

THE HUBBELLS' MONEY.

The Stocking Leg Treasury Door Was Opened.

AVOCA'S MAN IS IN JAIL.

The Old Soldiers Have Closed Their Reunion at Greenwood and Returned Home—Other Affairs of Interest.

THE HUBBELLS ARE FLESH.

Tuesday was pay day and today the Hubbells families were out riding in a hack and seemed to have more money than anybody. While they were driving around in all their glory Deputy Sheriff John Tighe nabbed them and surrendered them in police court and asked to have the sheriff released from their hands stating that he was acting for Sheriff Wm. Tighe.

Judge Archer released the Sheriff from the bonds of Mrs. Hubble and Nellie Smith, but still holds him as security for Hubble who is out of the city.

They have until Monday to perfect their appeal or forfeit $30. Hubble is expected by that time when it is supposed there will be further developments.

The inmates of the Hubbell dive did not want to go to jail and tried to induce Archer to accept a chattel mortgage upon Mrs. Hubble's household goods, which he refused to do. She was told that nothing would go except money or good personal security. She then asked the court how much money would have to be forthcoming to secure their release, and when told that the least amount would have to be enough to cover the fines and costs, which amounted to $80, she stepped into another room for a minute and came back and deposited with the court the required amount.

REUNION AT GREENWOOD.

The third annual re-union of the Grand Army of the Republic for the district comprising Cass, Lancaster, Saunders and Sarpy counties is now in full blast at Greenwood and the town is alive with veterans from all over the country, and the streets and business houses are decorated with the national colors.

The meeting is being held a half mile west of town in a grove, which for natural beauty and density of shade, is almost perfection. Under the able management of J. B. Ferguson, president, and P. S. Galley secretary. The occasion is proving to be very successful. A long line of tents marks the southern limit to the grounds, back of which flows Salt Creek, and in the center a platform for speakers has been erected, with seats in front for the accommodation of hundreds. The camp is well supplied with the purest well water and all camp supplies necessary are as free as water.

Major Jackson's martial band furnished the music for opening day and for to-day and to-morrow the Ashland band will be heard. Ex-Governor Shedd of Ashland, delivered the opening address Tuesday followed by a camp-fire-love-feast in the evening, at which local orators addressed the crowd. Yesterday was devoted to the Relief Corps department, the principal event being a most eloquent and instructive address by Miss Gadd of Lincoln. The ladies are out in large numbers and take special interest in the program.

Wednesday was the Grand Army of the Republic day and the leading speaker is Rev. Mr. Calkins of Ashland. Friday, closing day will be devoted to the old settlers re-union. Judge Maxwell will be among the number present and address the meeting. It will also be a B. F. Fuller of Ashland.

Every train is bringing in recruits to the already large gatherings and much enthusiasm is manifested, not only by the veterans but by the ladies and citizens of the surrounding country.

Thursday was the third day of the reunion being held at the beautiful grounds near Greenwood. The day was pleasant, and before 10 a. m. the camp ground presented an animated appearance. The Lincoln train brought Hon. J. H. Foxworthy, Major McArthur and others. President Ferguson called the meeting to order and introduced Rev. Mr. Calkins of Ashland, who spoke very much to the point and satisfactory to the old vets. Messrs. Spellman and Pittman of Lincoln also spoke to their old comrades. The officers were elected as follows: President, Major Henry Sudduth, vice-president, Colonel John M. Mathews; secretary, Ira Tinkham; treasurer, E. C. Coleman. In the afternoon Mr. H. C. McArthur of Lincoln was the first speaker. After telling of wars, desolation and sacrifices of the soldiers he spoke of the justice of the pension

GOV. BOYD GIVES IT UP.

No Hope for Cleveland Carrying Nebraska.

MR. TATE'S MANLY TALK.

A Burlington Wreck at Lincoln—The New York Tribune and the Labor Unions are Working Now in Harmony.

