A "Singer" is Always the Pride

The Singer Sewing Machine is recognized all over the world for its quality, perfection, and all models are made by the same clever hands. It needs no explanation. Singer machines are made by the same expert hands of Shettle, Rotary Hook, and every other Outfitting Machine. They are so well known that there is no need to point to the name Singer on her machine. Singer has established her claim for the best in every home and every shop, so the outstanding quality of the goods on sale is able to buy the best of its kind should be in the hand. It is better to buy one good article than two or three poor ones. If you cannot get the best, get the best that you can afford.

There are always good colored designs on the market, and in the remembrances they're often excellent values for reduced prices. For general use there are many in family, and children, they are very good. It is not a matter of getting a quality that will bear the test of time. The faded table cloth always looks dingy. The white damask of the best for earning quality, if of the same grade of quality and if the laundry is not in question, it pays to use it all the time; but it adds to the work of the laundry. Table clothes should have a quarter-inch hem, and napkins should have a narrow rolled hem. The edge should be overhanded with very fine cotton, with the scallops straight across, which is known as the napery stitch. Linen for bedroom clothing is better than cotton, but cotton fabrics are excellent, and are more comfortable than not; cotton wears and launderings well. Sheets should have a wide hem at the top and open at the bottom; linen sheets are nice if hemstitching is added to them, but to hemstitch cotton. Hem by hand, if possible.

Pillow cases should be overhanded at the sides, if the single width is used; but the tube cotton is better. Inserting embroidery in is above, with a ruffle or lace on the edge, is a pretty way to finish pillow slips. Hem-stitching is good for slips.

For the Toilet

Crude toiletries is one of the best applicants for thin hair, and should be rubbed on the scalp, as it is to the roots of the hair nourishing. Vaseline is a preparation of asphalt, and is excellent for the hair. It could be applied directly on the scalp, through the hair, or the roots, and could not be used so as to make the hair oily. When a hair is growing scant on the temple they have been told, it helps its growth.

An extra hair tonic is composed of tincture of cantharides, one ounce; 2 drams; 2 drams of rosemary, one-half dram of cologne, eight ounces. Apply to the scalp with a pin every other night.

So that easily chapped skin, very hot water is bad for the hands, and up is very cold water. A little powdered borax in the water will help.

FRIENDLY TIP

Restored Hope and Confidence

After several years of indigestion and anxiety, the mind is not very surprising and it finally loses faith in things generally.

A. N. woman writes an interesting letter, which left me in a most miserable condition. After over two years I suffered from an indigestion which left me in a most miserable condition and tried to

And people, my appetite was ravenous but I felt starved all the time. I had plenty of food but it did not nourish the body because of indigestion. Medical treatment did not seem to help. So I got discouraged, stopped medicine and did not care much whether I lived or died.

"One day a friend told me why I didn't try Grape-Nuts food, not drinking medicine and use Postum. I had lost faith in everything, but to please my friend I began to use both and soon became very well."

"It wasn't long before I got some strength, a decided change in my system, hope came up in me and slowly but surely I got better. I feel very well. I am not craving for food ceased and I have better health than before the attack of indigestion."

"My husband and I are still using Grape-Nuts food and Postum."
