The Jolly Cooks judged their baking powder biscuits at their regular club meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Glenn Dimmitt.

In most instances it was the girls' first baking powder biscuits. All the biscuits were well baked, most all being of a golden brown. In some cases the girls decided that too much shortening had been used and just a little too much flour. But on a whole the results were very good for their first attempt at biscuit making.

Severe Wind Storms

Two wind storms of high velocity struck the Alvo vicinity within just a few days. Early Friday evening, the vicinity northeast of town was hit by high wind that was of well high cyclonic proportions and was accompanied by some hail.

A corn crib was blown over at the Harry Appleman farm, a barn was badly wrecked at the Zox farm and the roof blown from a farm house in the same community. Many trees and smaller buildings were blown over at other farm homes.

Wednesday night another storm hit that was more general over the entire community, did some damage to grain crops that were not harvested. Considerable hail was reported a couple of miles north of town. A high wind and pouring rain accompanied the storm.

Enjoying Visit Here

Edna Faith Schwab, of Sutton, Nebraska, came to visit her brother and family last week. She intends to stay a couple of weeks. She enjoyed the celebration of her 12th birthday last Wednesday at Murdock with her two sisters and brother and family.

Busy Season of the Year

The vicinity of Murdock, like all other places in this part of the country, is in the midst of harvesting and threshing work, with corn waiting to be laid by, and everyone doing their level best to get the work out of the way. This requires extremely long hours on the part of the farmers and many townpeople as well. In fact we have heard of a good number who have worked far into the night. But all are happy at the prospects for a crop and the influx of money it will bring, increasing buying power and helping to bring back prosperity—especially after the drought years we have experienced. Let's all keep our heads up and our chin out, continue to work hard and not gamble or speculate and some of these bright mornings we will wake up to find that elusive old man, Prosperity, has returned to our midst.

Severe Wind Storm

The wind storm that visited this section Friday of last week proved very destructive. The huge hay barn on the Frank E. Buell farm southwest of town was totally destroyed. The building was 28x80 feet in size and 28 feet high. The wind is said to have reached a velocity of nearly 75 miles an hour. The chimney was also blown off the house, the deck on the roof badly damaged and the corn crib blown out of line.

Andy Zox also reports damage to the barn on his farm that will cost considerable to repair. Over this part of the county generally, damage to farm buildings is reported, ranging from minor losses up to as high as several hundred dollars, much of it not covered by insurance.

Henry Carsten in Hospital

Henry (Slatts) Carson, who has not been well for some time, was taken to an Omaha hospital for treatment last week. He is afflicted with an internal tumor that will require an operation to correct, and expects to remain at the hospital for some time. His friend, Paul Guenker, of Lincoln, is looking after business at the elevator during Mr. Carson's illness.

Taken to Hospital for Treatment

Uncle Fred Deickman, who has arrived at an advanced age and has not been in the best of health for some time, was taken to the hospital for treatment recently and it may be that an operation will have to be performed on one of his feet. It is hoped that he may be able to return home from the hospital greatly improved and with the ailment of his foot entirely cured.

Fitted Good Horseshoes

Edward Ganaway went to Lincoln on the Fourth and celebrated Independence day at Belmont park, where a horseshoe pitching tournament was being held. Mr. Ganaway is an enthusiast in this line of sport and took a hand in the games, winning in both single and double competition. In the double pitching, he and his partner, a lad of 17, won the game, 22 to 7 points, and received a pair of pitching shoes and five gallons of Red Crown gasoline. In the single hand game, he won 13 to 8 over his opponent.

Returns After Extended Trip

Mrs. J. J. Arnold, housekeeper at the L. Neitzel home since the death of her sister, Mrs. Neitzel, left for a vacation some two months ago. At Wheaton, Ill., she was joined by her daughter, Rhoda, who resides in the state of New York, and they visited many points in Iowa, Illinois and Indiana. Last week they arrived in Murdock and have been visiting at the home of another sister of Mrs. Arnold, at Cedar Bluffs, as well as calling on relatives in Omaha and at Havelock. Mr. Neitzel has been taking them around in the car. The daughter is returning to Wheaton this week and from there will go on to her home in the east.

