Nehawka

Henry Sturm and housekeeper drove to Joseph Liggett's for two bushels of grapes last Sunday.

Charles Hemphill was called to Plattsmouth Wednesday of last week where he had some business matters to look after.

Tommy Mason, the rural carrier, with the family were enjoying a very pleasant visit with friends and relatives over the week-end at Omaha.

Gilbert Edmunds and family were down to Auburn last Sunday visiting at the home of relatives. They report the corn down that way as excellent.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McReynolds and daughter, Miss Lanna McReynolds, postmistress, were in Weeping Water Friday where they were attending the Cass county fair.

Grover Hoback and family as well as Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hemphill were at Weeping Water Friday, attending the county fair. They have not missed attending at least one day, generally the day of the school parade, for a number of days.

Frank Massie was attending the Cass county fair every day during its session. Mr. Massie, who has lived in Cass county now 80 years, knows most of the early settlers and likes to visit them and recall old times when the country was young.

Herbert Kuntz with the family who were enjoying a vacation of some two weeks in the north woods of Minnesota where they were enjoying outing with fishing, swimming and other sports, arrived home last week and tell of having a very fine time while they were away.

Put Business Place in Shape.
Lyle Kruger, who operates a cream and poultry station in the old livery barn, has made some changes in the interior, that he can hold poultry which he purchases until he gets a load for market or the market is favorable for their disposal. He has cleared away the inner partitions and arranged the place for community sales which he expects to start soon.

Held Funeral and Burial.
Charles McBride, formerly of near Nehawka, but who has been living near Elmwood for a number of years died last week. The remains were brought here, the funeral and burial being held here. A large number of friends and relatives from Elmwood were here to attend the funeral. Leonard Jackman and wife of Palmyra were also in attendance and following the funeral were guests at the Lyle Kruger home.

Gets Many Orders.
George C. Sheldon, manager of the Sheldon Manufacturing company plant in Nehawka, had his power loader at the county fair and received a number of orders which he will immediately make and ship to the clients who have purchased them. The device is attached to a truck and operated by a tractor, which loads anything from the ground into the truck without the hand hand work.

Had Bingo Games Saturday.
A device in the shape of bingo games were operated on the street last Saturday night, which attracted many people to town and it will also be held this coming Saturday night as an experiment in attracting people to town on Saturday nights and affording them amusement.

Has Excellent Corn.
C. H. Peck was in Plattsmouth last Monday with a lot of fine corn to be placed on exhibition at the King Korn Carnival. Mr. Peck and sons were winners of some very fine prizes on their exhibits last year, and have some very fine corn to exhibit this year. This is bottom grown corn and looks very fine.

Howe-Worley Wedding Held at Topeka

Groom Son of Former Residents of This City and Nephew of Miss Verna Leonard.

Miss Virginia Howe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Howe, and Max Edwin Worley were married at 2:30 Sunday at a ceremony performed at Grace cathedral in Topeka, Kansas. Dean John Warren Day officiated. Fall flowers and ferns formed the background. Winfield Eden of Lincoln sang.

Max Worley is a nephew of Miss Verna Leonard of this city. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay E. Worley, of Lincoln, are former residents of Plattsmouth.

The bride wore a wine colored velvet dress and a wine velvet off the face hat with a veil. She had a bouquet of Talisman roses. Mrs. Hal C. Davis, serving as matron of honor, wore teal blue velvet and small off the face hat of matching velvet. She carried red roses.

Best man was Fred Davis, Jr., and ushers were Carl Norden, Selmer Solheim, Robert Worley, Robert E. Johnson, Hal C. Davis and Warren Howe. A reception for relatives and out of town guests followed the ceremony and Mrs. John D. Armstrong, Mrs. Dwight Haney, Mrs. Gerald Hayes, Miss Ernestine Wilson, Miss Frances Cooper, Mrs. Loring Dalton and Mrs. Cheney Floyd served.

Lincoln guests at the wedding included: Messrs. and Mesdames J. E. Worley, Robert Worley, Winfield Eden, R. E. Johnson, Selmer Solheim, J. E. Backstrom, E. F. Search, Eugene Reed, Fred Bookstrom and Verne Hart, Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Reed, Miss Helen Ramsey, John M. Covington, Miss Evelyn Lorigo, Donald Bettenhausen and Carl Norden. Miss Verna Leonard of Plattsmouth also attended.

The couple will make their home in Lincoln after returning from their honeymoon. The bride wore for travel a dark brown tweed suit and matching accessories. The bridegroom is affiliated in business with his father at the Jay Worley Printing company.

RETURNS FROM EAST

Attorney D. C. Dwyer returned home Sunday from a very pleasant visit to the east where he spent the greater part of the time at Syracuse, New York, where his daughter and family reside. Major Hamilton Thorne, son-in-law of Mr. Dwyer, is in charge of the ROTC in New York and which embraces several large units at the colleges. Mr. Dwyer found the Thorne family doing well and reports that his twin granddaughters, Betty and Beverly, will graduate from the high school this year. The two grandsons, Tom and Craig, are in the grade schools.

