Congressman Secures More PWA Allotments

Hon. H. C. Luckey Takes Up Matter Personally With Washington to Secure Results.

Through the efforts of Congressman Henry C. Luckey, additional approvals of work in the PWA in this district has been secured and which was due to the untiring effort of the first district congressman.

H. A. Gray, assistant director of the PWA notified the office of Congressman Luckey at Lincoln Monday night that approval had been made of allotments to several first district projects, among these being $9,250 for Murray waterworks; $8,181 for community building at Yutan; $13,019 for filtration system, Pawnee City; $61,362 for Beatrice water plant; $9,000 for Cook community building.

When Congressman Luckey had received the reports that a large part of projects in the district might be lost, his office states, he called the office of President Roosevelt at Hyde Park, New York, and fifteen minutes later called the office of Secretary Ickes, who at that time was in touch with the president, and was assured by E. K. Ballou that the municipalities would not be penalized in amounts appropriated for state.

demonstrating his auto and seeking students for the diesel school. Jack was explaining to the people on the street the operation of the diesel engine. Should this become generally used it would be hard on the service stations.

Now Forty and One.

That is Martin Sporer was forty-one years of age last Sunday and in recognition of the passing of his birthday the wife prepared a dinner and had the other members of the family there as guests.
