The Subject Under Discussion in the Senate-Mr. Call Severely Arraigns the Spanish Government for Its Administration in Cuba-How Senators Cannon and Lodge Stand on the Question.

Senators Discuss Cuba-

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.-The Senate to-day, on motion of Mr. Chandler, postponed consideration of Mr. Lodge's resolution for an investigation of recent bond issues until Monday.

Mr. Call, at 2 o'clock, called up the resolution to grant belligerent rights to the Cuban insurgents. Mr. Cameron moved a substitute resolution requesting the President to offer the good offices of this Government to bring the war to a close.

Mr. Call spoke, severely arraigning They Ask Congress for Reciprocal Legisthe Spanish government for its administration in Cuba. Senator Cameron followed Mr. Call. He referred to the fact that he was in President Grant's cabinet at the time of the former Cuban uprising. He objected to the committee resolution as accomplishing Omaha were given a hearing by the nothing and giving offense to Spain without extending any benefit to Cuba. He wanted the United States to act. He urged that the miseries of foreign markets to American live Cuba be brought to an end. -Mr. Lodge followed Mr. Cameron in a vigorous speech advocating the recognition of Cuban independence. He referred to the unfriendliness of not only Spain but France and Ehgland as well at the time of the civil war. A letter from Secretary Carlisle, as to the coin and other money in circulation was read and ordered printed.

Mr. Squire of Washington reported favorably a bill requiring marine engineers to be American citizens. Mr. Frye called attention to recent remarks of Mr. Squire criticising the un-American course of the international steamship line. Mr. Frve declared that the senator had unintentionally misstated the facts. having been "crammed with misinformation.

UNION PACIFIC SALE.

Receiver Anderson Objects to the Central Pacific Being Disposed of Separately.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.-Mr. Anderson, a receiver of the Union Pacific railroad, and ex-Congressman Coombs, a government director, appeared before the house committee on Pecific strip was made on a plate with four railroads to-day. They asked that the and one-half inches of wood between Union and Central Pacific roads be put | the plate and the florescent tube, and, up for sale as a whole and given to the highest bidder. Mr. Anderson submitted an amendment to the bill presented to the committee by him. providing for the issue of patents to the several roads. The Union Pacific, he said, had used the proceeds of the sale of lands for the payment of interest on bonds; what was done with the money secured from the bonds he did not know. The Union Pacific was very much misunderstood as to its financial ability, for, though it was insolvent. It had been able to pay every bill for operating expenses. The proposition to sell the regret that Edgar W. Nye, the "Bill" properties in separate parts was not good. They should be sold as a whole, writings have made the whole world and in that way would bring a much higher price than otherwise. All propositions for any other solution than a sale, he said, would meet with opposition from Congress, for however meritorious they might be, it was impossible to secure a unanimity of opinion from so large a"body. Mr. Coombs agreed with the proposition that the roads should be sold together and carry out the original plan that they should be a through line from the Missouri river to the Pacific. The government would probably obtain $75,000,000 from them. It might be well, he said, for the government to protect itself by making an upset price. It would also be well to bring nent Missouri Democrats. Mr. Cox those persons owning terminal facilities into the suit to settle the question whether the terminals should be sold with the road. The government should not sell its lien upon the properties. If we can rid ourselves of this railroad scandal, he said, the value of our stocks all over the world would appreciate.

THE DAWES BILL

Indian Lobby Making a Strong Fight Against the Measure. WASHINGTON, Feb. 21. -- Chairman

Dawes of the commission that bears his name occupied practically the whole of the time that the Indian affairs committee of the House waable to give the commission to-day. His address was in support of the bill for the government of the territory. A concerted effort to defeat the measure appears to be making progress. President Cleveland assured the Indians and the commissioners alike that he would sign any measure which came to him preserving the general features of the bill tentatively submitted by the Dawes commission. Acting upon that information, the Indian lobby is manifesting the strongest zeal in behalf of amendments radical. In House and Senate alike the lobby is laboring for its defeat.

Edison yesterday succeeded in taking an instantaneous photograph by means of the Roentgen ravs from florescent tubes, the rays having penetrated a heavy cardboard and vulcanized fibre plated holder. In another experiment a sharply defined image of a metal after an exposure of twelve minutes. the photograph was taken. Mr. Edison said by the end of the present week he will be ready to try to take a picture of the human head and make other interesting photographic experiments.

HELP OF UNCLE SAM.

That Being the Amount Needed to Render Successful the Coming Trans-Mississippi Exposition-A Conference with Senator Thurston-Advice as to How to Enhance the Project.

The Trans-Mississippi Exposition.

OMAHA, Feb. 21.-At the request of a committee of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition company, a number of business men of Omaha gathered at the Commercial club rooms to confer with Senator Thurston regarding the best means of expediting legislation necessary to promote the success of the exposition. Vice Presiwhich would make the bill extremely dent G. W. Wattles of the Union National bank presided. Senator Thurston and a number of leading business men of Omaha were present.

