

New KOIL Broadcast Honors Plattsmouth

One of Towns to Initiate New 5000 Watter

All New Transmitting Equipment and Doubled Power on Koil Beginning Sept. 12th.

The New KOIL will salute Plattsmouth on Tuesday, September 14, with a special civic broadcast from the Korn Karnival platform at the corner of 5th and Main streets in downtown Plattsmouth. The program will start at 4:30 p. m.

Eight entertainers, three announcers, two engineers and other KOIL staff members will make up the broadcast and vaudeville party. They will bring with them Nebraska's only flying broadcasting unit, as well as the only motorized radio unit in the state.

During the week of September 13, the New KOIL will salute five Nebraska and five Iowa towns, celebrating the station's opening of its new transmitter. The new equipment will be opened for use on Sunday, September 12, giving KOIL 5000 watts, twice its present power, and permitting good constant reception in three times its present listener area.

The New KOIL is working with Carl Schneider, president, and other officials of the Chamber of Commerce, Fred Busch, president of the Ad club, and R. W. Knorr, acting as general chairman of the Korn Klub during the absence of Chairman Henry Soennichsen, in arranging the broadcast. During the booster part of the broadcast, the station will publicize the Korn Karnival of the following week, inviting everyone in the larger New KOIL area to come to Plattsmouth for the celebration.

The program will start promptly at 4:30 in Plattsmouth, with the band and comedians opening the show. The flying mobile unit will fly over the city, an announcer in it conversing with the announcer on the ground station by short wave radio, talking about the town of schools, its civic activities.

More entertainment will follow, and then the announcer will conduct a man-on-the-street broadcast for about ten minutes, interviewing Plattsmouth residents on current problems, completing the half-hour broadcast.

However, the program will not stop then. The entertainers will remain for another half hour, presenting a lively vaudeville show from the broadcast scene. The full-hour show will be all free.

KOIL will further honor Plattsmouth by presenting a farmer from this vicinity on a chain broadcast over the coast-to-coast network on the Mutual Broadcasting System.

The farmer, to be chosen by the Chamber of Commerce, will be the guest of KOIL in Omaha either on Tuesday or Thursday, the days on which the New KOIL will present evening dedication broadcasts over the network direct from the stage of the Omaha Electric Show. These chain broadcasts will feature farmer interviews on crop conditions in Nebraska, a Chicago master of ceremonies and Red Nichols and his famous band.

The New KOIL transmitter, reason for these special broadcasts, is nearing completion, with the big 310-foot Truscon vertical radiator already finished. This latest type antenna, including nine miles of copper wire, replaces the old-fashioned twin towers that KOIL and hundreds of other stations are still using.

The new transmitter is located two miles east of the South Omaha bridge, on the moist bottom lands of the Iowa side of the Missouri river. This radical departure in location is also the newest idea—engineers now recommend low moist land instead of the hilltop locations so eagerly sought until only a year ago.

The transmitter itself is the very latest RCA equipment—so new and so different that its serial number is No. 1. This machinery has already been moved into the new building and KOIL and RCA engineers are now busy wiring and connecting its many parts.

The complete list of towns which will be saluted by the New KOIL the week of September 13 follows: Miscouri Valley, Atlantic, Harlan, Glenwood and Red Oak, Iowa; Blair, Wahoo, Plattsmouth, Fremont and Columbus, Nebraska.

The two cases will be heard on Monday afternoon before Judge A. H. Duxbury.

Will Appeal to the Courts for Assistance Funds

State Officials to Move in Effort to Secure Deeded Funds for Aged, Blind, Dependent Children

LINCOLN, Aug. 21 (UP)—State officials today resolved on an appeal to the courts in an effort to obtain $1,083,000 in idle assistance funds which State Treasurer Walter H. Jensen refuses to give up without legal action.

Jensen has declined to release any of the fund because he feels possible liability from law suits filed by oil dealers to recover gasoline tax money collected under the 1925 assistance act which was later invalidated. Nell C. Vandermore was to confer with the attorney general's office to determine the proper court in which to file action. "It's a question whether the district court will be more expedient than the supreme court as the high court does not convene until September 20," he said. "We would like to get the money as soon as possible." Jensen has indicated, however, he will accept nothing less than a supreme court ruling. State assistance coffers have sufficient money now with receipt of the quarterly allotment of federal funds to carry the program for a while so Vandermore may delay action until the high court meets.

Vandermore said he desired to make clear that old age, blind and dependent assistance recipients will not be given larger grants if the court orders release of the $1,083 fund. "It will just help to make up a $7,500 biennial state assistance appropriation which we explained."

RAIN BRINGS BENEFIT

From Friday's Daily—This morning shortly after 3 o'clock this community was visited by a very fine shower that gave us .38 of an inch of added moisture which with the rain of Wednesday night raised the total to an inch for this city.

The surrounding community also received a thorough drenching by the rain and which will be of the greatest benefit not only to the corn which has been in very critical condition as the result of the prolonged drouth and hot weather, but to pastures and other vegetation.

Cool and cloudy weather and slight showers made the day pleasant and helped retain the moisture that had fallen during the night over this area.

