Nehawka

Members of the Rebekah lodge are giving a card party this (Thursday) evening.

J. H. Steffens and wife were in Omaha Monday afternoon, transacting business matters.

Roy Burton has been suffering from an infected finger that has required treatment by Dr. Walters.

Frank Lemon and wife were in Nebraska City last Sunday evening, attending a show at the Overland theatre.

Mrs. Albert Anderson assisted with the work at the J. H. Steffens store during the time Mr. and Mrs. Steffens were in Omaha Monday.

W. A. Stoll and son Elmer were in Weeping Water, Louisville and Elmwood Monday, having business to transact at each of these towns.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Dane of Iowa City, Iowa, visited in Nehawka the greater part of last week, being guests at the home of Stuart Rough and other relatives and friends. They returned home Monday.

Frank Lemon and wife went to Weeping Water Wednesday, where Mr. Lemon took his examination for a renewal of his driver's license, thus being saved a trip to the county seat for this purpose.

George C. Sheldon and Wm. Obernaulte and Charles Keltner of Rockford, Illinois, who with the wife are here called to attend the funeral of Mr. Martin Weller, and have been guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs.

Obernaulte, were over to the hybrid corn demonstration.

Thomas Mason, rural mail carrier, and wife, were in Lincoln last Saturday, where they attended the Nebraska-Minnesota football game, and along with most of the 35,999 other spectators, enjoyed seeing the Cornhuskers emerge victorious from a very hard fought battle.

Postmistress L. McReynolds was a guest of friends in Omaha several days during the past week. She expects to leave Saturday of this week for Washington, D. C., where she will attend the national convention of postmasters and postmistresses to be held there during the fore part of next week.

Hawkins Scott, of Downs, Kansas, an extra agent for the Missouri Pacific, has been in Nehawka for the past week looking after business at the local Missouri Pacific station. He will remain here until the newly appointed regular agent, Mr. McCannaha arrives, when he will be sent somewhere else in his capacity of a relief agent.

Will Visit in Texas

Stuart Rough and R. C. Deles Derrier and wife left Monday for Austin, Texas, where they expect to spend a week or ten days at the home of a daughter of Mr. Rough. Shortly after their return home, Mr. Rough plans to leave for California, where he will spend the winter at the home of his son, S. B. Rough and family.

Bible School Lesson Study!

Sunday, October 10th By L. Neitzel, Murdock, Neb.

"The Christian in God's Keeping"

Jude 1:4; 17-25.

While the 121st Psalm is not included in the lesson, we should give it some attention. It is called "The Traveler's Psalm," and was sung by them at their pilgrimages to Jerusalem. They were beset by dangers on the way. As the traveler looks up to the hills, he raises his face naturally up and looks up to Sinai, where God gave the law for man's guidance; he looks to Calvary where the price for man's redemption was paid; he looks to Olivet from which Christ went home to dispense the blessings of the great redemption—the hills from whence cometh my help. We seem to hear in it the voices of the pilgrims of encouraging one another with words of faith and hope. They expect their help from Him who made heaven and earth. He would be able to keep and protect individuals, no matter how great the danger.

This Psalm is a condemnation of the many promises God gave in the ages gone before. We think of what God said to Jacob the night he fell asleep at Bethel, after leaving his father's home in sorrow: "Behold, I am with thee and will keep thee whithersoever thou goest, and will bring thee back again into this land; for I will not leave thee until I have done that which I have spoken to thee of." (Gen. 28:15). So hundreds of years later, the Lord said to Moses: "Behold, I send an angel before thee to keep thee by the way, and to bring thee into the place which I have prepared." (Ex. 23:20).

We now turn to Jude and listen to him. We need not spend much time about the writer of this epistle—he is the cousin of Jesus—the son of the "other Mary," wife of Clopas. We find him a man of deep understanding; we infer this of his alluding to the fall of the devil (verse 6), to pointing to the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah (verse 7); the death of Moses (verse 9); the end of Belshazzar who went the way of Cain—here Cain's sin is pointed out; this epistle is addressed to saints who are exhorted to "earnestly contend" exert oneself.