NOT A CALAMITY SUCCESS.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 16.—Speaking about the political outlook in his state, Governor Boyd of Nebraska, who is making a tour of the west, to-day said: "Cleveland will lose Nebraska, because we will vote for Weaver for the purpose of beating Harrison. We shall put out our national ticket, but will support Weaver, as there is no hope of straight success."

SIR TATE'S ELIGIBILITY.

Free by Wednesday's papers that a question as to my eligibility to hold the office of lieutenant-governor has arisen. In view of this fact I make the following statement:

On the 4th day of March, 1879, at Buffalo, N. Y., I filed my first papers or "declaration of intention." About two years later I went to Buffalo to file my final papers but could not do so, as the time required by law had not quite expired. In the fall of 1881 I moved to this state, and the fact that I could vote on my "first papers" led me, as it has thousands of others, to neglect taking out final papers. When the contest as to the citizenship of Governor Boyd arose I recalled my own neglect and as soon as it was convenient I filed my papers and completed my citizenship. This I did on the 5th day of February, 1891. I was under the impression that the terms of citizenship were in the form of a contract and that when the final papers were filed citizenship dated back to the filing of the "declaration of intention."

These are the plain facts in the case, and if they constitute ineligibility then it is the duty of the state central committee to at once substitute another name for mine for the office of lieutenant-governor.

I love this land of my adoption. Her stars and stripes are more to me than tongue or pen can utter, and I would rather know I have been a citizen of this country for eighteen months than to be lieutenant-governor without such citizenship.

I am a republican. I believe in republican principles. I am proud of the glorious achievements the party has wrought, and though my name be taken from the ticket, my ardor will not be dampened nor my zeal lessened in the coming campaign. In office or out of office, in storm or sunshine, I am always a republican.

J. G. TATE.

NEBRASKA'S AT DENVER.

The black tent of the Nebraska grand commandery Knights Templar located at the head of Sixteenth street, Denver, is a conspicuous object in the neighborhood. It is made more so by the festivities and good cheer that prevail there. All around the tent stand shocks of Nebraska corn, wheat, oats and grasses. There are also some monster imitations of the Nebraska sugar beet. Every day an immense collection of flowers is received from Omaha, and every visitor to the Nebraska headquarters is presented with a rosebud tied with narrow white ribbon, on which is printed the words "Knights Templar, Nebraska." Another strong feature is the punch bowl—a big corn basket lined with tin and filled with delicious claret punch. Perhaps the most interesting of all Nebraska's attractions are the two ballyho coaches brought from Omaha. They were seen everywhere Thursday, gilt lettering on the sides and the tooting horns thrust through the windows indicating that Nebraska was having a good time. Nebraska's fair delegates rode all day in them taking their lady visitors on a jaunt over the city. The ladies who led in this unique mode of entertaining and who also welcomed the visitors to the tent were Mrs. Salisbury, wife of the Nebraska grand commander; Miss Smiley, the Misses Bowen, daughters of the grand record of the state; Mrs. Horton and Mrs. Lissell. They were assisted by the grand officers of the Nebraska commandery.

PLATTSMOUTH ILLUSTRATED.

THE HERALD visited the office of Chairman Windham of the Improvement Committee this afternoon and examined the new map of the eastern half of Nebraska and the western part of Iowa, which shows Plattsouth's superior location to advantage. It gives a large, comprehensive view of the surroundings and will be a great aid to strangers in seeing the advantages at a glance possessed by this town. Various and finely executed photographs, illustrating the views to be enjoyed here, were also examined. There are views of Main and Sixth streets, the principal line residences including those of Messrs. Cummins, Craig, George Davey, Oliver Davey, Weckbach, White and others—of the Presbyterian, Episcopal and Tabernacle churches, the Riley, City and Perkins hotels, and a number of the business houses. Mr. Windham states that the committee will have the books out in time for the Advertising Train. Whether or not Cass will have an exhibit on the train depends upon the quick or slow action of the citizens.

