Pete Miller was assisting Henry Christensen make some important repairs on his tractors.

Ralph Binger, of Lincoln, was an over Sunday visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Binger.

With the completion of the decorating of Wm. Stewart's shoe store, he has a very neat and convenient place of business.

Bertha Lavert and Lee Sherwood, of Nebraska City, were guests last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bertholds.

Mr. and Mrs. Rasmus Lawrensen visited friends in Nebraska City and attended the opening ceremonies for the new viaduct there on Sunday.

Virgil Sudduth and family came over from their home at Murray and visited for a short time last Sunday evening at the home of Mr. E. Askew.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Woods were enjoying a family reunion that was held at Hickman and was attended by more than 200 relatives and friends.

Mrs. Ralph Keckler was a visitor in Elmwood for a short time Tuesday, calling on her sister and also looking after the transaction of business while there.

The Knickerbocker club met at the home of one of its members, Joan Carter, last Wednesday evening. With plenty of good eats and sociability as well, an excellent time was had by all.

Bert Jamison, who recently moved to Omaha to make his home, has purchased a building site at 56th and Leavenworth streets and is having a new home erected thereon. It will be ready for occupancy soon.

Mrs. Emma Dixon was united in marriage to Johnnie Stratton, Louisville young man. They will make their home in Louisville, where the groom is employed in the Ash Grove cement plant. The many friends of this popular young couple extend Loren Lawritzen, pencil pusher for the Weeping Water Republican, was off on a short vacation during the past week, the greater part of which he has been spending with friends in Denver. During his absence, Mrs. Murty has been doing the writing for the Republican.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Patterson, who has been in the Bryan Memorial hospital at Lincoln, is reported some better. She is being given special attention and care by her mother in addition to the regular hospital attention and hopes are entertained for her early recovery.

Mrs. Eugene Ludwick and child, who have been guests at the home of her parents at Loretta, Nebraska, the past couple of weeks, arrived home last Sunday. They were accompanied here by the parents, who enjoyed a brief stay in this vicinity, before returning home. They report crops in excellent condition up that way, and sufficient rain to insure at least a moderate corn crop this year.

To Celebrate 4th on 3rd

The Weeping Water fire department and the American Legion post have joined forces to put on a big Fourth of July celebration in Weeping Water this year. Inasmuch as the 4th falls on Sunday, the event will be held the preceding day, Saturday, July 3rd. A splendid program has been arranged and a good time is assured. Everyone within a wide radius of Weeping Water is urged to keep the date in mind. Since there are no other celebrations scheduled in this part of the country, it is safe to predict that the town will be literally packed with people.

Married at Nebraska City

Last Saturday at Nebraska City, Miss Emma Dixon was united in marriage to Johnnie Stratton, Louisville young man. They will make their home in Louisville, where the groom is employed in the Ash Grove cement plant. The many friends of this popular young couple extend congratulations and best wishes for their happiness and future prosperity.

Son is Member of Band

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Jones were in Nebraska City last Sunday, where they attended the ceremonies incidental to the opening of the new viaduct on highway 75 in the south part of town.

The Burlington band, from Lincoln, was present and furnished music for the occasion. Clifford Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jones, is a member of the band and also the secretary-treasurer of same. During the day he was able to enjoy a nice visit with the parents.

The young man is employed in the passenger office of the railroad at Lincoln. This week he is accompanying the band on a trip to Denver, where they will play at the inauguration of a new fast passenger train running westward out of Denver, to be known as the "Buffalo Bill."

Plan a Bigger and Better Fair

The Cass county fair has grown into one of the leading fairs in the state, its success being due to the loyal manner in which the fair board and other interested citizens have worked together. The last few years of poor crops and limited farm revenue, they went ahead, instead of giving up, as they might well have done, and were able to overcome the handicap and provide the people with good entertainment.

Now, with bright prospects for a bounteous crop yield, it would seem this year's fair can be made a crowning achievement of all the years it has been held. The fair board is making extensive plans to make it just that, and we are confident they will succeed even beyond their most sanguine expectations.