The rains and the apparent break of the extreme heat and dryness makes it almost assured that there will be a corn crop in this section of Cass county at least.

ATTEND COMMUNITY PICNIC

Sheriff Homer Sylvester and Deputy Sheriff Cass Sylvester were at Alvo Thursday where they attended the community picnic which was held by the residents of that section of Cass county.

The attendance was very large and the program arranged was one that was enjoyed to the utmost by the audience.

The occasion brought together many of the old friends in that part of the county to join in the day of visiting.

Nurse Ravished and Slain at Chicago Today

Fiend Discovered by Roommate of Slain Girl as He Made Escape Down Fire Escape.

CHICAGO, Aug. 21 (UP)—A 19-year-old student nurse was ravished and slain in the Chicago hospital today—the 13th victim of sex maniacs in two years.

Police assigned extra squads to hunt for a "long-armed" Negro seen near the hospital.

The victim was Miss Anna Kuchta, member of a South Side Russian immigrant family. She had been a student nurse for 9 months.

The crime was discovered only a moment after it happened by Miss Florence Palmowski, 18, Miss Kuchta's room mate. Miss Palmowski went to awaken the other girl after Miss Kuchta's two-hour rest period.

As she opened the door she spied the nude body of the nurse near the window. A dark man in a white shirt, dark trousers and cap had one foot out the window. He clattered quickly down the fire escape while Miss Palmowski's screams awakened the hospital.

Miss Kuchta's head had been battered with a brick which was found outside the window. Her body was bruised and scratched. Police said she had been assaulted.

The attack occurred like many in recent months. The criminal had mounted a fire escape and entered the room through a loose screen. On August 7, Miss Palmowski had screamed and routed a Negro from the same fire escape used today. Three days later a nurse had seen a Negro remove a screen from the window of her room and had frightened him away by screaming. A police squad was posted at the hospital but withdrawn after four hours of fruitless vigil.

Earlier this year a Negro had slashed Miss Marcella Miles, 26, night superintendent of nurses with a razor blade when she refused to give him narcotics. That man was sentenced to a year in jail.

Descriptions of the criminal in today's crime indicated that he might have been a drug addict.

The mothers expressed their appreciation to the leaders for their time and help with the club work.

All the girls brought cup cakes and cookies which were very delicious and were used in the serving.

Six girls assisted Mrs. Martin in the serving.

At the close of the meeting kodak pictures were taken of the club by Shirley Martin. All the girls want to take 4-H work again. The club wishes to thank Mrs. Hilt Martin for the use of her home for their achievement day program and the Journal for printing the weekly reports.

RETURNS TO THE EAST

Miss Ursula Herold departed Thursday night on the Ak-Sar-Ben for the east where she will resume her teaching work at the Pratt Institute at Brooklyn. Miss Herold has been spending the summer here with her mother, Mrs. Henry Herold and her aunts, Misses Mia and Barbara Gerwig.

While here she has been entertained at a large number of social events in her honor.

Recall Pioneer Plattsmouth Program from WOW

Then as Now, Plattsmouth First to Help Initiate New Wave and Power Increase in 1923

Selection of Plattsmouth as one of the five Nebraska towns to be honored during the opening week of KOIL's new transmitter recalls to mind the Plattsmouth community program on the night of May 15th, 1923 (fourteen years ago)—the first community program ever broadcast over the then pioneer radio station of WOW—arranged through co-operation with the Plattsmouth Chamber of Commerce. At that time the Journal's radio editor, after listening to various community programs from WBAP, Fort Worth, on which Bermuda onions were aired (verbally only, thank goodness) conceived the idea of a Plattsmouth program over WOW, then a small power station, and contacted Orson Stiles, in charge of radio operations. Gene Rouse now a chain program director, and announcer in Chicago was chief announcer and Lester Palmer, substitute announcer.

Soon after this contact was made a date was arranged—a memorable date in WOW history, for it was on that night and in the middle of the Plattsmouth program that WOW changed from its old to its present wavelength and stepped up its power considerably—a trivial amount compared to power standards now. With a program date, it became necessary to get a program, and Hilt Wescott, then as now Chamber of Commerce secretary, and Ed Schulhof came to our assistance. The result was a fine community program—as old timers in radio circles will recall. People gathered in the few homes that had home-built radios and listened intently as the broadcast was stepped up from earphones through phonograph horns or the crude loud-speakers of those days. Scarl Davis spoke the good words for Plattsmouth and Percy Fields wrote and collaborated in the singing of the "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Sheehan" parody with its take-offs on Mr. Davis and other local personalities. Edna Marshall Eaton sang two solo numbers—and between them the power was shut off and the switch made to the new wavelength. The program was a grand success and brought appreciation letters and telegrams from the four corners of the nation, with a few from Canada. Other towns followed suit—among them Shenandoah (represented by Henry Field just two weeks after our program). Out of this and one later one, Field conceived the idea of a station of his own and set about arranging it, as he gave the fans his promise true never to inflict child prodigies upon a listening public and to "pull the plug" on any speaker who attempted to hold the "mike" longer than two minutes.