But then the same language is used, here as in Psalm 121. The word "to keep" expresses watchful care and suggests a present possession. It is the same word used three times by our Lord: "Holy father, keep them in thy name, which thou hast given me." (John 17:11).

While I was with them, I kept them in thy name." (Verse 12). "I pray that thou shouldst keep them from the evil." (Verse 15). The "keeping" of God's Saints is a part of our "calling" and the fact of our being loved by God. If we abide in God, we are kept day by day from those things which would harm our souls, rob us of the riches we have in Christ Jesus, such as peace, joy, power and love, from that which would destroy the effectiveness of our testimony to the Lord Jesus and our usefulness to him.

The great enemy of our soul is Satan. That which alone can come between us and God is sin. Think of Jesus as the shepherd who protects his sheep. This assurance given to the saints was really needed, because of the terrible situation that had arisen in the Christian church when Jude wrote. Men had entered the church that caused separation, sensual, had men (verse 19) of which the disciples had been warned (verse 18) and this warning is for the church today. "The last time" refers to the second event of our Lord, and must be heeded all the time. Under these circumstances the church is exhorted to be active—get busy—while thus being employed in "building up yourselves on your most holy faith, and praying in the Holy Ghost," there is little danger that the devil will get in his destructive work; it is the idle, lazy, drowsy, lethargic church where the devil gets in his nefarious work. As long as we "keep ourselves in the love of God" we are safe. (See John 14:15; 21). As souls are washed in the blood of Christ, they must keep their garments clean—"who washed us from our own sins in his own blood." (Rev. 1:5). We conclude by observing the greatness of God and the greatness of His preservations. The concluding sentence of Jude's epistle is the richest doxology in the New Testament.

To "guard" here means to "watch over"—to "keep watch." He who never "sleeps nor slumbers" is able to do this, no one else could be trusted. It is the Christian's business to keep himself clean, and he can do it through Christ who will give strength. And it is to the glory of Jesus Christ, to present to the father his bride, to the church—"without blemish in exceeding joy." What a glorious day that will be—the marriage of the Lamb and his bride. See Rev. 19:3.

bert, accompanied by Mrs. Gilbert, visited in Nehawka last Sunday, Rev. Gilbert conducting the morning service at the Methodist church here. Following this service, the regular quarterly conference of the church was held.

Grading Almost Completed

The matter of straightening the road running north from Nehawka, is proceeding very nicely now. The trees were first cut and then the stumps were blasted. Following this a drag line and other methods of grading have been brought into play, throwing up a well drained roadway. Soon the new bridge now under construction will be completed. It will be twice as long as the old bridge that spanned the creek at this point and ample width to carry two ordinary lines of traffic. The new road will be a great improvement, doing away with dangerous curves and all of weather construction eliminating the mud.

Many Attended Football Game

Last Saturday was a gala occasion for the football fans of Nebraska, with Lincoln the mecca of many thousands. Nehawka contributed its full quota to the crowd of 36,000 that packed Memorial Stadium when the opening whistle was sounded. Among those from here present were R. C. Pollard and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Vilas P. Sheldon, Prof. and Mrs. Glen LeDoyt, Superintendent C. E. Stimbart and Marion N. Tucker. It was a great game and a complete upset in the sport world, as the Golden Gophers were touted by all the sports writers to take the Cornhuskers by at least two touchdowns margin. Representatives of many big eastern teams were present to scout the game.

Supt. Stimbart says the going was plenty rough at times as the opposing teams gave everything they had to achieve victory. One of the Cornhusker players suffered severe injuries but is now reported as out of danger at a Lincoln hospital, where he was rushed by ambulance.

Bible School Convention Later

The Bible school convention that was slated to be held October 11 at the Methodist church in Nehawka has been postponed for a day and will be held on October 12 at the same place and with no change in the program. Remember the change in date and try to attend.

Here from the West

Paul Meyer from the western part of the state, where there was very little corn raised this year, arrived last week and was seeking a place to pick corn, saying he wanted to keep in trim. He found work with A. J. Ross and went to work Monday morning.

Martin Weller Passes.

