

Nehawka

J. H. Steffens and wife with Mrs. Mollie Magney, mother of Mrs. Steffens were out over the surrounding country last Sunday afternoon, going especially to see how the crops were looking.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson and their son, Kenneth, were enjoying a week-end trip to Lorton where they visited at the home of the grandparents of Kenneth. Mr. and Mrs. C. Steffens, and found them feeling fine.

Stuart Rough who with his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Dane of Iowa City, were visiting at Detroit, Chicago and other points east, where Mr. Dane was on a business trip, returned home last Friday after seeing much good country.

By accident, and not prearranged, W. H. Kruger and family concluded to make a visit at the home of an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Snodgrass at Gretna and so did so. They arrived only a short time before a brother of Mr. Kruger, Harry L. Kruger and family of Plattsmouth who had driven to Lincoln to look after some business matters and then on to Gretna, thus putting the two families, nephews of Mr. and Mrs. Snodgrass at their home for a very nice gathering.

Trimming Up the Trees.
The large trees which surround the office of David C. West, like those of many other places, with the very severe dry seasons of the past few years have partly died, especially the larger upper limbs, which have made the trees look very bad. To round them up into an agreeable appearance Drewery James and John Dale, Jr., were employed to trim them up and clear away the dead wood. The boys were working very industriously at the job last Monday.

Vacating in the West.
There have been no church services at the Methodist church in Nehawka or at Weeping Water since the minister and wife and their little daughter are enjoying a vacation. First they went to North Platte to visit a daughter and afterwards visited many places on west. He is expected back to take up his work again during the present week.

Home from Their Trip.
On last Sunday Mr. Fred Rose and daughter, Miss Helen who have been in the west for the past two weeks enjoying the climate and wonderful scenery of the Rockies and the many places of interest which the mid-west affords, returned home. They enjoyed the trip very much, but were pleased to get back to the old home. While away they were seeing the country mostly in Montana and Idaho.

Brothers Buy New Cars.
Harold Dodson, feeling the need of a new car, the old one having given him a god deal of service, made the purchase of a new Chevrolet. Not to be outdone, his brother, Merritt Dodson, also went over to Plattsmouth last Monday where he made the purchase of a new Chevrolet.

Grandmother Still Very Sick.
Mrs. Akin who was at Dunningan, Mo., caring for her mother some time ago and who returned home when the mother was some better, was called to bedside of the mother again last week as the mother's health was again very poorly. The patient is suffering with a cancer of the stomach which causes much pain.

Inspecting Scales Monday.
Messrs. Hastings and Browne of Lincoln of the weights and measures department of the state were in Nehawka last Tuesday, going over the scales of the different business houses checking up on them and putting their approval on the scales and by the way found them all right.

Threshing Delayed by Rain.
Forest Cunningham who operates a threshing machine has been kept pretty busy with his custom threshing and has been making good progress until the repeated rains made grain so damp that it was not possible to thresh it until it dried. He has been idle for a few days on that account. He however had to report for the time which he had been threshing a variance of yields and conditions of the wheat. Fields have yielded as low as five and a half bushels per acre and tested as low as 42 pounds to the struck bushel, while on the other hand, some have made as high as 41 bushels to the acre and tested sixty pounds to the bushel.

Returned to Home in South.
Little Julia Ann House, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Sheldon and making her home at Greenville, Miss., who has been visiting the numerous friends and relatives in and about Nehawka for the past two weeks, departed for her home in the south last Saturday.

Home from Visit in Iowa.
Mrs. A. B. Rutledge who has been visiting at the home of a cousin in Iowa for the past two weeks, returned home the latter part of last week after having enjoyed a very fine visit with relatives during her stay there. She also visited with her mother who is past eighty years of age and a niece who came there from their home in Minnesota, thus all getting together for a very fine visit.

Enjoying Visit Here.
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Chappell have been enjoying a visit from their daughter, Mrs. Woodie Tulsen of Denver and Mrs. Robert Cole, grandmother of Mrs. Tulsen, they coming several days ago and are enjoying a visit during the latter portion of the week when the husband who is at Minneapolis looking after some business comes this way to pick them up on his way home.

