BALLOTING FOR BISHOPS.

Committee of the State of the Church Recommends Some Radical Changes -Another Measure Brought Up Calculated to Lessen the Authority of Bishops-Conference Work.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 18.-When the Methodist Episcopal general conference was called to order the third ballot for bishop was announced to 510 votes had been cast. The follow ing six candidates lead: C. C. Mc

A fourth ballot was ordered. It showed that 512 votes were cast and no choice made, 342 votes being necessary to a choice. The leaders were: McCabe, 243; Buttz, 233; Cranston, 214; Hamilton, 141; Bowen, 109. There are two bishops to be elected and the 512 votes which were cast on the fourth ballot indicate the vote for one bishop only and in reality represent 1,024 votes. The apparent discrepancy of only 512 votes being announced caused some confusion when in the report of the ballot it was shown that over 1,000 ballots had Hess and his two sons prepared to actually been cast. This explanation was made by a delegate to the satisfaction of the conference.

While the fifth ballot was being counted, the death of J. W. Reed was announced, and a committee on resolutions appointed. The Rev. Mr. William Martindale of Kansas presented a memorial requesting Congress to prohibit the licensing of the sale of liquor in states where prohibition was corps of reliable and successful Ne- in effect. It was adopted and ordered The proceedings were interrupted by great applause next door, and soon Major William McKinley appeared on the platform. Bishop Joyce presented him and the air was white with handkerchiefs. Three times the applause died away and three times it was renewed. It was the greatest ovation of the conference. Dr. Kynett wanted to take a recess at once, but the motion was defeated and the business was continued, but the regular recess was made fifteen minutes instead of ten, and nearly every delegate in the house took advantage of the opportunity to greet Governor McKinley. DAfter recess the chair announced the fifth ballot. It resulted in no choice, but revealed some remarkable surprises. The vote on the six Rading candidates was as follows: H. A. Buttz, 266, Earl Cranston 245, C. C. McCabe 236, J. W. Hamilton 137, J. W. E. Bowen 75, T. B. Neeley 21. Another ballot was ordered. At the meeting of the state of the church committee a report on sociological work written by Rev. Dr. William Quayle of Kansas City was presented. It was long and a wide departure from the usual formal report and called for some decided criticism. It was defended by Mr. Quayle, but after a long discussion was returned to the subcommittee for revision. The committee took up the question that the term of probation be shortened, but decided in favor of retaining the present term of six months. A subcommittee was instructed to prepare a ritual form to be used in the admission of probationers to full membership. The committee on itineracy considered another measure calculated to lessen the authority of the bishops. It was that the consent of the cabinet of presiding elders should be secured before a bishop could transfer a minister from one conference to another. The committee declined to recommend the change.

The Governor Respites Pollard and Harris Once Again.

KANSAS CITY, May 18 .- Governor Stone granted a respite yesterday to Foster Pollard and Frank Harris and ordered that they be hanged May 29. This was done in order to prevent further legal complications.

Judge Dobson did not have an opportunity to hear evidence and arguments this morning on the writ of habeas corpus for the release of Pollard and Harris. Before the proceedings were called Judge Dobson was served with a writ of certiorari issued by the supreme court. A writ of certiorari is an order issued by a superior court to a court of inferior jurisdiction and powers, requiring it to send up the proceedings in a case. It is simply the lifting of a case from a lower court to a higher one. At 9 o'clock this forenoon Marshal Keshlear took Pollard and Harris before Judge Dobson, in answer to the habeas corpus writ. Judge Dobson then notified the marshal officially of the writ of certiorari and remanded the prisoners to the marshal's custody again. Judge Dobson then ordered Clerk Stonestreet to certify the records of the proceedings to the supreme court, as directed in the writ, and that ended the case for to-day.

If the supreme court decides Monday that Judge Dobson had jurisdiction to issue the writ as he did, it will send the case back to him. If it decides otherwise, Pollard and Harris will be hanged, unless respited by the governor.

A WAR REMINISCENCE.

SCENES AT HATCHER'S CREEK AND PETERSBURG RECALLED.

John A. Scace Speaks to a Reporter of Stirring Scenes - Escaped With a Slight Wound, But, Like Other Veterans, Has Suffered Since—A Story that Reads Like a Page from History.

From the Albany (N. Y.) Journal. John B. Scace, the widely known contractor and building mover of Albany, N. Y., has had an unusually interesting life, and when seen by a reporter recently at his home, No. 15 Bradford street, told of his many experiences and adventures while serving under the old flag in the late war. Although having endured all the hardships and privations of life in the ranks, Mr. Scace bears his more than half a century of years with an elastic step and a keen mind, taking an active interest in private and public affairs. Mr. Scace is a member of Berkshire Lodge, No. 52, I. O. O. F. He enlisted in the army in 1862, in Company A, Forty-ninth Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry, serving under Col. W. F. Bartlett, First Brigade, First Division, Nineteenth Corps, with which he participated in some of the hottest battles of the war, including Port Hudson, Donaldsonville and Plain Store, where he was wounded. His time being out, he was discharged, but soon re-enlisted as sergeant in Company A, Sixty-first Regiment, Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry. He was in the battle of Hatcher's Run, the fight about Petersburg, and the battle of Sailor's Creek.

After his honorable discharge, June business and social interests. He has resided in the city ever since. It would seem that now, of all times, his peace and happiness would have been uninterrupted. Such was not to be the case, for four years ago, while engaged in superintending the raising of an immense smokestack of the Albany Electric power-house, the lever of a loosened windlass struck him a heavy blow across the back. The effect of the blow was not at first apparent, he being able to leave his bed in a few lence. Untold agony followed.

Said Mr. Scace: "I could not sleep for the pain. No one will know the tortures the rheumatism gave me. I don't know how I lived during those ard having attempted to strangle her. days.