The dates selected are September 14, 15, 16 and 17 and a good word has been put in with the weatherman to see that the weather is fine for the big event.

Fairs, and other entertainments, are not put on without a lot of hard work on the part of many individuals, and it is hoped that everyone will get behind this year's effort and boost it with the same spirit they have done in the past few years, when the outlook for success was not nearly so bright as now.

Home from Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Maxfield and daughter arrived home Sunday evening from a very enjoyable two weeks' vacation spent in the Ozark country of southern Missouri. They found the fishing very good and speak in high terms of the beautiful scenery down there. Mr. Maxfield went back to work Monday morning, greatly refreshed as a result of his "back to nature" jaunt.

Home from the West

George W. Towle, wife and daughter, Miss Pauline, together with Tom Strasberger, who have been in Los Angeles since October, started home last Thursday morning at 5:30. By changing off driving (Tom and Pauline taking turns at the wheel) they were able to reach North Platte Friday evening and could have come on home that same night, reaching here some time after midnight, but decided to remain there over night, and on Saturday went to McCook and a number of other places in southwest Nebraska before coming on the rest of the way. Mr. Towle has land interests out there and was desirous of seeing how the wheat is coming. He was more than pleased with the appearance of the grain, which will soon be ready for harvest. He has a total of 416 acres in wheat, and anticipates a very good yield.

Mr. Towle advises us that he met many acquaintances at the Cass county picnic in Los Angeles some months ago, among them former County Judge Allen J. Beeson, several of the Meisingers and Fred Egenberger, all of whom have gone to California to make their homes in recent years.

They were glad to get back home after the rather strenuous trip that included continuous driving until they reached North Platte.

Mrs. Eldon Panska Dies.

Miss Katherine Imogene Keckler was born September 25, 1912 near Weeping Water where she passed her girlhood near Laural Hill.

Miss Katherine entered the Laural Hill school when a small girl until in 1926 when she was thirteen years of age she entered the Elmwood high school, graduating with high honors in 1929 at the age of seventeen years.

August 6, 1932 she was united in marriage with Eldon Panska, they making their home first south of Elmwood and later on a farm southwest of Manley where she resided when he was taken ill with appendicitis and was taken to the hospital at Onawa, Iowa, where she underwent an operation and as getting along very nicely and was looking to the day when she was to come home, but a sudden change in her condition caused all the relatives to be called to her bedside on Tuesday, June 15. She passed away June 17th.

The funeral was held from the Elmwood Methodist church, Rev. C. Jannan, pastor of the Evangelical church of Elmwood delivered the sermon. Interment was in the beautiful cemetery north of Elmwood near where she spent much of her younger years. When a girl Mrs. Panska united with the Methodist church in Elmwood and was a most devoted member until after her marriage to Mr. Eldon Panska, who was a member of the Evangelical church, when in deference to her husband she changed her membership to the Evangelical church. She was an earnest worker in the Bible school and Christian Endeavor. She was teacher of a class and always present until just recently when failing health prevented her attending.

She was always ready and willing to do her work for the Master she could and felt as expressed by Van Dyke in his poem which says:

"Let me live my life from year to year,
With forward face and unreluctant soul,
Not hastening to or turning from the goal,
But with a whole and happy heart that pays its toll,
To youth and age and travels on with cheer."

Besides her membership in the church she was a member of the Order of Eastern Star of Elmwood.

During the funeral Mrs. J. Kunz and Mrs. Harry Organ sang two very beautiful songs, while Mrs. Guy Clements presided at the piano.

The pallbearers who tenderly conveyed the remains to their last resting place were Arthur Brockman, Albert Rueter, Willard Bornemeier, George Coatsman, Aubury Kasemark and Moybe Spokes.

Attended Funeral at Syracuse.