Chairman Wattles said that considerable progress had been made toward securing the endorsement of the scheme. Among the bodies that had announced themselves in favor of it were the Nebraska Press association, the beet sugar convention of Nebraska, the various labor unions of Nebraska and the lows legislature. He stated that the matter was now before the national legislature, having been introduced in both the senate and the house. He said that the action of the Trans-Mississippi congress had started the ball a-rolling, and that wherever the plan had been mentioned it met with instant favor. He said that great advantages had come to the south through the Atlanta exposition. He was sure immigration and capital would be attracted to the western states by the ex- stolen ever so many valuable things.' position proposed.

Senator Thurston, who is chairman of the senate committee having the bill in hand, said that he came to the meeting for the purpose of learning the desire of the Omaha people in regard to the exposition more than to speak on the matter himself. He said that he was glad he was chairman of the committee to which the senate bill was referred. since he would have the opportunity of giving it his personal attention. He thought the disposition of congress was to give the exposition just about the same amount of aid that was given to Atlanta.

"You will understand," said he. "the government of the United States is not in the exposition business. All it does is to attend to the government exhibit. It provides for the formation of such exhibits, its transportation, the employment of officials to look after it and the erection and maintenance of a building in which it may be housed. That's all the aid that can be expected. Of course the Columbian exposition was of national character and received more support." Senator Thurston said that what he desired especially to know was the amount of money the business men thought best to request. He said that an appropriation sufficient to insure success should be asked for, lest serious criticism of the bill be challenged. He thought that it might be wise to pass the bill through the senate, with the amount of the appropriation left blank. The endorsement of the senate would have weight with the house. Later the senate would concur with the house on any reasonable amount that the latter might suggest. He recommended securing endorsement from as many states as possible and suggested that prominent men in other western states be asked to write to their representatives in congress concerning the enterprise. "There is a disposition all through the country favorable to anything that the west may ask for in order to help itself. I've sounded sentiment regarding it pretty thoroughly, and can safely say that there will be no serious objection encountered." Z. T. Lindsey spoke of the trip to Iowa. He said that the people there were as enthusiastic regarding it as were the Nebraskans. "There is no class of our people. question but that every business man and property owner in this region is back of it with all his might." Mr. Rosewater recommended that $250,000 be asked for. He said that if as much aid was secured as was given Atlanta there would be no doubt that the Omaha exposition would be a much greater success. He declared that the exposition would be the greatest thing and Utah. It is consigned to one of for Nebraska since it became a state. He urged active work all along the line, and especally from now until the passage of the bill, which must be secured before the adjournment of congress. He predicted that the moment the bill became a law the value of Omaha property would go up 25 per cent. Senator Thurston thought that the limit of the appropriation should be fixed at $200,000. He said that there was a great demand for keeping down the expenses of the government this year, and that it was best to ask for a conservative amount at this time. Mr. Lindsey said that the trans-Mississippi region was an empire of twentyfour states, and that the Omaha exposition would completely outshine the exposition of the Cotton States. He thought that Nebraska's representatives were proceeding upon an erroneous assumption when they considered that the exposition of 1898 was to be on the level with that held at Atlanta. He urged an appropriation of $500,000. L. H. Bradley favored a small appropriation at this time, but wanted the limit of the government's appropriation set at $500,000. He thought that but few present realized the great scope of the exposition. Senator Thurston said, "This is the experience I've had with the gentlemen of Omaha. They don't like to play to a small limit." A vote on the amount of the appropriation to be asked for was almost morning Waller's pardon Orders are shortly. Mrs. Astor died December unanimous in deciding on $250,000. Congress will be asked to appropriate

A Message About Shoes

When Senator Stephen B. Elkins was in Philadelphia the other day he told an interesting story of his election to his present seat. "I was sitting in my study at my country home," said he, "awaiting the returns that would tell me whether or not I had been chosen to take the place of Senator Camden. The operator at the telegraph station had orders to open all telegrams addressed to me, and to telephone their contents to me immediately. Suddenly the telephone rang, and the children's governess, who answered the 'phone. came to me and told me the person at the other end of the wire was saving something about 'shoes,' she couldn't quite make it out. 'Oh,' said I, 'it's my wife's shoemaker, probably. Tell him to let the matter rest until tomorrow." She delivered the message, but returned shortly to say that the man insisted upon talking to me. I went to the telsend me was: 'When shall I send you my shoes? Johnson R. Camden.' Then I knew that I had been chosen to fill the shoes of that worthy gentleman -Philadelphia Record.

Unpardonable Presumption.

"You know those people that live in that two story house across the wavthe Gumpersons, or some such name?" "Yes. I know them when I see them. Speak to them when I meet any of them on the street. Well, one of the girls stopped me while I was out walking the other morning. She said. 'Miss Highfly, your house wasn't broken into last night and robbed, was it?" I said: 'No. Why?' And she said: 'I'm glad to hear it. I dreamed last night somebody had got into your house through the kitchen window and Think of the presumption of it! Dreaming about us! And they aren't in our set at all."-Chicago Tribune.