WANTED IN OMAHA.

Thomas Burke made a daring and successful escape from the Hyde Park police station in Chicago about 10 o'clock Thursday morning. He jumped from a second story window after prying off an iron bar, dropped a distance of

GOV. BOYD GIVES IT UP.

No Hope for Cleveland Carrying Nebraska.

MR. TATE'S MANLY TALK.

A Burlington Wreck at Lincoln—The New York Tribune and the Labor Unions are Working Now in Harmony.

NOT A CALAMITY SUCCESS.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 16.—Speaking about the political outlook in his state, Governor Boyd of Nebraska, who is making a tour of the west, to-day said: "Cleveland will lose Nebraska, because we will vote for Weaver for the purpose of beating Harrison. We shall put out our national ticket, but will support Weaver, as there is no hope of straight success."

SIR TATE'S ELIGIBILITY.

Free by Wednesday's papers that a question as to my eligibility to hold the office of lieutenant-governor has arisen. In view of this fact I make the following statement:

On the 4th day of March, 1879, at Buffalo, N. Y., I filed my first papers or "declaration of intention." About two years later I went to Buffalo to file my final papers but could not do so, as the time required by law had not quite expired. In the fall of 1881 I moved to this state, and the fact that I could vote on my "first papers" led me, as it has thousands of others, to neglect taking out final papers. When the contest as to the citizenship of Governor Boyd arose I recalled my own neglect and as soon as it was convenient I filed my papers and completed my citizenship. This I did on the 5th day of February, 1891. I was under the impression that the terms of citizenship were in the form of a contract and that when the final papers were filed citizenship dated back to the filing of the "declaration of intention."

These are the plain facts in the case, and if they constitute ineligibility then it is the duty of the state central committee to at once substitute another name for mine for the office of lieutenant-governor.

I love this land of my adoption. Her stars and stripes are more to me than tongue or pen can utter, and I would rather know I have been a citizen of this country for eighteen months than to be lieutenant-governor without such citizenship.

I am a republican. I believe in republican principles. I am proud of the glorious achievements the party has wrought, and though my name be taken from the ticket, my ardor will not be dampened nor my zeal lessened in the coming campaign. In office or out of office, in storm or sunshine, I am always a republican.

J. G. TATE.

NEBRASKA'S AT DENVER.

The black tent of the Nebraska grand commandery Knights Templar located at the head of Sixteenth street, Denver, is a conspicuous object in the neighborhood. It is made more so by the festivities and good cheer that prevail there. All around the tent stand shocks of Nebraska corn, wheat, oats and grasses. There are also some monster imitations of the Nebraska sugar beet. Every day an immense collection of flowers is received from Omaha, and every visitor to the Nebraska headquarters is presented with a rosebud tied with narrow white ribbon, on which is printed the words "Knights Templar, Nebraska." Another strong feature is the punch bowl—a big corn basket lined with tin and filled with delicious claret punch. Perhaps the most interesting of all Nebraska's attractions are the two ballyho coaches brought from Omaha. They were seen everywhere Thursday, gilt lettering on the sides and the tooting horns thrust through the windows indicating that Nebraska was having a good time. Nebraska's fair delegates rode all day in them taking their lady visitors on a jaunt over the city. The ladies who led in this unique mode of entertaining and who also welcomed the visitors to the tent were Mrs. Salisbury, wife of the Nebraska grand commander; Miss Smiley, the Misses Bowen, daughters of the grand record of the state; Mrs. Horton and Mrs. Lissell. They were assisted by the grand officers of the Nebraska commandery.

PLATTSMOUTH ILLUSTRATED.

