Henry Osborne Sick

Henry Osborne, the former station agent of Manley for the Missouri Pacific railway, has been confined to an Omaha hospital, where he is receiving treatment. Mr. Osborne just recently tendered his resignation as agent for the company here, thus leaving the Manley station open for bids by different employees of the road who are eligible for it through seniority rights.

Mark Bryant has been looking after the company's business since Mr. Osborne first was taken sick and is a man well qualified for the position and well liked by patrons of the railroad. However, the selection of a permanent agent is governed by the seniority rules and who will be selected depends upon those who "bid in" the job.

HUNGER STRIKE ON

The police have a "hunger strike" on their hands at the present time in a prisoner they have confined in the city prison. The prisoner was recently fined and paroled with the understanding that he would put out hard and faithful labor on the streets of the city until the amount of the fine and costs was settled.

This man failed to do and Judge C. L. Graves, moved to just wrath, issued a bench warrant to have the man brought in and inquiry made as to the non-work program.

Judge Graves then imposed the original sentence that the man be confined in jail for a twelve day period and only bread and good old Plattsmouth city water would be his diet. The court later modified this to permit one pint of milk a day to help out.

So far the prisoner has left the bread untouched and remains defiant of the ukase that the court and the police have given him.

Under this law the sales bonds must be licensed and bonded and the weighmaster also is licensed. The local barn has complied with these requirements and will be ready to operate under the law when it becomes effective on Monday.

Another phase of the law which will be closely adhered to by the local people will be that section that requires that all cattle and hogs brought to the sales barn for disposal shall be inspected by a veterinarian before being sold.

Carl Grosshans is the manager of the sales and Rex Young, the auctioneer and under their able management the sales have proven the most successful.

IMPROVING PROPERTY

The building on South Sixth street, purchased recently by Glen Vallery, is being placed in first class shape and is a real credit to that section of the city. The buildings which have long been without paint has been redecorated with a bright and attractive green that adds very much to its appearance. Mr. Vallery has also had general repairing on the building to place it back in excellent shape.

HOME ON THE RANGE

By Betty Barclay

No matter how glowingly advertisers may describe their canned and bottled goods, wise housewives know that guests like nothing better than a helping of something that is home-made.

"Try this raspberry jelly, Mrs. Ferguson. It is home-made" is a verbal advertisement that appears to all. There's something about it that forces us to test that product.

Watch for the time when various berries, fruits and vegetables are at bottom price locally—and then "put up" a liberal supply for the cold days ahead. You'll never make too much—go for home-made jellies and pickles go like wild fire.

The beautifully decorated birthday cake was baked by Mrs. Ahl's niece, Mrs. Floyd Erickson—Louisville Courier.