Wabash News

Frank W. Lorenz, of Elmwood, was a visitor in Wabash Wednesday of last week, looking after business matters.

Ezra Neban, who resides northwest of Murdock, was combining the wheat of Fred Bassie near Wabash last Wednesday. The yield is reported as very fair.

"Red" Core, of Louisville, an employee of the Nebraska Power company, was in Wabash last Wednesday afternoon reading meters for the lighting company.

Louis Schmidt and family drove to Omaha Saturday, July 2, after their daughter, Miss Geraldine, who came home to visit over the week end and the Fourth of July.

Mildred Stanley, who has been making her home in Lincoln, where she is employed by a mercantile establishment, visited at home over Sunday and the Fourth of July.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hinds and the children attended the Fourth of July band concert and baseball game at Louisville Monday afternoon, and from there drove to South Bend for the evening celebration at Lake Park. They report a very pleasant day.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hinds were over west of Elmwood at the home of Mrs. Hinds' mother, Mrs. Ellen Smith, on Thursday and Friday. While there, Mrs. Hinds assisted with the cooking for the men engaged in harvesting the wheat crop. They report Mrs. Smith was well pleased with the yield and quality of the grain.

While engaged in his regular farm work, one of the horses driven by Lloyd Colbert stepped into a hole about a foot deep, which seemed to stun the animal, causing it to sink to the ground. He hastened to secure assistance, and upon his return he found the animal dead. It is thought the horse sustained a ruptured artery and bled to death internally.

Everybody Busy with Harvest

With many in the midst of harvesting the small grain crop and a large corn acreage waiting to be laid by, the days are not long enough for most of the farmers to get their work done. From sunup until late at night, everyone is hustling, without taking time out to more than grab their meals and hustle back to work. The elevator at Wabash has been receiving a large amount of small grain and Mr. Marshall has secured Leslie Bothwell to assist him in taking care of the grain as it comes in. Quite a contrast from the past few years of drought—and all are hoping it will continue and a bountiful corn crop mature this fall, as that will contribute more than anything else to the general prosperity of the community.

Mrs. Wm. Rueter Better

Mrs. Wm. Rueter, who has been ill for some time and was in the hospital at Lincoln for a long time, where she underwent an operation, was able to return home last week and is continuing to improve. This will be pleasing news to her many friends.

Engaged General Kensington

The ladies of the Wabash General Kensington met last Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Richard, some distance west of Murdock. This is probably the most removed residence of any member and required a number of miles of travel, but most of the members were present and enjoyed a pleasant afternoon together.

Working at Alvo Elevator

John C. Browne, who has been showing good gains in health of late, has accepted an invitation from his friend, Simon Rehmeier, to come to Alvo and assist him at the elevator in handling the small grain crop that is now being marketed. Feeling sufficiently able, Mr. Browne has gone over to the neighboring town and is working each day, helping to take care of the grain that comes in.

Enjoyed Picnic in Wabash Park

For many years the reputation of Richards park at Wabash as a fine place for holding gatherings of all kinds was known over this territory. The park was well equipped with buildings, and had a large lagoon with boats thereon for the youngsters and their elders to enjoy, and plenty of shade.

4th, the families of Frank Colbert and Henry Gerbeling gathered there and enjoyed a fine picnic dinner, having fully as good a time as if they had gone many miles from home. Oftentimes we overlook the natural beauty spots in our home community and go far away in search of pleasure and recreation only to find that we could be best accommodated near at home.

SEADLUND TO DIE JULY 14

CHICAGO, July 8 (UP)—Federal Judge John P. Barnes today ordered that John Henry Seadlund die in the electric chair July 14 for the kidnap slaying of Charles Ross, wealthy retired manufacturer of greeting cards and valentines.
