SEE GREAT WHEAT CROP

CHICAGO, June 1 (UP)—Mrs. E. H. Miller, grain expert for Shields and Co. forecast today the largest United States wheat crop in history for 1938, exceeding by 37,000,000 bushels the previous record of 1,009,000,000 bushels harvested in 1915.

The report estimated winter wheat would yield 768,913,000 bushels and spring wheat 278,000,000 bushels for a total 1938 crop of 1,046,900,000 bushels.

Mrs. Miller's estimate for winter wheat a month ago was 719,000,000 and the government forecast in May estimated 754,153,000 bushels. Her estimate for spring wheat was nearly half again as much as the 189,000,000 bushels harvested last year.

Favorable weather in May was cited in improved prospects although the report pointed out that since the data was gathered there have been reliable reports of black rust damage in Kansas.

ADJUST LIVESTOCK RATES

LINCOLN, May 31 (UP)—The state railway commission today announced the realignment of rates for shipment of livestock by truck, effective June 15.

The report, approved by a 2 to 1 decision with Chairman Floyd L. Bollen not voting, provides for a reduction in the haul rates to local markets and increased charges on long hauls to meet objections of truckers and shippers presented at hearings held throughout the state.

The commission suspended its original livestock tariff soon after it was promulgated February 14 because of numerous protests.

Commissioner F. A. Good put the motion that led to adoption of today's report and Commissioner Will Maupin concurred. Chairman Bollen passed because, he said, he "did not know on what he was voting."

Under the new report truckers who use sand hill roads or trails to pick up shipments may make an additional charge by agreement with the shipper from a point on the nearest improved highway to destination. A special reduced pick-up charge likewise is provided for less than carload shipments.

The new tariff applies to a minimum truck load of 5,000 pounds and to all classes of livestock except sheep and goats, for which a 32c per hundredweight has been added.

Today's action by the commission was an informal report, usually followed by a formal announcement or order.

BANDITS CAPTURED HERE DENIED REVIEW; TO DIE

WASHINGTON, May 31 (UP)—The supreme court today denied a petition of Robert Suhay and Glen Applegate for a review of the 10th circuit court of appeals decision affirming their conviction on charges of murdering G-man Wimberly Baker in the Topeka, Kansas, postoffice in April, 1937.

The two, under sentence to hang as a result of their conviction, contended they were not given a fair trial in the federal district court at Topeka. They held up a bank at Katonah, New York, escaped with $18,000 and then drove to Topeka, going to the postoffice where they expected mail.

The federal bureau of investigation had learned of their plan and Baker and a colleague were awaiting them. A gun battle ensued in which Baker was killed. Suhay and Applegate later were captured at Plattsmouth by Sheriff Homer Sylvester and Deputy Sheriff Cass Sylvester.

Ring Dance is a Tradition of Naval Academy

Close of Third Year for Classmen Marked by Receiving Their Rings at Annual Dance.

Each year at the U. S. naval academy there is held the "ring dance" which to those outside the circle of midshipmen is a rather vague expression, but to the students and especially those of the junior class of the academy it is one of "the" events of the school and represents a traditional ceremony.

The ring, which is the fraternal symbol of the class has its inception at the beginning of the second class year when a ring committee is formed and which consists of one member elected from each company, one member elected at large from the class and the class president. This committee has the task of giving their class a ring and attending to all details of the designs that they may wish.

The ring bears on one side the naval traditional emblems and on the other the class designations while the other face of the ring bears the designation of the naval academy.

These rings are formally dedicated and presented at the "ring dance." The ceremonies are held in the Memorial hall, which provides a distinctly colonial charm for the ball and the ring ceremonies. A large tripod held three large giant white clam shells from Hawaii and which contained water from the Pacific, the Atlantic and the Gulf of Mexico, which are used in the christening of the rings.

The second class midshipmen had as their music for the "ring dance," Paul Whiteman, dean of modern music and his great orchestra to cap the climax of the beautiful and impressive traditional ceremonies that mark the advent of the class that will be the first class of 1939 and in whose ranks are many future admirals, commanders and captains of the navy.

HAVE BEAUTIFUL SERVICE

The worship hour at the Methodist church Sunday morning was especially dedicated as a memorial service and to which the patriotic societies had been invited.

There was a very large number of the members of the American Legion and Auxiliary in attendance at the services which were dedicated to the dead of the wars of the nation.

The choral and organ musical offerings added to the impressiveness of the service and Edgar S. Westcott, of Lincoln, sang "The Reconciliation," the musical setting of the famed Kipling poem.

Rev. J. C. Lowson had as the topic of his sermon, "A Great People," a very strong and able discourse. In his sermon the pastor presented the challenge that the present day makes to the men and women of America, the need of finding themselves and eradicating many of the evils that today are threatening our country and the world. To each generation must be given the task of solving their destinies, and the pastor pointed out was evidenced today. We must solve problems as those before us had done in order that they might give us to heritage of a great nation.

The pastor stressed the fact that today factories are loaded with manufactured goods, unable to sell them while hundreds of thousands are without proper clothing, surpluses of foodstuffs accumulate yet millions are idle and hungry. This is the task to make these needed adjustments, the speaker pointed out.

At the close of the service taps was sounded by Burton Rishel in honor of the dead of the nation.