A party of the friends of the late Mrs. Keathly went over to Syracuse on the day of the funeral of the late Mrs. Keathly where she attended the last sad rites honoring a citizen of Weeping Water for many years. She had recently passed away at Syracuse. Those to go were Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Olsen, Mrs. J. L. Corey and Miss Anna Hubbard, Mrs. Herman Rauth, Mr. and Mrs. George Olive, Mrs. Ben Olive, Mrs. Wm. Dunn of Omaha, Mrs. Herbert Ratnour, Mrs. Mogens Johnson, Joan Carter, Mrs. J. W. Ranney, Mrs. Lloyd Homan.

Will Visit Here for Summer.
D. H. Wilson of Alton, Ill., a son-in-law of Stuart Rough, drove from their home to Nehawka, arriving last Friday where they stopped at the home of the father of Mrs. Wilson, Stuart Rough, where she and the children will visit for the summer. Mr. Wilson, who is familiarly known as Dick, went to Crete where he attended a dinner in honor of A. L. Johnson, who has been associated with the Crete Mills for the past fifty years, and as the meeting was also his birthday anniversary, made the occasion an enjoyable one. Mr. Wilson was associated with the Crete Mills as distributing salesman. He returned to Nehawka Saturday evening.

Will Work in the East.
Stuart Rough and the family of D. H. Wilson last Sunday morning drove over to Plattsmouth to take Mr. Wilson to catch the train for Chicago, from where he went to Pittsburgh where he is to work as representative of the Alton Mills of Alton, Illinois of which he is the commercial representative.

Makes Trip to North Platte.
R. C. Pollard, having some business matters in the southwest part of the state to look after, and also both he and wife desiring to visit their daughter, Virginia, now Mrs. Lowell C. Davis at North Platte, started late last week, driving via Lincoln to McCook, where they had some business to look after and from there north to North Platte where they visited their daughter and family, returning home Sunday evening. Mr. Pollard tells of a very pleasant visit while there and of a wonderful prospect for a crop all over the west.

Returned to Wymore.
Miss Mary Troop who is with one of the state institutions at Wymore has been visiting for some time past with friends and relatives here also visited at Plattsmouth at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Troop, with the ending of her vacation returned to her work, and was taken by Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Troop of Plattsmouth.

Entertained for the Day.
Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson were host and hostess for the day last Sunday at their home in Nehawka. Guests for the occasion were the parents of Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. C. Steffens of Lorton; J. H. Steffens and family as well as Mollie Magney, Deaths.

Died at Grand Island Hospital.
Mrs. John Flaishman, who formerly resided at Manly but who has made her home in Louisville was taken with an illness and taken to the hospital at Grand Island. She was accompanied by her husband who was later taken ill there. Mrs. Flaishman was expected to return to her home in Louisville the latter portion of this week but was taken suddenly ill late Tuesday evening and all of the family called to her bedside only to find that she was so ill she could not survive. She passed away early Wednesday morning. The remains were returned to Louisville and the funeral held there. A more comprehensive account of the life of this excellent woman will appear later.

Death of Babe.
The friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Hadzaba are sorry to hear that they lost their infant child. It was born June 20th and lived only a short time. It was baptized Jean Frances. The interment was at the Catholic cemetery. Monsignor George Agius blessed the little grave.

To Visit Old Friends.
Mrs. S. H. Atwood, who is spending the summer with her sister, Mrs. Nellie Agnew at Omaha, is to be here to enjoy a visit over Wednesday and Thursday with the old friends and will be guests at the home of Mrs. Henry Herold and Misses Mia and Barbara Gering.

Wanted to Buy.
I wish to purchase a full set or series of McGuffey's Readers. Must be in fair condition, or would buy them singly. See or write me at Nehawka.—A. F. Sturm.

ATTEND FUNERAL SERVICES

Rt. Rev. Monsignor Adolph M. Mosler, vicar general of the diocese of Lincoln of the Catholic church, with Rt. Rev. Monsignor George Agius, pastor of the St. John's church of this city, was at Falls City Monday where they attended the funeral services of the late Father J. J. Hoffman, a personal friend of the two local clergymen.