THE HERALD visited the office of Chairman Windham of the Improvement Committee this afternoon and examined the new map of the eastern half of Nebraska and the western part of Iowa, which shows Plattsouth's superior location to advantage. It gives a large, comprehensive view of the surroundings and will be a great aid to strangers in seeing the advantages at a glance possessed by this town. Various and finely executed photographs, illustrating the views to be enjoyed here, were also examined. There are views of Main and Sixth streets, the principal line residences including those of Messrs. Cummins, Craig, George Davey, Oliver Davey, Weckbach, White and others—of the Presbyterian, Episcopal and Tabernacle churches, the Riley, City and Perkins hotels, and a number of the business houses. Mr. Windham states that the committee will have the books out in time for the Advertising Train. Whether or not Cass will have an exhibit on the train depends upon the quick or slow action of the citizens.

WANTED IN OMAHA.

Thomas Burke made a daring and successful escape from the Hyde Park police station in Chicago about 10 o'clock Thursday morning. He jumped from a second story window after prying off an iron bar, dropped a distance of twenty feet, arose apparently uninjured, stole a horse and buggy belonging to S. Bumpus of 603 1/2 Aymour avenue and drove rapidly away. He is a desperate man and it is believed that if the score of officers now on his track ever come up with him there will be a bloody encounter if Burke can arm himself. The police station at Hyde Park has been abandoned and the temporary quarters are established in the rear of a livery stable in an alley near the corner of Lake avenue and Fifty-Third street. In the second story a small room has been set apart for the prisoners. The window is protected by iron bars. For several days carpenters have been working on this and adjoining rooms and much material was left on the floor. Burke, who was confined in the room pending a hearing secured a piece of plank and easily tore off several iron bars. Burke went Chicago from Omaha a month ago with young O'Rourke who was shot by a policeman Monday night. Burke is suspected of complicity with twenty-one burglaries and is wanted also on suspicion of complicity in a recent murder.

MR. TATE'S MANLY TALK.

A Burlington Wreck at Lincoln—The New York Tribune and the Labor Unions are Working Now in Harmony.

NOT A CALAMITY SUCCESS.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 16.—Speaking about the political outlook in his state, Governor Boyd of Nebraska, who is making a tour of the west, to-day said: "Cleveland will lose Nebraska, because we will vote for Weaver for the purpose of beating Harrison. We shall put out our national ticket, but will support Weaver, as there is no hope of straight success."

SIR TATE'S ELIGIBILITY.

Free by Wednesday's papers that a question as to my eligibility to hold the office of lieutenant-governor has arisen. In view of this fact I make the following statement:

On the 4th day of March, 1879, at Buffalo, N. Y., I filed my first papers or "declaration of intention." About two years later I went to Buffalo to file my final papers but could not do so, as the time required by law had not quite expired. In the fall of 1881 I moved to this state, and the fact that I could vote on my "first papers" led me, as it has thousands of others, to neglect taking out final papers. When the contest as to the citizenship of Governor Boyd arose I recalled my own neglect and as soon as it was convenient I filed my papers and completed my citizenship. This I did on the 5th day of February, 1891. I was under the impression that the terms of citizenship were in the form of a contract and that when the final papers were filed citizenship dated back to the filing of the "declaration of intention."

These are the plain facts in the case, and if they constitute ineligibility then it is the duty of the state central committee to at once substitute another name for mine for the office of lieutenant-governor.

I love this land of my adoption. Her stars and stripes are more to me than tongue or pen can utter, and I would rather know I have been a citizen of this country for eighteen months than to be lieutenant-governor without such citizenship.

I am a republican. I believe in republican principles. I am proud of the glorious achievements the party has wrought, and though my name be taken from the ticket, my ardor will not be dampened nor my zeal lessened in the coming campaign. In office or out of office, in storm or sunshine, I am always a republican.

J. G. TATE.

NEBRASKA'S AT DENVER.

