Air Mail Week to be Observed in Plattsmouth

Plattsmouth to Have First Airplane Pickup of Mail Next Thursday May 19.

Plattsmouth as well as thousands of communities over the United States will join in the observance of Air Mail Week, set aside by the postal department as a recognition of the twentieth anniversary of the establishing of the first air mail line.

Post office patrons are urged to send as much of their mail as possible by air during the week and to aid in the proper placing of the city before the world, special envelopes have been arranged at the Journal that will carry a message on Plattsmouth to all to whom the mail may be consigned.

The week will open on Sunday, May 15th and will continue through the week, ending Saturday, May 21.

The first flight of heavier than air craft, was made by Orville and Wilbur Wright at Kitty Hawk, North Carolina, December 17, 1903, but the first air mail flight on regular schedule was between New York and Washington, May 15, 1918, a distance of 218 miles, taking two and a half hours. Mail is now handled from Omaha to Chicago in less time than that.

The mail pickup here will be on Thursday noon, the plane arriving here from the south at 12:26 and remaining until 12:31. The plane will land at the Stull hay meadow, north of this city on the east side of highway No. 75. No one will be allowed on the field—but one border will be designated for parking for those who wish to witness the pickup. Those wishing to have mail go on the first flight, may mail their letters anytime during the week, marked "First Flight." All mail for the first flight must be in the postoffice by 11 a. m. on Thursday, May 19th. Postmaster Cummins has secured a special stamp to use on the mail. "First Air Mail Flight From Plattsmouth, Nebraska, May 19, 1938, National Air Mail Week."

Cass county has no bonded indebtedness, as, like the state, we have paid cash for our hard surfaced roads and other improvements as we went.