Monsignor Mosler served as the assistant priest at requiem mass celebrated by the Very Rev. Louis B. Kucera, bishop of Lincoln.

WIN BALL GAME

The American Legion baseball team of this city Sunday afternoon trimmed the Auburn Legion Juniors 3 to 2. Auburn was the champions of 1936 in the southeastern district. Wiles did the hurling for the locals. Jimmie Jones cinched the game in the fifth frame with a runner on third when he singled.

The older amateur team dropped a 10 to 1 game to the older Auburn team.

SHOWS GOOD REACTION

The reports from the University hospital at Omaha are to the effect that Glen Daniels, who is there receiving treatment for the injuries received here Saturday in the motorcycle accident, was holding his own excellently. He has suffered a head injury which it is now thought is clearing up and may permit his recovery.

By L. Neitzel, Murdock, Neb.

"Messages from Genesis"

(Hebr. 11:3-10, 17-22)

It is a great task to review the history of nearly twenty-four hundred years (to be precise, 2369 years) from creation until the death of Joseph, which closes the book of Genesis, of 50 chapters and 1503 verses, in the space of the lesson period, about 30 minutes.

The great messages can only inadequately be touched upon. One great message, if not the greatest is that an all-wise God planned and brought into existence, the universe. It did not come by chance or evolution. Science corroborates the belief of the believer in God, who adapted everything to the sphere where it can exist and be happy, and gave to man the capacity and intelligence, to subdue all to his comfort and use it to his well being, and at the same time, being related to the Creator, glorify him, acknowledge him as the giver of all good and perfect gifts (James 1:17).

Another message is, that evil was already in existence before the creation; and in time made its way into the glorious world that God had pronounced "very good" (Gen. 1:31), and by subtlety and lying beguiled man to doubt and distrust his maker, and bring a curse upon the earth; man became estranged from God, even an enemy (Rom. 5:10), and by disobedience forfeited the favor of God, who had to make his word good when he told man: "The day that thou eatest thereof (the tree of knowledge) thou shalt surely die." (Gen. 2:17). "By one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men (original or inbred sin) for that all have sinned." (Rom. 5:12).

The next great message is that by obedience to God, of one (Jesus Christ) many shall be made righteous (Rom. 5:19). Noah is an example. Noah walked with God; obediently he did what God told him, never questioning nor doubting, and he was saved and his family through the flood. Then we find another message of equal, or even greater importance that is to "walk by faith."

Abraham is the great example—yes, the greatest of all men; by faith he left home, and kindred and friends at God's command, to go to a country that should be his own, and a possession for his children (when he had none, being then 75 years old). "He believed God" (Rom. 4:3; Gen. 15:6), and that was counted to him for righteousness. No man was ever put to such a test of faith in God as when God asked him to offer up Isaac for a burnt sacrifice; that is the shining spot in his life; but Abraham believed that "God was able to raise him up, even from the dead." (Hebr. 11:19).

We would not omit recounting the messages from Genesis, the marvelous power that is in prayer. Here is where Abraham is like his greater Son, Jesus Christ, who like Abraham interceding for the wicked cities of Sodom and Gomorrah, in like manner Christ interceded for us (Rom. 8:34). Samuel prayer for Saul (1 Sam. 15: 11.) Elijah praying for a revival in Israel (1 Kings 18:36,37). Isaac the second of the patriarchs teaches us a great message to avoid war and strife, to be tolerant, not carrying a chip on our shoulder. Our present generation should take a lesson from this man, instead of preparing for war, follow Jesus' example and admonition, "Blessed are the peacemakers." (Matt. 5:9).

Esau teaches us how a man by catering to his appetite, living for the gratification of his desires, may lose the values of the spiritual, the better, higher life. For him came a "too late," as we read his record (Hebr. 12:16, 17). Jacob leaves us a message of how God can remake a man, that will yield to God and let him mould his life.

Then follows the flawless, beautiful story of Joseph; whose clean, pure, spotless life and character, cannot be overemphasized. Such a life is
