

Interesting Views Shown of Foreign Lands

Prof. F. D. Keim of University of Nebraska Presents Motion Pictures of European Scenes.

The Women's Federation of the First Methodist church met on Thursday afternoon at the church parlors, a short business meeting being held followed by a very interesting and educational program. About 120 were present at the occasion.

The president, Mrs. William Heinrich presided over the business meeting. Mrs. J. C. Lawson led the devotional which preceded the regular business session.

At the close of the short business meeting Mrs. A. H. Duxbury, program chairman, introduced Prof. F. D. Keim of the University of Nebraska who was the guest speaker of the afternoon. Professor Keim presented his colored motion pictures of England, Scotland, and the Scandinavian countries, these being some of the best pictures of these countries ever to be shown in this state. The pictures showed the rural scenes in northern European countries and the extensive and beautiful verdure of that portion of Europe and with interesting comments on the showing. Prof. Keim took the pictures while in Europe to attend the Grassland congress.

The musical part of the program was presented by the Little School Band of School District 6 of which Mrs. Dora Trively is teacher. They were heard in four numbers.

Special guests of the afternoon included Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Johnson, Mr. Johnson being the new Cass county extension agent, from Weeping Water and through his kind assistance and cooperation made it possible for the local church organization to obtain this valuable speaker.

Following the program the Gleamers circle served refreshments. The committee was headed by Mrs. James Mauzy as chairman assisted by Mrs. John Hallstrom, Mrs. Henry Mauzy, Mrs. Percy Wheeler, Mrs. Robert Patterson, Mrs. John Turner, and Mrs. A. H. Duxbury.

BOY SCOUTS GO TO SCHOOL

All Boy Scouts, who were at the Scout Cabin Thursday night, visited District No. 6 school, on Friday morning.

The boys were returning a sign picked up on the side of the road which belonged to the school when the teacher asked them if they wished to visit. The boys gladly accepted. They were seated in the front of the room on two benches.

Mrs. Dora Trively, the teacher of the school, asked the leader of the Scouts to give a talk about Scouting in general. First he introduced the Scouts who were present and then gave the highlights of Scouting. One student asked the requirements for a tenderfoot Scout which were told him.

Mrs. Trively asked the students if there were any questions they wished to ask. A visitor, Miss Virginia Trively, a student of Peru College, asked what the boys had eaten for their meals. After telling her what the boys had prepared, told them about the Jello the boys had made.

After returning to the cabin the boys started to build a bridge across the creek. Two boys came from the school asking us if the school could come over and visit the cabin. After saying yes, the boys started a thorough clean up of the cabin. Lavern Rice, Don Bowman, Joe Highfield, Bob Dasher and Tom Solomon worked three hours in getting the cabin ready for the visitors. About 2:30 the students came over and were instructed about the cabin. Among the students there was Annice Lee White, whose grandfather had the first school in Nebraska held in his home. There were eighteen students and friends there to visit the cabin.

EASTER BONNETS

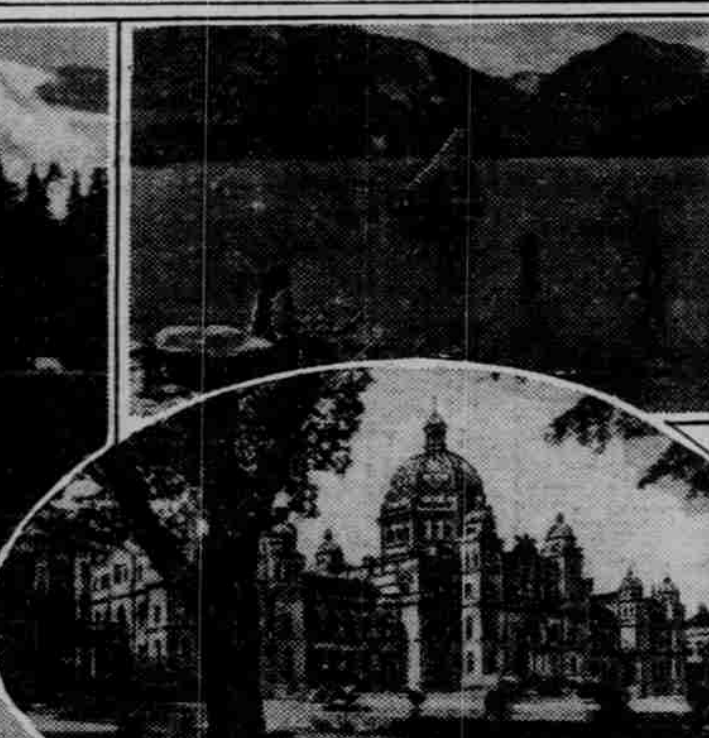

(1) Juanita Miller is ready for the fashion parade in this hand-made, coast-colored Texan. Black veil and felt bow are added for softening flattery. (2) Pink roses for romance are entwined on a flattering hat of brown straw braid, painted on top for mossy effect. (3) The Gibson girl and the Merry Widow inspire today's hat styles. The lady with the parasol wears a sailor of shiny black patent leather topped with a big white quill.

