WAVES DEPOSIT COINS OF EARLY 18TH CENTURY

REHOBOTH BEACH, Del. (UP)—Eighteenth century copper coins were washed upon the beach recently in the vicinity of Indian River Inlet.

The coins were found near the edge of the breakers where incoming waves beat on a low shelf in the sand. They were of Irish and English vintage of the early 1700s.

Many such coins have been found before by residents of this resort—usually following a northeasterly storm. Coin collectors from far parts of the country have traveled here in search of the old pieces.

Occasionally a few gold and silver pieces are found on the beach or back among the dunes and residents here have quite an array of collections.

It is believed that the money comes from wrecks of sailing vessels of the 18th century known to have gone down around Cape Henlopen and Indian River.

WORLD EATS SAUSAGES. 6 BILLION POUNDS IN YEAR

NEW ORLEANS (UP)—If all the sausages consumed annually in the United States were laid end-to-end they would—

Well, they would (1) weigh 6,000,000,000 pounds, and (2) be valued at about $1,680,000,000, according to Herbert J. Altheimer, special representative for a packing firm.

QUIET RUMORS

SOESTDIJK CASTLE, The Netherlands, Jan. 14 (UP)—The crowd outside the royal palace thinned out today upon announcement by the Royal Ostrepetition that the birth of an heir to Crown Princess Juliana was not expected immediately. The frequent public appearances of the crown princess lent credence to the announcement.

SPARROWS KEEP WARM BESIDE ELECTRIC BULBS

EAST BRIDGEWATER, Mass. (UP)—One hundred English sparrows have solved the problem of surviving in comfort New England's chilly winter.

Nightly a bird perches on each of 100 light sockets on Parker's roadside stand and keeps warm by snuggling against the lighted bulb.

RESOURCEFUL CAT AMAZES

GUIDE PICTURES DEATH BATTLE OF TWO DEER

RED LODGE, Mont. (UP)—A battle to the death between two buck deer, near the Red Lodge-Cooke City highway to Yellowstone Park, was described by "Pack Saddle" Ben Greenough, veteran Beartooth mountain guide and rancher.

The deer, thrashing about in the underbrush, their horns locked, first were seen by Bill Greenough, a famous rodeo rider. He immediately summoned his father, Ben, and his two sisters.

While the deer battled, a noose was thrown about their interlocked horns, but attempts to part them were unsuccessful. They exchanged blows with their sharp hooves, and twisted and shook their interlocked antlers, striving to get in the death blow.

One buck, older than its opponent, became exhausted, and sank to the ground. It was quickly killed by the pawing hooves of the conqueror, who stood with lowered head, its horns still locked with those of the foe.

Usual fate, Greenough said, of the winner of a forest battle is starvation, because the animal is unable to free itself from the victim.

The Greenoughs freed the younger buck, however, and it trotted into the forest without a backward glance. The Greenoughs plan to have the seven-point head of the victim mounted for their collection.

RELIEF CLIENT PAYS IN FULL TO EASE PRIDE

LARAMIE, Wyo. (UP)—In what since has been characterized the "spirit of the old West," Charles H. Trahan, 70, walked into the Albany county welfare office and paid back in full the relief money he had been given.

"I owe this money and I want to pay it back," he told the county welfare officers.

He laid $350 on the table—the aggregate amount he had received in small monthly allowances during a year and a half.

Trahan recently sold a ranch for $3,500. His first act afterward was to pay back the relief money "so I can hold up my head again."

"I'm glad to get this relief business off my mind," the aged man said as he stalked out of the office.

The child has feared feathers since she was a baby and refuses to eat any fowl meat, according to Mrs. Tedarello.

FISH PREFER RED MACARONI

PROVINCETOWN, Mass. (UP)—Fish prefer Italian macaroni dyed red. If a boatload of hake is proof, Lawrence Johnson, 24, used that bait with that result. Old-time fishermen, denouncing the departure, continue to stand by their reliable worms.

