

PERSONAL, POLITICAL AND PERTINENT.

The next examination of applicants for admission to the bar will be held in the supreme court room June 9. Candidates should remember that the rules require their applications to be on file at least four weeks prior to that date. Blank applications are furnished by the clerk of the supreme court on request.

Herman W. Mudgett, alias H. H. Holmes, one of the most villainous murderers of this century, expatiated his many crimes Thursday morning at Philadelphia, where he was hanged. He maintained his nerve to the last minute, and denied having murdered Benjamin Pitzel, for which crime he was convicted and sentenced.

Iowa democratic county conventions are with great regularity declaring for Horace Boies and free silver. Some 426 delegates have thus far been elected, 335 of them being on the side of the white metal. Last year a majority of these counties elected delegates in favor of the gold standard.

A hale old Darby and Joan are Mr. and Mrs. John Moulder of Russiaville, Ind., who celebrated their sixty-ninth wedding anniversary a few days ago. Mr. Moulder is ninety-one years old and his wife ninety. They live by themselves, doing all their own housework, and both are in excellent health. Both used tobacco freely until past seventy years old, when they decided to reform, and they have not smoked since then.

George Washington is the only man who ever carried the total electoral vote of the country. He did so twice.

A woman living at Lewiston, Me., has made a good deal of money during the past year or so with a fine, large coon cat. She sold it last week for the seventh time for $8. This cat always comes back, and its behavior while in the possession of anyone but this woman is such that the successive owners have concluded that the trouble of caring for the cat is worth more than the $8.

Murderer Holmes evidently didn't want his body exhibited around the country in museums or dissected by medical college students. His remains were imbedded in over a ton of cement and buried under ten feet of earth at Philadelphia Friday.

King Otto, the mad monarch of Bavaria, whose forty-eighth birthday was celebrated last week, is a pitiable object in his lonely castle. His glumblings of reason grow less frequent constantly, although his physical health is robust. His strength is tremendous, and it takes many powerful men to hold him when he is bent on murder or suicide.

United States people who are reported to fill all Europe this year, and spend $100,000,000 in gold, would have been wiser to have visited some of the interesting places in their own country. There are thousands of Americans wandering over the continent who know little of the county next to that in which they were born and nothing of the adjoining state.

The cigarette factories have put on their thinking caps for the devising of some scheme by which they may defeat the anti-cigarette people and the law enacted by the late republican legislature. From what has been given out they propose to manufacture and put on the market an article with a thin tobacco wrapper filled with the regular cigarette material. While this will not be a cigarette in the meaning of the statute, it will smoke like a cigarette, taste like a cigarette, smell like a cigarette, and—be a cigarette in fact, though not a cigarette in a legal point of view.—Council Bluffs Globe.

It is said to be very unlucky to sneeze three times. A Lincoln bride found it so. The third sneeze split her satin bodice from belt to shoulder, and from that time on the minister might as well have been reciting Choctaw so far as she was concerned.

A Sioux City court has ruled that one bite is not sufficient to stamp a dog as vicious. According to this Iowa statute at least two bites are necessary to demonstrate canine unfriendliness. This ruling should be borne in mind by all chewed-up citizens who desire to sue for damages or to insure the killing of the dog. Whenever a neighbor's dog begins to chew one of your legs do not hastily withdraw it out of harm's way, because by doing so you may jeopardize your right to sue for damages. Rather distract the brute's attention from the leg he is chewing and dextrously substitute the other leg. This will really make no difference to the dog, and it will give you a standing in court.—Nebraska City News.

Instead of presenting medals to the soldiers who especially distinguished themselves in the late war with China, the Japanese government has purchased 18,000 watches, at $2.50 each, in Switzerland, which will be given to the brave fellows, and the whole army will have a good time.

Whatever may be said in disparagement of George M. Pullman, it must be conceded that his daughter has set a good example for American heiresses by marrying a young Chicago attorney instead of buying a husband in a foreign market.

If the paper that you are reading is a borrowed one you should come or send to the office at once and subscribe for a paper that is worth borrowing is worth subscribing for and reading regularly.

The Philadelphia Times says: "It seems to us, from the evidence at hand, that some of the gentlemen who are selling convict-made goods in this country ought to be making the afore-said goods themselves."

An annual pass is the prize offered by the Pennsylvania railroad to the farmer on its route who is most successful in beautifying his grounds adjoining the line. This is an excellent idea and will put money in the pocket of the enterprising farmer, whether he takes the prize or not.

