Paper From Your Own State at Special Price I've listened to philosophers discuss

When Taken Together With The Commoner

The publishers of the papers enumerated below, realizing that all democratic and independent voters should read reliable democratic literature, and feeling that a wider circulation of The Commoner in their respective communities will help the cause of good government, are making sufficient financial sacrifice to enable them to agree to accept subscriptions for their own paper, and also include a year's subscription to The Commoner, at the prices shown below. This makes a happy combination and will enable democratic workers in the sev-eral communities to assist in promoting the democratic campaign of education. We urge upon demo-cratic workers the importance of co-operating with these publishers. In extending the circulation of these papers, you have a local paper to defend the efforts of the democratic party locally and The Commoner to discuss and defend democratic principles from a national standpoint. The "Whichness of the Whyfore," and talk on "The Social State." I've heard them carefully expound some abtruse problem vexed.

But "Jesus and Him Crucified" seems a forgotten text.

And so I have made up my mind to start a new campaign

To get the preachers to begin to preach of Christ again; And as the quickest way I know to gain the needed end I'm going to start prayer meetings like mother used to 'tend.

O, what a sweet memory it isthe memory of the mid-week prayer meeting in the little village church! Molly Delph at the organ, father sitting up in front and mother over in the corner with a pretty fidgety boy by her side. And every week Molly Delph's deft fingers would make that little old organ fairly talk, and father would lead in singing that grand old song that we hear too seldom in these days of salaried choirs:

"Sweet hour of prayer, sweet hour of prayer,

That calls me from a world of care; And bids me at my Father's throne Make all my wants and wishes known."

Good old days-gone forever, but still lingering in memory. Good old songs, too seldom sung, but still dear to the hearts of all of us "old timers."

But come on with your favorite songs and your favorite stories. We'll make room for them somehow or other. Let's have a regular oldtimers' reunion.