Oklahoma and the Indian Territory.

A well-known New York financier, who recently made a business and pleasure trip through Oklahoma and the Indian Territory, in a letter to a friend gives some very interesting data and information relative to "The Land of the Fair God." He says, in part: "When I recall my experiences, while in Oklahoma and the Indian Territory, it seems to me to be more like a dream than a reality. I never was more favorably impressed with a people, and the resources of the country are truly wonderful.

"Before making this trip I was imbued with the idea, so prevalent among the people of the east, that this territory have little in common with the in-

DISASTER.

Cause of the Explosion a Mystery-Machinery Was Wrecked, and It is Impossible to Get Air Into the Shaft-Gas and Smoke Interfere With the Work of Rescue-Great Labor to Recover Bodies of the Miners.

Disaster in a Coal Mine.

NEWCASTLE, Feb. Col., 20 .- An unknown number of men are dead as the result of a terrible explosion that occurred in the Vulcan mine, one of the coal properties of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway company, ephone. It was the telegraph opera- at 11:20 yesterday forenoon. Usually tor, and the message he was trying to seventy-five men are employed in the mine, but less than this number were at work when the explosion occurred yesterday. There is little doubt that all who were at work are dead.

The number of victims cannot now be accurately stated, estimates run ning from fifty to seventy. Those best informed think the number is very likely between fifty-five and sixty. The excitement at present is so intense that efforts to secure a complete list are useless.

The only man who got out of the mines at the time of the explosion was Edward Welch, who was near the mouth of the tunnel and was blown out. His skull was fractured, arm broken, the face badly cut and burned and all the hair burned from his head. He was breathing when found, but expired shortly after without showing consciousness. The miners who escaped direct death from the explosion must have been quickly suffocated by gas, as all means of ventilation were cut off.

The first news of the disaster was a report as from 100 cannon. People rushed out of their homes and places of business to see what had happened and one look toward the Vulcan mine was sufficient, for a dense cloud of smoke issuing from the mouth of the slope told the tale of death. A throng of people was soon at the scene of disaster, a distance of nearly two miles from Newcastle. A glance was enough to dissipate any hope for the lives of the entombed men. The force of the Not the Merchant. explosion had caused a cave-in and the tunnel and air courses were filled with the fallen rock, earth and timbers. Both fan houses were wrecked and the slope and vicinity were so full of the debris and the gas was so bad that it was hard and dangerous work to begin the rescue.

Nevertheless, willing hands were soon at work and five men went down the First Rope Broke and Fitzgerald Did Not Lose Consciousness.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 21.- James Fitzgerald was hanged here this forenoon for the murder of his sweetheart, Annie Naessens, on the night of November 24, 1893. Fitzgerald was taken to the gallows at 10 o'clock, bound in the usual way, the black cap adjusted, the trap sprung and the culprit shot down six feet, but not to death. The rope broke and the victim lay struggling on the ground beneath the gallows. The black cap was instantly removed by the doctors, | self. who found Fitzgerald still conscious. Stimulants were given and he revived and was taken into the morgue a few feet away, where he was cared for by the doctors.

A new rope was sent for at once, and at 11 o'clock the sick and trembling, but nervy victim, was again taken to the scaffold. At 11:02 the trap was again sprung. His neck was broken.

Spoiling Potatoes.

In a bulletin issued by Prof. Snyder of the Minnesota State Agricultural college he makes a point of interest to the housewife. He shows that where potatoes are peeled and started to boiling in cold water there is a loss of 80 per cent of the total albumen, and where they are not peeled and started in hot water this loss is reduced to 2 per cent. A bushel of potatoes weighing sixty pounds, containing about two pounds of total nitrogenous compounds when properly cooked one-half pound is lost, containing six-tenths of a pound of the most valuable proteids. It requires all of the protein from nearly two pounds of round beefsteak to replace the loss of protein from improperly boiling a bushel of potatoes.

There are two shafts in addition to the one in which the explosion took place. In the upper of these two the rescuers are in about 300 feet and it is through this that the air can be forced into some of the rooms, but none of those in the mine have come out, and it is feared that this is conclusive evidence that all are dead.

Seed Distribution Made Obligatory Upon the Secretary.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 .- The house yesterday passed the agricultural appropriation bill. It carries $3,158,192. The section of the Revised Statutes for the purchase and distribution of 'rare and uncommon" seeds, which Secretary Morton declined to execute in the current appropriation law, was repealed, the appropriation for seeds was increased from $130,000 to $150,000, and its execution was made mandatory upon the secretary. Mr. Cousins of Iowa introduced his amendmdnt to reduce Mr. Morton's salary from $8,000 to $25 until he expended the appropriation in the current law, but the amendment was ruled out on a point of order. Several amendments to the meat inspection act of 189!, recommended by Secretary Morton, which would have given him additional power to enforce regulations and have strengthened the law by the imposition of penalties for violations, were stricken out.