Probably very few people are aware of the fact that a large proportion of the eggs used in this country go into the manufacture of some article other than food. The calico print works use over 40,000,000 eggs each year. Photographic establishments use millions of dozens, and wine clarifiers call for over 10,000,000 dozen. The demand from these sources increases faster than the table demand. They are used by book binders, kid glove manufacturers, and for finishing fine leather. For these various demands is due the high price of eggs which is very uniformly maintained.

An exchange says there is something wrong with the eternal fitness of things when minister gets five dollars and a good supper for performing a marriage ceremony, which takes five minutes, while the editor takes two hours writing up a list of the presents and only gets a piece of the cake.

Tell me, ye winds, that round my pathway roar, do ye not know some quiet spot where wives clean house no more; some lone, sequestered, leaf dale, some island ocean girt where life is not one ceaseless war with cobwebs and with dirt; where only nature's carpet spreads beneath the tired feet, and whither men are never compelled its emerald folds to beat? The light breeze fanned my head and face and said, "Beat on! there's no such place."—Eldora Enterprise.

"Doctors" Combine.

Certain physicians of Cass county filed one yard of articles of incorporation with the secretary of state yesterday and in many respects it is a remarkable document. It is written with a cheap typewriter on cheap ruled tablet paper pasted together in one long sheet. The preamble sets forth the name of the association. Perhaps the typewriter is responsible for some of the breaks. It reads:

"Whereas, We believe it to be the duty of all liberal-minded physicians to adopt such means as will best observe the advancement of medical science in the direction of true liberalism and in view of prohibiting the encroachments of charlatanism on the rights of liberal physicians and more especially with a view to demonstrate the improvement in the science of physic and enhancement of the interest and welfare of humanity as well as to promote the success and prosperity of true medical reform, do we, the liberal physicians of this county, form ourselves into an association for the purpose incorporation under the name of the Cass County medical Association of the state of Neb. Incorporated for the consummation of the object herein expressed, and to that end we do subscribe and endorse the following constitution and bylaws."

Among the objects are "the advancement of scientific reform" and "harmony in the profession." There is an "executive council." Any physician resident in the county who "sustains a good moral character," etc., may become a member.

H. C. Madding, "secretary," certifies that the articles are an exact copy of the original in his hands. Although the association has not complied with the statutes, it sent a fee for filing and the articles got filed.

The above article was shown several Plattsmouth physicians today, and they all regarded the "combine" as a joke. Needless to say, none of the local doctors are members.

PERSONAL AND OTHERWISE.

From Friday's Daily.
County Superintendent Farley is out in the west end of the county, and expects to be absent for a day or so.

The Nebraska City board of education has already received seventy applications to fill thirty-three positions as school teachers.

J. W. Marthis, formerly in business in this city but now bracing on the B. & M. out of Lincoln, was in town today shaking hands with old friends.

At the state convention of the P. E. O. organization, in session at Holdrege, Mrs. Ida Wagner of this city was elected recording secretary for the ensuing year.

The families of Byron Clark, H. D. Travis, M. Street, Mrs. Swearingen and a number of other Plattsmouth people went down to Weeping Water this morning to attend the funeral of the late Frank M. Wolcott, which occurs there this afternoon.

Saturday's Daily.

The rush in the harness business given place to an increased traffic in farm implements.

The old settlers of Otoe county will hold their meeting next month. The date will soon be agreed upon by the executive committee.

Harry E. Coglizer, aged 25, and Florence Robbins, aged 24, both from Weeping Water precinct, were granted a marriage license in county court today.

Quite a number of Plattsmouth people went out to Louisville this morning to witness the ball game at that place this afternoon between the Bavelock and Louisville clubs.

Ed. Eaton arrived last evening from Colorado City, Colo., for a visit with relatives here. Ed recently had the misfortune to lose one of his eyes, while at work in the shops at Colorado City, and his trip to this section was chiefly to undergo treatment by Dr. Gifford, the Omaha oculist.

"Jimmy" Murphy, one of the old-time fireman on the "Q" before the strike, who formerly resided here, is in town visiting with his sister, Mrs. John Gleason, and shaking hands with his many friends. He has just arrived from his old home back east, and was accompanied by one of his brothers.

From Monday's Daily.

Miss Carrie Holloway, the efficient deputy sheriff, left on No. 7 this afternoon for a brief visit with friends at Mead, Nebraska.

Wm. Carroll, residing on South Seventh street, is the happy father of a 9½ pound girl that arrived at his house last evening.