The black tent of the Nebraska grand commandery Knights Templar located at the head of Sixteenth street, Denver, is a conspicuous object in the neighborhood. It is made more so by the festivities and good cheer that prevail there. All around the tent stand shocks of Nebraska corn, wheat, oats and grasses. There are also some monster imitations of the Nebraska sugar beet. Every day an immense collection of flowers is received from Omaha, and every visitor to the Nebraska headquarters is presented with a rosebud tied with narrow white ribbon, on which is printed the words "Knights Templar, Nebraska." Another strong feature is the punch bowl—a big corn basket lined with tin and filled with delicious claret punch. Perhaps the most interesting of all Nebraska's attractions are the two ballyho coaches brought from Omaha. They were seen everywhere Thursday, gilt lettering on the sides and the tooting horns thrust through the windows indicating that Nebraska was having a good time. Nebraska's fair delegates rode all day in them taking their lady visitors on a jaunt over the city. The ladies who led in this unique mode of entertaining and who also welcomed the visitors to the tent were Mrs. Salisbury, wife of the Nebraska grand commander; Miss Smiley, the Misses Bowen, daughters of the grand record of the state; Mrs. Horton and Mrs. Lissell. They were assisted by the grand officers of the Nebraska commandery.

PLATTSMOUTH ILLUSTRATED.

THE HERALD visited the office of Chairman Windham of the Improvement Committee this afternoon and examined the new map of the eastern half of Nebraska and the western part of Iowa, which shows Plattsouth's superior location to advantage. It gives a large, comprehensive view of the surroundings and will be a great aid to strangers in seeing the advantages at a glance possessed by this town. Various and finely executed photographs, illustrating the views to be enjoyed here, were also examined. There are views of Main and Sixth streets, the principal line residences including those of Messrs. Cummins, Craig, George Davey, Oliver Davey, Weckbach, White and others—of the Presbyterian, Episcopal and Tabernacle churches, the Riley, City and Perkins hotels, and a number of the business houses. Mr. Windham states that the committee will have the books out in time for the Advertising Train. Whether or not Cass will have an exhibit on the train depends upon the quick or slow action of the citizens.

WANTED IN OMAHA.

Thomas Burke made a daring and successful escape from the Hyde Park police station in Chicago about 10 o'clock Thursday morning. He jumped from a second story window after prying off an iron bar, dropped a distance of The Anthony Family.

Another of the Anthony family seems desirous of winning fame as a money maker. Eva Anthony was until Friday in the employ of E. W. Gibson at the Fifth Street Restaurant. She left for a visit home in the afternoon and on her return asked for her time and said she would quit work. Mrs. Gibson then discovered the loss of her pocket-book. At first she supposed it had simply been misplaced, but a search failed to bring it to light and the girl's continued and repeated denials of taking it when not accused finally caused suspicion to rest upon her. In addition to this fact Mrs. G. says the girl played "crooked" on her the day before in buying groceries and "put the difference in her pocket." The police will endeavor to unravel the mystery. The girl denies being guilty and it will be hard to prove it against her because the evidence, while strong, is wholly circumstantial. The book contained about eleven dollars.

MR. TATE'S MANLY TALK.

A Burlington Wreck at Lincoln—The New York Tribune and the Labor Unions are Working Now in Harmony.

NOT A CALAMITY SUCCESS.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 16.—Speaking about the political outlook in his state, Governor Boyd of Nebraska, who is making a tour of the west, to-day said: "Cleveland will lose Nebraska, because we will vote for Weaver for the purpose of beating Harrison. We shall put out our national ticket, but will support Weaver, as there is no hope of straight success."

SIR TATE'S ELIGIBILITY.