On his way home Mr. Dwyer stopped at Adrian, Michigan, near where his old boyhood home is located and had a very pleasant visit with his brother, John Dwyer and family. Crops in that section are fine but the price being off has caused a great deal of dissatisfaction among the farmers.

Stopping at Chicago Mr. Dwyer found that there is a great deal of inactivity and many long established business houses are closing their doors and going out of business.

Burlington Veterans are Honor Guests

Chamber of Commerce and Railroad Officials Join in Celebrating of Coming of Burlington.

From Wednesday's Daily—

This noon at the handsomely arranged dining room of the Hotel Plattsmouth, the coming of the Burlington to the middle west in 1869 was honored and with it the men who from the earliest days had been in the service of the company in the local shops.

Joining in the greetings and felicitations to the railroad and its long time employees, came a large group of the officials headed by F. R. Mullen, of Chicago, general manager; E. L. Dec, general superintendent; E. C. Hale, Omaha, division superintendent; H. R. Freed, assistant general freight agent; T. P. Hinchcliff, assistant general passenger agent; Robert Wise, assistant baggage and mail superintendent; J. W. Vickery, assistant secretary and assistant treasurer; J. W. Weingarten, general attorney; Frank Dillon, chief of claims; Walter Loomis, attorney, claim department; N. E. Kerns, freight agent of Lincoln; Frank Pollard, real estate and tax agent.

The tables were arranged very attractively with flowers of the late summer while at the speakers' table was the miniature silver hued Zephyr.

Songs of greeting were given to the Burlington and to E. C. Hale in particular, the superintendent of this division.

President J. Howard Davis of the Chamber of Commerce extended the welcome to the guests of honor and presented W. A. Robertson, who for the past thirty years has served as a Burlington attorney, to act as toastmaster and which he did in his usual clever and entertaining manner.

Mr. Robertson presented William Baird, former shop head, who in turn called on the veteran workmen of the organization who responded briefly and their dates of service comprised: William Baird, 1883; Mart Battery, 1882; Hiram Batten, 1887; Val Burkel, 1884; C. L. Carlson, 1900; A. C. Doering, 1893; S. S. Gooding, 1897; Charles Hemphill, of Omaha, 1875, the oldest man in point of service present and who gave a very fine talk of the days of Plattsmouth and the Burlington; John Hiber, 1880; R. C. Jahrig, 1895; C. A. Johnson, 1898; Henry Kuhnman, 1892; Adolph Koubek, 1899; John Lutz, 1883; George Lushinsky, 1886; Henry Mauzy, 1882; James McKinney, 1898; John Micin, 1899; Joe Novatney, 1884; R. H. Patton, 1879; Fred Rampe, 1879; E. H. Schulhof, 1885; W. C. Tippens, 1890; E. B. Thrall, 1889; L. E. Vroman, 1885; Michael Wurga, Sr., 1878; Louie Rehnackle, 1880.

Mrs. E. H. Wescott, who has served on the committee that has had the arranging of the marking of historic spots, for which the Burlington furnished the boulders, thanked the officials for their part in making the marking possible and also expressed the appreciation of having so many veterans present. The greatness of the Burlington system reflected the spirit of the workers and the fine officers which have guided the railroad. She also presented O. C. Dovey one of the oldest residents of the city, as he came here in 1863. Mrs. Wescott also greeted the D. A. R. O.

Omaha and Plattsmouth who were present as guests.

Mr. Robertson presented the officials of the railroad to receive the greetings of the party and also presented Secretary Whitten of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, Mayor Wood and President Campbell of the Seward Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. F. R. Mullen of the Burlington gave a very interesting talk on the railroad work of the past and the present conditions which had made the railroading difficult, stressing the fact that all that a railroad had to sell was transportation and in which there had been much competition, the trucks by lower taxes and less overhead being able to move transportation at less expense. What the railroads mean to a community was shown in the quotation: of taxes paid, the railroads paying school taxes of $20,960.81, while the trucks paid the sum of $673.86. The total property and school taxes paid was $42,810.97 for the railroads and $1,840.94 for the trucks.

Mr. E. C. Hale gave a few words of greeting and that he had been glad to assist in getting the boulders for marking historic spots, they being selected in the Wind River valley of Wyoming and many selected by Mr. Mullen.

After a word of greeting the party disbanded to attend the remainder of the program in marking sites over the city.

VISIT MASONIC HOME

A large group of the members of Vesta chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star of Lincoln, were here Sunday afternoon to visit at the Nebraska Masonic Home.

The party gave a most entertaining musical program at the main building and the infirmary and which was much enjoyed. Rev. Charles Lang, one of the visiting party gave a short talk and Miss Lois Umberger gave a reading that was much enjoyed.

The group had a fine visit with George W. Pace, a member of their chapter.

Ice cream and cake was served by the visitors to the residents of the Home.