Seed Supply Situation Forecasts Shortage

Lack of Suitable Seed Is Marked and Prices of All Lines Are Much Higher.

With Cass county farmers beginning to think already about spring plantings of crops, attention is increasing on the available supply of seeds of various kinds and prospective prices. The situation is unfavorable as it relates to some crops and favorable for other crop seeds.

There apparently is a good supply of sorghum seed. Prices are reasonable. Even certified seed of such superior varieties as Atlas Sorgo is selling at prices about half of those of last year.

Legume seed supplies in general though are short. Prices are high. Alfalfa seed is the highest in 18 years with a very limited supply of good northern grown adapted seed. The fact that southwestern states harvested a fairly good seed crop does not materially help the situation here since the seed of southern origin is not adapted to growing conditions in northern states.

With the seed shortage and high prices, Cass county farmers will do well to be on the lookout for unadapted seed such as comes from the south. Also for imported seed, adaptation of which is questionable. The imported seed though is easy to recognize because of staining requirements.

Red clover, white clover and alsike clover seed prices are very high also. Supplies of sweet clover seed are somewhat more plentiful this year but prices will be high because of the shortage of other legume seeds. Many farmers will probably use sweet clover where normally they would plant alfalfa.

Grass seed supplies are in general more plentiful than for several years. The supply of bluegrass is unusually good and the price relatively low. Bromgrass seed, the most highly recommended grass for Nebraska pasture purposes, is not plentiful but in sympathy with the lower prices of other grass seeds, the price is materially below last year. Because of the lower grass seed prices, there will undoubtedly be a tendency among farmers to use more grass seed in their mixtures and relatively less legumes than they would ordinarily.

AGED MAN DROWNS

CAMBRIDGE, Neb., Jan. 19 (UP)—The body of Albert Downey, 81, Cambridge pioneer was discovered last night in the waters of Medicine creek just above the Cambridge Mill dam. It was believed the aged man fell while attempting to walk across the dam on their way from Cambridge to his home half a mile east of here Monday night.

CO-EDS DEMAND MEN PRESENT BETTER FRONT

KENT, O. (UP)—The men of Kent State University had better put up a "stiff-shirt" front at campus social events or they won't have any Kent co-eds for dancing partners.

An indignant co-ed released her pent-up feelings on the subject in a letter to the campus newspaper. In it she protested against men students attired in "checked shirts and leather jerkins" at dances.

She said: "We give a dance, everything is lovely, then what? Most of the men turn up looking as out of place as tin forks at a banquet."

MORE CATTLE OR FEED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (UP)—In the eleven corn belt states the number of cattle on feed for market on January 1 was 15 per cent higher than last year, the bureau of agricultural economics reported today.

BOWLING NOTES

From Wednesday's Daily—
The Recreation team won two games from the Engineers last night. Dr. Westover was shooting up to average with a 572 series. Winscott was runnerup with a 525 series. That puts the Recreation team in 4th place. Ray Misner held the Engineers up with a 479 series. Seitz was second with a 451 series.

Wimpys won two games from the BREX. Carl Hula got hot and shot a 243, making his series 544. Ray Bourne shot a 529 series. Something must be wrong with Bourne, he usually shoots around 675 series. Wimpys himself wasn't so bad with a 478 series.

The BREX couldn't get hot last night for some reason. Dasher was high man with a 464 series. Hall was second with a 426. The BREX was short a man. If Aylor had been present there would have been some difference in the games.

YOUTH CHANGES LITTLE, SAYS VETERAN TEACHER

MINERAL POINT, Wis. (UP)—Children "seem none the worse for the greater liberties they are permitted these days," according to Miss Etta Nal, who has ended 52 years of teaching school.

Modern youngsters "are pretty much the same as they were 50 years ago," said the veteran teacher as she wiped the last childish scrawl from the blackboard in the second grade classroom here and went into retirement.