Free by Wednesday's papers that a question as to my eligibility to hold the office of lieutenant-governor has arisen. In view of this fact I make the following statement:

On the 4th day of March, 1879, at Buffalo, N. Y., I filed my first papers or "declaration of intention." About two years later I went to Buffalo to file my final papers but could not do so, as the time required by law had not quite expired. In the fall of 1881 I moved to this state, and the fact that I could vote on my "first papers" led me, as it has thousands of others, to neglect taking out final papers. When the contest as to the citizenship of Governor Boyd arose I recalled my own neglect and as soon as it was convenient I filed my papers and completed my citizenship. This I did on the 5th day of February, 1891. I was under the impression that the terms of citizenship were in the form of a contract and that when the final papers were filed citizenship dated back to the filing of the "declaration of intention."

These are the plain facts in the case, and if they constitute ineligibility then it is the duty of the state central committee to at once substitute another name for mine for the office of lieutenant-governor.

I love this land of my adoption. Her stars and stripes are more to me than tongue or pen can utter, and I would rather know I have been a citizen of this country for eighteen months than to be lieutenant-governor without such citizenship.

I am a republican. I believe in republican principles. I am proud of the glorious achievements the party has wrought, and though my name be taken from the ticket, my ardor will not be dampened nor my zeal lessened in the coming campaign. In office or out of office, in storm or sunshine, I am always a republican.

J. G. TATE.

NEBRASKA'S AT DENVER.

The black tent of the Nebraska grand commandery Knights Templar located at the head of Sixteenth street, Denver, is a conspicuous object in the neighborhood. It is made more so by the festivities and good cheer that prevail there. All around the tent stand shocks of Nebraska corn, wheat, oats and grasses. There are also some monster imitations of the Nebraska sugar beet. Every day an immense collection of flowers is received from Omaha, and every visitor to the Nebraska headquarters is presented with a rosebud tied with narrow white ribbon, on which is printed the words "Knights Templar, Nebraska." Another strong feature is the punch bowl—a big corn basket lined with tin and filled with delicious claret punch. Perhaps the most interesting of all Nebraska's attractions are the two ballyho coaches brought from Omaha. They were seen everywhere Thursday, gilt lettering on the sides and the tooting horns thrust through the windows indicating that Nebraska was having a good time. Nebraska's fair delegates rode all day in them taking their lady visitors on a jaunt over the city. The ladies who led in this unique mode of entertaining and who also welcomed the visitors to the tent were Mrs. Salisbury, wife of the Nebraska grand commander; Miss Smiley, the Misses Bowen, daughters of the grand record of the state; Mrs. Horton and Mrs. Lissell. They were assisted by the grand officers of the Nebraska commandery.

PLATTSMOUTH ILLUSTRATED.

THE HERALD visited the office of Chairman Windham of the Improvement Committee this afternoon and examined the new map of the eastern half of Nebraska and the western part of Iowa, which shows Plattsouth's superior location to advantage. It gives a large, comprehensive view of the surroundings and will be a great aid to strangers in seeing the advantages at a glance possessed by this town. Various and finely executed photographs, illustrating the views to be enjoyed here, were also examined. There are views of Main and Sixth streets, the principal line residences including those of Messrs. Cummins, Craig, George Davey, Oliver Davey, Weckbach, White and others—of the Presbyterian, Episcopal and Tabernacle churches, the Riley, City and Perkins hotels, and a number of the business houses. Mr. Windham states that the committee will have the books out in time for the Advertising Train. Whether or not Cass will have an exhibit on the train depends upon the quick or slow action of the citizens.

WANTED IN OMAHA.

Thomas Burke made a daring and successful escape from the Hyde Park police station in Chicago about 10 o'clock Thursday morning. He jumped from a second story window after prying off an iron bar, dropped a distance of

IF YOU WANT THE BEST, BUY THE CHARTER OAK, With the Wire Gauze Oven Doors. Thorough Satisfaction GUARANTEED.

Physicians Couldn't Cure Him. SHERMANVILLE, Hamilton Co., O., June, 1892. One bottle of Pastor Koenic's Nerve Tonic cured me entirely, after physicians had tried unsuccessfully for 8 months to relieve me of nervous debility. W. HURNNEFIELD.