Martin Weller of Auburn, 84 years of age, father of Mrs. Wm. Obernaulte died at his home in Auburn on Friday of last week, the funeral being held at Auburn last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Obernaulte of Nehawka were over to the funeral. Those to mourn the passing of this excellent man were C. E. Weller and family of Omaha, Charles J. Keltner and wife of Rockford, Illinois, George Weller of Rawlins, Wyo., Wm. Obernaulte and wife. They were all here to pay their last respects to this wonderful man and to visit with the mother.

Hears Sister Very Ill.

Harvey Gregg received a message telling of the very serious illness of his sister, Mrs. Grace Chamber where she and her children make their home. As soon as Mr. Gregg received this message he immediately departed for the mountain city to be with the sister and do what possible for her recovery.

CANADA REAPS LOWEST WHEAT CROP SINCE '14

OTTAWA, Ont. (UP)—Canada's 1937 wheat crop, ravaged by the worst drought in history, will be the smallest in 23 years. The Dominion bureau of statistics, in its first crop estimate, forecasts that the harvest this year will be approximately 188,191,000 bushels, compared with 229,218,000 bushels in 1936.

The 1937 crop, although approximately 30,000,000 bushels higher than earlier estimates, will be the lowest since 1914 when a crop of 161,000,000 bushels was harvested from an acreage only four-tenths the size of the 1937 acreage.

The bureau said the drought damage in 1937, particularly in Saskatchewan, was the worst in the history of the Prairie Provinces, and the average yield per acre was the lowest on record.

Persistency is what gets results in advertising.

Murray

Ray Frederick, of Nebraska City, was looking after business matters in Murray Monday of this week.

Chester Shrader and wife of South Omaha were guests last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Nickles.

Mrs. Vesta Clarke was a guest at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edgar Newton, in Plattsmouth, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Read of Cedar Creek were guests last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Richter, all enjoying a pleasant visit and a fine dinner as well.

Messrs and Mesdames A. F. Hansen and Fred L. Hill were in Auburn last Sunday, where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Weller, mother of Mrs. William Obernaulte.

Bud Poynter, who has been visiting his brother, Archie Poynter here for several weeks, departed last week for Belle Plaine, Iowa, where he will spend some time visiting relatives.

Otto Wohlforth, of Plattsmouth, salesman for the Cass County Chevrolet company, was calling on prospective car buyers here Monday. A new Chevy model will be out in the near future.

J. A. Davis was over to near Murdock last Tuesday afternoon attending the demonstration and checking up on material of the planting of the various hybrid corn which has been grown on the farm of Herman Schewpe this year.

Visit from the Stork

A young man tipping the scales at ten pounds arrived via the stork route last Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Font Wilson—not their son, but a grandson, being the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sedlak. The mother was formerly Miss Mae Wilson. All concerned are doing nicely, even Grandfather Font T. Wilson.

Visiting Friends Here

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Byrne of Willmuthville, Mo., have been visiting in Murray and Plattsmouth during the past week. In Plattsmouth, they were guests at the home of their daughter, Mrs. J. J. Smock and family. In Murray they were guests at the home of Noah Parker. Last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Parker and his father Ira Parker drove to Plattsmouth to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Smock.

Hold Family Dinner Sunday

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Sporer last Sunday there was a family dinner held which brought together a large number of the relatives. Those present included the family of Guy Keiser, A. W. Leonard and Forest Leonard, all of the vicinity of Murray and Mynard, and J. W. Keiser and a number of relatives from Omaha. William Sporer, father of Martin Sporer, was also a guest at the home.

Met in San Francisco

A letter from San Francisco received here Monday tells of Joe Richter and Ethan Allen, who started a few days before Van Allen and Verle Poits for that destination, having to stop en route for repairs to their car and being overtaken by the latter two young men, and all being together in "Frisco." The two parties had just located each other and were undecided just what they were going to do, but expected to make a canvass of the city for work at the earliest possible moment.

Business Visitor Here

R. H. Thorpe, who was congressman from this district for a short time a few years ago when elected to fill a vacancy, with R. H. Stalrup, both of Lincoln, were looking after business matters here during the past week, connected with the insurance companies they represent. During their stay, they visited their friend, Albert Wheeler.