What is known as the Push Top Pinochle club have been playing for the past week an elimination contest or series of games of pinochle with the idea of eliminating some of the players who have been getting the idea that they could not be beaten. But with the playing of a game against the Biggest Pinochle players, each coming in fresh, have finally eliminated the said Biggest player and while he was able to outplay many of them they so arranged the matter that they were able to beat him by what they called elimination. The members conspiring in five days beat the big man by 17 games.

These prehistoric animals are forty to fifty feet in height, and bigger than the animal of later days. The elephant and rhinoceros are small animals compared with a dinosaur.

"God Feeds a People"
Ex. 16:11-20; 17:3-6.

The proper feeding of a nation as well as the individual, has been the greatest problem for man to solve. Food and water are the two essentials, without which no man can exist. Food shortage—famine—is a disaster of great magnitude. Peoples and nations have suffered untold agonies, for the want of one or the other. Here are between two and three million people. They had only what they could carry of victuals as they left Egypt. They have been thirty days on the march and their supply is giving out; furthermore, they are in a desert, far from a source of supply; the children are hungry—can anyone blame them when they look to their leader for help; they were only in their childhood in knowledge of God; it took time to learn to trust him. We believe their statement of the "fleshpots and full bread baskets" in Egypt an exaggeration; slaves were never overfed. Some think their case was not so desperate, they had the cattle yet—but they were not bread, the food that children craved. The leader in any cause must bear the brunt of complaint if anything goes wrong. God heard the complaint and advised the leaders what he would do. At times God will hear before men cry to him; again he says: "Ask and ye shall receive." Flesh by evening and bread by morning—and God kept his word. God directed the quails to come to their aid and a sumptuous supper was given them; and "fresh bread from heaven." God can and will supply all our wants. The gathering of the manna was to be orderly and early in the morning; men were to learn to rise early for their work. Five and one-tenth pines—one omer—for each person would require 600,000 pounds for each day to feed this three million people. Today God feeds 1,600,000,000 people every day. And this manna was given to them for forty years, never failing. In a symbolic way, Jesus is given to the world as the "bread of life." He satisfies all the needs of the soul. The Christian feeds on the "hidden manna," the word of God, which is Spirit and life. The leanness of so many people who profess to be children of God, is pitiful—not because there is no bread. "In the father's house is bread enough and to spare." (Luke 15:17). Then why this lamentable condition? Is the ministry to blame? "Give ye them to eat!" is Christ's command; are they fed?

At one time, when Jesus had fed 4,000 in a miraculous way, the people wanted to make him their king. It seems to the writer that the whole world ought to "crown him Lord of All," who so wonderfully sustains the life of the millions every day, and serve him gladly. But men take all the mercies and goodness of God for granted, without even saying as much as: "Thank you!" We think it bad manners to accept favors from man without acknowledging the same. Parents teach their children to say "Thank you" when receiving a gift, but man accepts God's bounty and never says "Thank you!"
Having satisfied the people's hunger was one thing; to satisfy their thirst is another. The water supply in the desert is scant and of poor quality. Man can live longer without food than water. Again Moses is appealed to, their anger got the best of them, and they were ready to stone their leaders. Moses takes his troubles to the Lord in prayer; he is powerless and helpless in this hour; only the Lord can help. This is the moment for which God has waited; now he can reveal his power and glory. Again as at other times, God uses human instruments to carry out his purposes.
Is there anything too hard for God? Moses, take thy rod and go to the Rock in Horeb. I will be there on the rock, and you shall smite—or strike—the rock, and there shall come forth water out of the rock." It would be the last place for man to go for water. Moses did so in the sight of the elders. Obedience to God's commands brought results. This was done that the people should believe and trust God. The symbolic lesson in the water as in the bread is typical of Jesus Christ; he is the "Rock of Ages, cleft for me," the "smitten Christ," the opened side with a spear thrust. Blood and water flowed; blood for cleansing, water for refreshing. Jesus is a rock in a weary land for shelter in the time of storm. This rock will also hold our anchor in the storms of life. W. J. Kirkpatrick sings:
"We have an anchor that keeps the soul Steadfast and sure while the billows roll. Fastened to the rock which cannot move; Grounded firm and deep in the Saviour's love."
Blessed assurance this (Rock) Jesus is mine. This is a foretaste of Glory divine. This rock is a well that never runs dry. May we drink and live.
