly improved and renewed hopes are entertained that he may regain his former health. NYA OFFICIALS HERE Friday Miss Gladys J. Shamp, of Lincoln, state director of the National Youth Administration, with C. B. Lund, of Chicago, regional representative, were in the city to visit with Superintendent L. S. Devoe, local chairman of the NYA projects.

The NYA has proven very successful in this city where a large number of the youth have been engaged in the past year in various projects that have been worthwhile to the community and brought a very nice return to the young men.

The NYA has proven a most pleasing aid to the city school system in carrying out various projects that have added much to the school surroundings and the physical equipment of the plant. The force has done much to beautify the grounds of the high school, and Central building and also has been busy in the repair of desks and other furniture used in the school. The NYA workers also have rebuilt and placed in the best of shape, the turning equipment which was used Friday evening in the exhibition at the high school.

There are a number of things that could well be taken up by the NYA in the future and among these is the tearing down of the old high school building, located on the Central school campus and the use of the material in another structure that might be of service in the school system.

Cass county has no bonded indebtedness, as, like the state, we have paid cash for our hard surfaced roads and other improvements as we went.