A Child's Life Saved.

POPPIAN CHILD, Mont., March 9, 1891. My little girl, 8 years old, had St. Vitus dance so severe that she was perfectly helpless, lying on the bed and crying when awake and had to make 3 or 4 attempts to even speak or swallow. Our physician was in daily attendance, but she continued to grow worse until I began to use Pastor Koenic's Nerve Tonic; then she improved rapidly and now she is perfectly well. I am confident my child's life was saved by this medicine and I recommend it to all who have nervous trouble of any kind and no one can say too much in praise of it. J. W. BAKER.

FREE—A Valuable Book on Nervous Diseases sent free to any address and poor patients can also obtain this medicine free of charge.

This remedy has been prepared by the Reverend Pastor Koenic, of Fort Wayne, Ind., since 1858 and is now prepared under his direction by the KOENIG MED. CO., Chicago, Ill. Sold by Druggists at 25¢ per Bottle. 5 for $2.50. Express Extra 37¢.

Strictly Pure White Lead is the Best Paint.

Care is necessary though, to obtain strictly pure, as the market is flooded with so-called Pure White Leads that in reality contain but very little white lead.

The following analyses of two of these misleading brands show the exact proportion of genuine white lead they contain. The analyses describe the labels and brands on the packages and give the contents as follows:

Table with columns: Materials, Proportions, Analyzed by. Includes entries for 'C. F. Lawson & Co. Strictly Pure White Lead' and 'Masury's Railroad White Lead'.

We have a book which gives the analyses of a large number of misleading brands. If you are going to paint it will pay you to send for it.

In Painting use strictly pure White Lead (see that you get either "Southern," "Collier," or "Red Seal"), tint it with the National Lead Co.'s

Pure White Lead Tinting Colors, and you will have the best paint that it is possible to put on a building.

For sale by the best dealers in paints everywhere. NATIONAL LEAD CO., St. Louis Branch, Clark Avenue and Tenth Street, St. Louis, Mo.

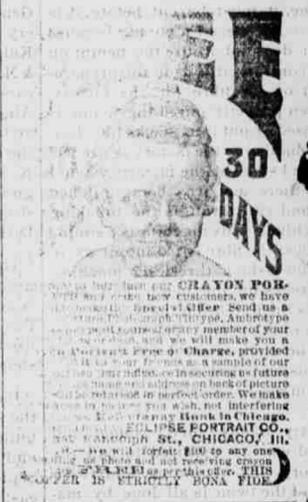

PAINS IN THE BACK

Usually indicate a disorder of the kidneys, and prompt measures should be taken to prevent serious trouble. Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm is what is known as Pullman Colicist Sleepers.

CLEARANCE SALE

OF KEEPER & SCHMIDTMANN FOR THE NEXT SIXTY DAYS. WE WILL SELL LIGHT HARNESS SADDLES, FLYNETS AND DUSTERS AT AND BELOW COST. PLATTSMOUTH NEBRASKA

Cream PURE RYE.

has become a household word because of its absolute purity, nutritive value, smooth taste and delicious bouquet. It is good for weak lungs and a stimulant for impaired constitutions. Unlike inferior whiskies, it does not rasp or scald the throat and stomach, nor cause nausea, dizziness and headache. You may know it by the above qualities, and the proprietary bottles in which it is served. Call for "Cream Pure Rye" and take no other. For sale at all first-class drinking places and drug stores. DALEMAN & CO. Chicago. For sale by Joe McVey.

FAT FOLKS REDUCED

per month by harmless herbal medicine. Dr. O. W. F. Snyder, 207 Indiana Ave., Chicago, Ill. Patients treated by mail confidential.

CANCER

Subjects need fear no longer from the King of Terrors, for by a most wonderful discovery in medicine, cancer on any part of the body can be permanently cured without the use of the knife. Dr. H. C. Davis, 363 1/2 St. Chicago.