A Record for Work

In one day's time, the fore part of this week, Tom Nelson, the hustling assistant at the Murray lumber yard, unassisted, sunk a 40 foot well that brought him a plentiful supply of water. Securing a post auger, with some extension piping, he stuck to the job perseveringly and completed it the same day, although he has yet to put down the casing. He is using tiling for this and expects to finish that part of the job soon.

Many are having a serious time getting water, with old wells going dry.

Double Funeral Held Sunday

The funeral of the late Mrs. Verna Margaret Baker and their four-year-old son, Ronald Dean Baker, who were killed in an auto truck crash at the Murray corner, was held Sunday at the Lewiston community center church Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. W. A. Taylor of Union. A large number of friends of the deceased woman were present, not nearly all of whom were able to get into the church. Sattler Funeral home of Plattsmouth was in charge. Mrs. Baker was born March 13, 1900, and united in marriage to Dick Baker November 6, 1916. To this union three children were born, a daughter Clara, the son Ronald Dean and a younger son Roy, now one year old.

Besides the husband and two children, she leaves to mourn her passing two sisters, Mrs. Muriel Murray, of Summerfield, Kansas, and Mrs. Hazel Hull of Union.

The death of Mrs. Baker and son was one of the saddest accidents that comes to the ordinary family. En route to Plattsmouth to look after business matters, they were destined to get no further than the Murray corner where grim death overtook them, claiming the lives of the mother and son.

Rev. Taylor brought words of sympathy and hope to the bereaved relatives and friends, and the bodies were tenderly laid to rest in the Lewiston cemetery.

Passes Away in California

Mrs. Elizabeth McCullough, nee Sporer, of Los Angeles, where she had resided for more than twenty-five years, passed away at her home there on August 31st, at the age of 66 years, following an illness of more than a year's duration.

Mrs. McCullough was born in Wisconsin, coming to Nebraska when a comparatively young girl, and making her home west of Murray. She was well known among the older residents here, being a sister of William Sporer.

The funeral was conducted at the Mottels Mortuary Chapel in Long Beach on September 2, and interment was in the Los Angeles Abby Mausoleum.

Funeral of Mrs. Coble.

The funeral of Mrs. W. M. Coble, mother of Mrs. Will A. Minford, of Murray, was held at the Braley and Dorrance funeral home in Omaha, on October 2, 1937.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. Gallagher of the St. Andrews Episcopal church, of which Mrs. Coble was a member. Rev. Gallagher paid tribute to the worthy life led by Mrs. Coble and the high esteem in which she was held by all who knew her.

An impressive part of the service was the passing before the casket of the uniformed mail carriers from the Omaha post office in respect for W. M. Coble, who was their superior officer for many years.

The casket was covered by a blanket of pink roses and baby's breath and made a very beautiful last tribute by the friends.

Farley Offers Condolence.

Postmaster General James A. Farley called Mr. W. M. Coble and Mrs. Will Minford to express his sympathy on his recent visit to Omaha. Mr. Coble and Mr. Farley are personal friends.

Mr. Coble spent many years in the postal service and Mr. Farley expressed his sympathy for the death of Mrs. Coble. Mrs. Coble was the mother of Mrs. William Minford of Murray.

GOOD DUCK WEATHER

LINCOLN, Oct. 6. (UP)—Cooler weather today was welcome by sportsmen as they prepared for the opening of the duck hunting season at 7 a. m. Saturday.

Frank B. O'Connell, chief state conservation officer, said reports from the Dakota's indicated a plentiful supply of waterfowl this year. The lower temperatures were expected to put the game birds to flight.

Legal hunting hours are from 7 a. m. to 4 p. m. and the season closes Nov. 7. Five geese and ten ducks are the daily shooting and possession limits. The season will be closed on wood canvasback, redhead, ruddy and buff head species of ducks.

MASS KILLINGS ORDERED

MOSCOW, Oct. 6 (UP)—Six persons were executed and nine others sentenced today on charges of counter-revolutions, attempting to restore capitalism and "brain wrecking."
