Message from National Chairman.

Red Cross chapter and 100 disaster workers assigned by national headquarters are administering relief in seven states in New England and New York state to 40,000 victims of flood, fire and wind. A continuous stream of messages from chapters heretofore isolated brings hourly new word of relief problems to be met.

It has been necessary to evacuate the population of entire communities. Heavy home destruction. But inland communities have met grave food shortages and truck loads of food have been rushed from nearby cities.

A nursing and medical program has been set up to guarantee against the spread of sickness. Thousands of men, women and children are being given temporary shelter. Later homes must be repaired and rebuilt.

A relief fund of at least $500,000 has been asked by National Chairman Norman Davis and it is expected that most of this will be raised in the affected states. But anyone wishing to participate in the relief work by making contribution to the Cass County Chapter Red Cross treasurer or your local Red Cross representative may do so. This will be forwarded to the Red Cross headquarters for use in the affected areas.—Augusta Robb, chairman Cass County Chapter, American Red Cross.