The will of Mary Van Cleave who died at Alvo last January, was admitted to probate today, and her son, Albert, appointed executor.

The Otoe County Progress reports that "Fred Egenberger's saloon was consumed by the flames Thursday night." The Progress should be more careful. It was "Pretzel" and not Fred that was burned out.

General J. S. Coxe, of commonwealth fame, who marched from Massolin, Ohio, to Washington, D. C., with an army of 400, addressed a crowd yesterday in Omaha on his usual topic of non-interest bearing bonds and good roads.

The Lincoln Journal says: "The friends of Eb Mockett are urging him to arrange a five-mile race against the unbeaten running team belonging to Lee Allison of Murray, Cass county. Ed's admirers pick him as the man to give the team its first beating."

Henry Miller, better known as "Barnum," will make application for a license to sell liquor for the period of one year. His place of business will be the old Elkhorn stand. "Barnum" is a popular young man, and will undoubtedly receive his share of the patronage.

The sheriff is busily engaged today, in company with two appraisers in valuing some fifteen pieces of land, a judgment against which was obtained by the Bank of Cass county.

The land question is described as belonging to O. H. Ballou, Wm. L. Brown, Timothy Clark, W. H. Shafer and S. A. Davis, although in fact W. H. Shafer owns the bulk of it.

The preliminary hearing of Fred Patterson, charged with shooting with intent to kill, was on trial today in police court. After hearing the evidence Judge Archer bound the defendant over to the next term of the district court, in the sum of $500. At the hour of going to press the defendant was out hustling for bondsmen.

H. C. McMaken & Son, who have been constructing a dam at Cedar Creek in order to form a pond which they could cut ice from, have completed their work. The dam is 350 feet long, 22 feet deep, and the pond will cover about ten acres of land. Mr. McMaken states that he intends to stock the lake with croppies and black bass.

B. Elson, the upper Main street clothier, thought for a little while this afternoon that he had been robbed. While he and his clerk were busy in the back of the store, Postmaster Fox dropped in and, taking down the mirror hanging in the front of the store, he hid it. When Ben came to the front of the store a few minutes later, he noticed that the mirror was missing, and immediately gave the alarm. He felt greatly relieved when the mirror was restored to him.

From Tuesday's Daily.

Attorneys Haldeman and Douglas of Weeping Water are in town today. Dr. M. M. Butler and daughter Mildred, of Weeping Water were in town today, enroute east for a visit.

Hans Goos has decided to reopen his saloon this year, and will apply for a license at the next council meeting.

Elder Fred Warren will begin a series of meetings at the Christian church tonight, to continue until further notice.

Jonathan Hatt furnished the required $500 bonds for the appearance of Fred Patterson at the next term of district court, and the latter was accordingly released.

At seven o'clock this morning the water gauge at the B. & M. depot registered 1.07 inches of rain since last evening, but it is believed that twice that amount fell a few miles out in the country.

From Wednesday's Daily.

Mark White, the Eagle saloon-keeper, was in the city today.

Switchmen W. O. Jolly and P. A. Hildebrand have gone to Plattsmouth to labor in the yards a while. Mr. Jolly will remain until Yardmaster Manchester returns from his vacation.—Lincoln Journal.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Sherman arrived at noon today for a visit with relatives here. Charlie reports that the storm up at Lincoln Monday night was very destructive, and among other places unroofed was his boarding house.

Rev. Fred Warren officiated last evening at the marriage of Mr. Elmer Miller and Miss Rosa Lee Stewart. The ceremony occurred at eight o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Jones, in Shafferville, and was witnessed by a number of relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

C. A. Mastin, chaplain of the state industrial school at Kearney, was in the city today conferring with the parents of the several Plattsmouth boys who are inmates of that institution. Chaplain Mastin speaks very favorably of the boys sent up from Cass county, and says they are all getting along nicely. Since the institution was founded this county has sent up forty-six boys. The total enrollment at the school is now 225.

The Melvins, on South Sixth street, are receiving new millinery goods every week and sell at had times prices.

The crazy man who on a recent Sunday marched up to the altar of a church in Oakland, Cal., and flourished a loaded revolver in the face of the preacher and congregation while he announced with the utmost gravity that religion was all a humbug had every advantage in the argument. Not a soul ventured to dispute him. A newspaper account of the scene says the young man with the gun was a "harmless lunatic." It would be interesting to know what would be considered a dangerous lunatic in Oakland.