The party inspected the rooms of the Home and were much pleased with the fine appointments for the members.

Among those in the party were: Rev. Charles Lang, Lois Umberger, Charlotte Ann Frost, Charlese Frost, Nancy Gary.

DIES AT MASONIC HOME

Monday at the Nebraska Masonic Home occurred the death of R. Easley, who for a great many years has been an active figure in Masonry and a prominent resident of Sutton and Lincoln. Mr. Easley was born on June 7, 1871 at Alexandria, Nebraska, and was admitted to the Home here on September 7, 1938, from Evening Star lodge No. 49, A. F. & A. M. of Sutton, of which he was a member.

Mr. Easley was a deputy custodian of the A. F. & A. M. under Lute M. Savage, continuing his services until he last illness. He was a graduate of the University of Nebraska in the class of 1896 and has been engaged as a pharmacist for a great many years. He was also a very active member of the Methodist church.

There is surviving, his widow, Mable, one daughter, Mrs. W. D. Lass, Arcadia, Nebraska, one son, John Easley, at Lincoln and two grandchildren.

The body was taken to Lincoln or interment in the Wyuka cemetery.

Tom Nelson Found Dead at Murray Home

Employee of George E. Nickles for a Great Many Years, Found Dead Early Today.

From Monday's Daily—

Thomas Nelson, 72, who for the past twelve years has been an assistant at the lumber yard and coal office of George E. Nickles, at Murray, was found dead this morning at his home in Murray.

Mr. Nelson had been in the custom of opening the yard for business each morning and today parties arriving there early were unable to get in and accordingly called Mr. Nickles, who came down and stopped at the home of Mr. Nelson to learn if he was home. It was found that he had passed away apparently in the night and it was thought that death had occurred suddenly as he was fully dressed and apparently had been reading.

Mr. Nelson was a former resident of Springfield and had taught school in that section of the state and was a man of very fine education and ability.

The only relative in this part of the state as far as known is a son, Lawrence, of Omaha, who was notified of the death.

OPENS BEAUTY SHOP

Miss Gladys Inman, of Council Bluffs, has reopened the beauty shoppe in the Hotel Plattsmouth and is now looking after the needs of the ladies of the city in this line. The new operator of the shop has for the past seven years been engaged in operating a shop in Council Bluffs and comes very highly recommended as an expert in all lines of the profession.

ENJOYS VISIT WITH COUSIN

Sam Barrett of the Masonic Home here, was surprised last Friday by a visit from a cousin whom he had never before seen. His visitor was Frank Barrett of Thurman.

DENOUNCE SLOT MACHINES

The Cass County Christian Fellowship association, composed of the church men of the county, have taken a very firm and decided position against the proposed legalizing of slot machines in the state where they have long been banned.

The action was taken with the adoption of resolutions at the meeting held at Alvo on Sunday.

It is fortunate that this group has so definitely stepped out in condemnation of this attempt to bring onto the people of the state a curse that will bring ruin to many and benefit only to monopolies that control this gambling evil.

In the attempt to induce the people of the state to let down the barriers to the slot machine evil, it is made to appear that they will produce a great amount of money to provide for old age assistance but for each penny given the assistance hundreds will enrich the operators.

CLEARING PARKING LOTS

From Monday's Daily—

The city street department force was busy today in clearing off the vacant lots at Seventh and Main streets and arranging them so that they might be used for car parking during the King Korn Carnival the last of the week. These lots are well located and should help a great deal in the relief of the parking problem.

REDECORATES BUSINESS PLACE

The Donat Tavern at Fourth and Main streets has been redecorated in a very attractive manner for the King Korn Carnival and now is one of the attractive places of the city. The interior of the room has been repainted and in soft and pleasing colors makes a truly pleasing picture.

The woodwork has also been cleaned and makes the room bright and cheery to the patrons.

Bion Hoffman New Coach of High School

Former Ashland Star and Who Has Been Very Successful in Work as Coach, Selected.

The board of education at a special meeting Tuesday evening named Bion Hoffman, former Ashland high school football star as the new athletic coach of the Plattsmouth high school to succeed H. C. Boggess, resigned.

There were a number of candidates for the post of coach which had been suddenly made vacant by the decision of Mr. Boggess to accept a post in the government service.

Mr. Hoffman is a native of Ashland and where with his brother, Hugo was a vital part of the athletic program of the school there during their years there.

Mr. Hoffman after completing his work at the University of Nebraska, started his career as teacher and coach by taking the position at Weeping Water and later at Elmwood where he was very successful in sports and especially in his football teams. Later he was coach at Red Cloud and the past year was engaged in travel, this year again entering the teaching and coaching activities in the high school at Valparaiso, Nebraska, where he was principal.

Mr. Hoffman comes to this city from Valparaiso very highly recommended and with his very energetic personality and keen interest in the handling of athletics should make the local school a good coach and one that can secure the best out of the excellent timber that comprises the local squad.

The new coach will take over the athletic work next Monday and serve as mentor of the football team for the rest of the term.
