The Campus Corner

By Stella Woodlee

The campus crowd and Lincoln young adults turned out en masse at the street dance last Friday. The music by the Jimmy Phillips Combo proved to be real smooth, and Carol Jean's crooning was very easy listening. The Union treated everyone to free birthday cake and cokes.

The fifty-odd mile stretch from here to Omaha was extremely busy this weekend. Friday afternoon, several carloads of Omaha University students visited N. U. campus. After cokes, cards, and shit-chat, they returned to the "big city." Carlene Foxall, Joan and Jan McCaw, Bob Fairchild, and Bruzy Bryant were in Omaha this weekend. Florence Scott, of Omaha, visited Shirley Thomas Friday and Saturday here at the U. Bernie Hunt was here to see Shirley, Sunday.

The sixty-fourth annual Ivy Day celebration was held on campus Saturday. Next year's Innocents and Mortar Boards were tapped and the May Queen, Miss Julie Johnson, was presented. The winners of the Ivy Day Sing were the Kappa Tau Sorority and the Sigma Chi Fraternity.

Sports Cavalcade

By Burt F. Newton

Curt Roberts, Denver Bears second baseman, will have his best year in the Western League if he keeps up his early season pace. The former Kansas City Monarch player is fielding brilliantly and is currently hitting at a .333 pace. Known affectionately to his teammates as "Little Man," he has been getting his share of walks as the leadoff man for the Mile High City team.

Roberts has three home runs at this time. This represents his total for the 1952 season. The Denver Bears had five tan players in the lineup in a game with Des Moines last week. Al Osorio was on the mound and dropped an 11-inning 2-1 decision in his first start of the season. Bobby Prescott, Osorio's fellow Panamanian, was at third base, Curt Roberts at second, Clint (Butch) McCord at first and Andy Anderson in rightfield.

Osorio was one of the two 20-game winners in the Western League last year.

Pope Having Troubles

Bill Pope, ace slinger for Colorado Springs, has been having trouble getting started this spring. Pope has not been able to finish either of his two starts this spring. Big Bill was a dependable starter and reliever last year. He had a 13 won and 4 lost record for 1952.

Sam Hairston again promises to be one of the Western League's top hitters. The Colorado Springs catcher is hitting .333 and receiving in the same manner that resulted in selection to the 1952 Western League All Star team.

Future Pirate at Billings, Mont.?

Playing for Billings in the Pioneer Class C League are three tan players who hope to make the jump to the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The young Pirates are Tom Watson, Charlotte, N.C., Robert Long, Brooklyn, and Pablo Bernard from Panama.

Watson is a first baseman. Only 18, he throws right and bats from the left side. He is 6 feet 1 inch in height and weighs 170. Watson had hit safely in his first ten games with Billings. He saw some service with St. Johns in the Provincial League last year.

Robert Long is a 20-year-old pitcher. He is 6 feet 3 inches and weighs over 200. He had an 11-14 win and loss record with St. Johns last year and was the Provincial League's strikeout artist.

Pablo Bernard is playing shortstop. Bernard was with the Denver Bears last year.

Billings was the first team to play a Negro in the Pioneer

League. Eddie Moore was sent to the Montana city when Branch Rickey was with Brooklyn. Billings became a Pirate farm when Rickey switched to Pittsburgh.

Eddie Moore is still something of a legend in Billings. Coming out of the service near the end of last season, he was given a "Day" by the Billings fans.

Great Falls, Montana, Brooklyn farm, and Pocatello, Idaho, St. Louis Browns, are other Pioneer loop teams with tan players.

News from Quinn Chapel

Activities at Quinn Chapel unreported for the past few weeks have been going along as usual. Services have been well attended. Boards and Auxiliaries have met regularly and seem inspired to make this a banner year in the history of the Church. Attendance at Prayer Meeting is increasing and the Pastor has praised the Church for its loyalty and its apparent desire for Spiritual Blessings.

Solve a Crime
BY A.C. GORDON

You have been taking part in a big "man-hunt," which has led you to a hunting lodge nestled in the foothills of a mountainous section of the country. You have been investigating the whereabouts of Louis LeBlanc, notorious gang leader who has recently broken prison. Reports have come to you of two mysterious occupants of the hunting lodge who had aroused the suspicions of the lodge's owner because of their extremely unfriendly dispositions and also because they both carried shoulder holsters.

Tom Baker, the owner, tells you upon your arrival that the two men, who had signed their names on the register as Jack Munn and Howard Nelson, had gone out hunting towards the north end of the lake the previous day and had not returned.

Women's Day Committee was also unusually successful. Mrs. Bessie Ambers was chairman for the sponsoring unit. The Sunday evening inspirational services sponsored by the Stewardness Board, were truly inspirational. The Pastor of Mt. Zion Baptist Church and his Choir, provided the program. Rev. W. I. Monroe, is the Pastor of Mt. Zion Church, Mrs. Jennie Edwards is chairman of the Board. The Mother's Day Breakfast and program, sponsored by the Calendar Club, last Sunday, was very appropriate. At the morning services the following persons participated in the program: Mrs. Roberta Molden, Mrs. Betty Rose Woods, Mrs. Mary Sampson, and Mrs. Katherine Huston, pres. of the club. Local Mothers honored were: Mrs. Ester Conrad, Mrs. Rachael Fields, Mrs. Cordelia Walker, Mrs. Ida Belle McWilliams, Mrs. Corrine Williams, and Mrs. Evelyn Irving. Some mothers previously honored received corsages: Mrs. Walter Colley, Mrs. Susie Marshall, Mrs. William Woods and Mrs. James Dean.

You and the lodge detective set out for the north end of the lake and eventually arrive at the cabin which has been erected there for the convenience of overnight hunters, and inside on one of the bunks you find the body of a man with his head blown to pieces. The lodge detective, Ed Sellers, goes through the man's pockets and finds a torn part of a letter signed "L. LeBlanc," which identifies him as a member of the escaped convict's gang. You also know that the members of LeBlanc's gang have been openly on the search for the member of a rival gang who framed LeBlanc and was responsible for his landing in prison.

The only other information you can find is contained in other torn pieces of paper lying on the floor, which when put together reveal they were part of a letter being written by Munn to another gang member telling that he had discovered by accident that Nelson was the man who had framed LeBlanc and that they had had a fight about it.

"Well," declares Sellers, "we've now got a killer on the prowl. If only we knew who this fellow is, we'd know which one to look for."

"That's easy to decide," you say. "How do you know which of the two is the dead man, and which the killer?"

SOLUTION

Since you found the part of the letter in the dead man's pocket which identified him as a member of LeBlanc's gang and since LeBlanc had been framed by a member of a rival gang, as discovered by Munn to be Nelson, then obviously the dead man is Munn.

she'd be home later than planned from the dance.

That simple telephone call eased our parental minds because we worry when she's late.

It proves again that telephone service is a double bargain. The calls you receive are often worth even more than the calls you make."
