NOTABLE DAY IN HISTORY
One of the most notable days in history was May 24th, on the evening of that day John Wesley went unwillingly to a church service in Aldersgate street, London. An unknown man was reading Luther's preface to the Romans. About a quarter to nine, while describing the change which God works in the heart through faith in Christ, "I felt my heart strangely warmed," said Wesley. "I felt I did trust in Christ alone for salvation, and assurance was given me that He had taken away my sins—even mine, and saved me from the law of sin and death." That event changed the history of a whole nation and had far reaching effects upon the beginning of our own country. Methodists throughout this and other nationalities