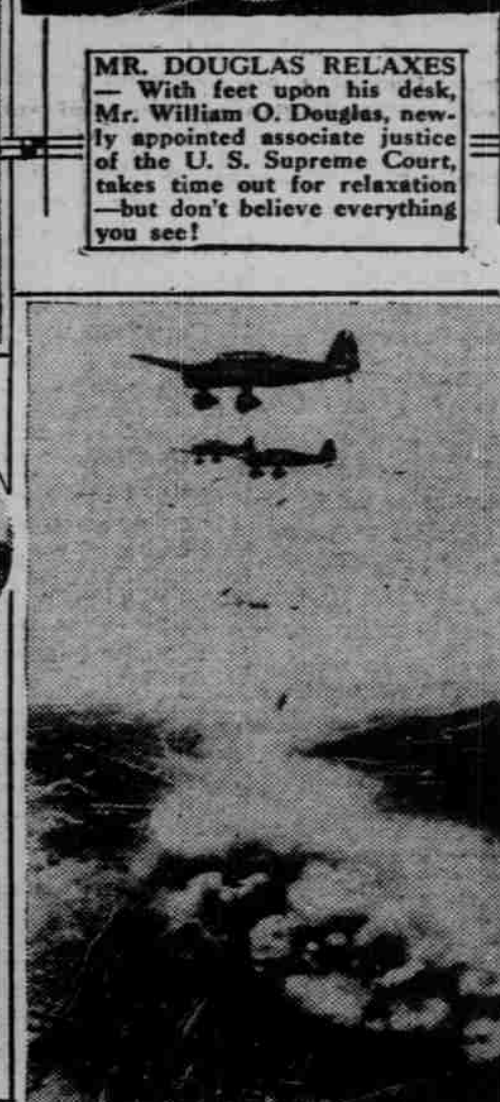

TRIPLE BORDER—Szeged, Hungary—On a lonely field outside the Hungarian city of Szeged, the territories of Hungary, Rumania and Yugoslavia meet, as shown in this picture. Although treaties after the World War set these borders, their status may again be changed as a result of Hitler's drive.

MR. DOUGLAS RELAXES—With feet upon his desk, Mr. William O. Douglas, newly appointed associate justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, takes time out for relaxation—but don't believe everything you see!

SIDE-SHOWS—Visitors to the Golden Gate International Exposition will enjoy 1,000 miles of side-shows along the Pacific Coast. Editors of four national publications—Collier's, Woman's Home Companion, the American Magazine and the Country Home—chose these pictures to illustrate variety of opportunity. Below is an air view of the Fair; upper left, a young man with a fine catch in Rainier National Park, Washington; center, the Parliament Buildings in the beautiful city of Vancouver, British Columbia, and right, a pleasant scene on Willowa Lake, Oregon.

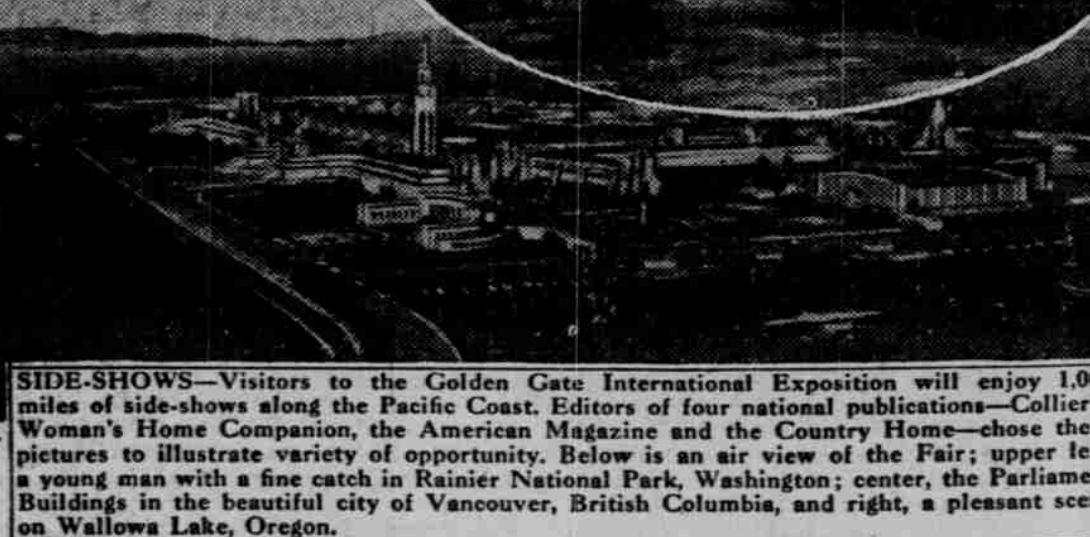

JAP BOMBERS IN ACTION—China—Japanese bombers, and bombs exploding in and around Sianfu, the capital of Shensi province, during one of the many air-raids against the city.

'OOMPH GIRL'—Hollywood—Ann Sheridan, film actress, who has been selected as the girl in Hollywood with the most 'oomph.'

Television moved closer to realization for public use when Philco's portable television transmitter, first mobile unit of its kind, was put into service recently in an experimental display of its facility for depicting daily happenings at Palm Beach, Fla. This remarkable instrument, though only five feet high and about two and one-half feet wide, carries equipment which usually fills an entire studio. The illustrations show the First Television Beauty Pageant. Upper right is Miss Peggy Knapp, of N.Y.C., winner, most beautiful girl in Palm Beach. Below is the Board of Judges of famous artists, photographers, theatrical and radio leaders, who made their selection from the moving images and voices. Upper left is Cobina Wright, 17-year-old Manhattan cafe society songstress, chosen as "Glamour Girl of Palm Beach," singing before the transmitter. Lower left is A. L. Murray, Chief Television Engineer of Philco, demonstrating the heart of the receiver.

SARONG TO SCANTIES—Hollywood, Calif.—Lovely Dorothy Lamour finds herself in a predicament. Determined to "un-type" herself as a sarong-draped South Sea Lorelei, in her latest film she plays the role of a slave-girl—with a costume no less abbreviated than the hated sarong.
