

LOCAL NEWS.

The Indians are on the war path in Kansas, and frontier settlers are fleeing before them.

The District Court will commence its session in this city on Monday the 7th of next month.

E. T. Duke & Co. have wire enough to fence in Cass county.—Call and buy.

The News says the "Hon." Eli S. Shorter, of Alabama, will address the Democrats of Nebraska city to day on the issues before the people.

The Western Stage Company have commenced running two coaches a day between this city and Pacific, making close connection with all trains on the C. E. & St. Joe R. R.

Mr. Badenham, of the Sidney, Iowa, Union called at the Herald Sanction on Monday last. Madam Baden says that he also visited our city for the purpose of having the matrimonial knot tied.

Two young traveling scoundrels, one claiming to be a pressman, paid our city a visit last Monday, and on Tuesday morning relieved a money drawer of its contents and left hastily for Omaha.

We understand the "Orators" who were present at the democratic meeting felt badly about having Frank Blair advertised to speak here. They thought it was the same as to say that Poppleton and Morton could not draw very well.

Mr. C. H. Reno will be at Thomas' Photograph Gallery in this city next Friday (to-morrow) where he will remain for a short time. Reno is one of the finest artists in the west, as is already well known to the citizens of this county.

W. H. H. Waters, Esq., was in the city for two or three days last week. Mr. W. expects to start his paper in Nebraska City in the course of a few days, and expresses great hope of Oteo giving the Republican ticket a majority this fall.

We had intended to give more minutes details of the political meetings held here during the past week, but have been prevented in consequence of other important business which has engaged nearly our whole time.

Cooking, Box and Parlor Stoves, of all styles and prices are for sale by E. T. Duke & Co.

If the fall campaign is to be prosecuted by the Democratic orators on such arguments as they advanced at their big (?) meeting in this city on last Monday, we pity the calibre of mind that is affected by them, or that adheres to the party in consequence of them.

Marshal Murphy, fully understanding the situation, took the precaution to close the saloons in this city on the day of the Democratic Mass Meeting. The precaution was timely, for even then it kept the Sheriff, Marshal and some three or four deputies very busy to keep order, and prevent drunken brawls.

Moses Sydenham, Esq., of Ft. Kearney, proposes delivering lectures throughout the State this fall, and will be in this city sometime during the month of September. His subject will be "The Last Cause" rises again: Shall four years of civil war have been spent in vain?" Notice will be given of the time and place of the lectures.

We hope the Democracy of Cass will get up another "Demonstration" as soon as possible. The last one "soured" three men that we know of—all of whom formerly voted the ticket, but went home with the declaration in their mouths that "they were Democrats, but could not go that ticket." We hope "Pop." and "Mort." will come again.

Judge Wakely, late of Wisconsin, now making, or endeavoring to make, democratic speeches in this State, said during his effort in this place last Monday evening that he never knew a man to have "late" of such a State attached to his name but he was a rascal. Well, the Judge has "made his own bed," and we hope he will be able to stand it, if he is late of Wisconsin.

We publish to-day an article from the Toledo Blade on the subject of the flour and wheat market. It appears as an editorial in that Journal. It may be correct, and it may not; we leave that to the judgement of our farmer readers. We do not believe, however, that it can apply with any great force to Nebraska, and hope our farmers will scan the prospect well before acting upon it.

If you want an article made at home for honest service, buy your tin ware of E. T. Duke & Co.

The Democracy of Plattsmouth have actually "smelled powder." They fired about a pound last Monday morning in the vain endeavor to awake Frank Blair from his drunken slumbers, but the thing "couldn't be did." Some ungenerous Republicans suggested it was an endeavor to "awake Nicodemus," as that was the anniversary of the freedom of St. Domingo.

The three men recently committed by Judge Gage for trial on the charge of being banded with others for the purpose of stealing horses, were brought before Judge Mason last Friday on a writ of habeas corpus. At the request of the prosecution the examination was continued for two weeks for the purpose of securing more evidence, and the prisoners were remanded to jail.

The Republicans of Rock Bluffs completed the organization of a Grant and Colfax Club last Tuesday evening, by the election of officers, and other necessary arrangements. Speeches were made by Mayor Pottenger, Gen. Livingston and Hon. J. E. Doom. The Republicans of Rock Bluffs are awake to the importance of a thorough organization, and will give Grant and Colfax and the State and County tickets a clear majority.

Morton repeated his speech here Monday evening. There were several persons present who had never heard it, and they appeared to enjoy it as much as a circus. It was old to many of the audience, however. The only new argument (?) presented by him why "rotten radicals" should be "hurled from power" was that Gov. Butler had purchased a table (he didn't say whether it was a parlor table or a kitchen table) from Gen. Hitchcock, for which he paid $15, and "ranting, rotten radicals" in Congress should be "hurled from power" in consequence.

Prof. W. H. Cushman is in the city, and will open a school to-morrow (Friday) morning, for the purpose of teaching the art of penmanship, at the Brick School House. He will give two lessons a day,—one from 8 to 10 o'clock a. m., and one from 4 to 6 o'clock p. m. He gives 12 lessons for the small sum of $1.50; and if, at the end of that time, the pupil can execute one tenth part as good work as the Prof. can he will have no cause to regret the expense or time. Do not lose this opportunity of gaining a correct knowledge of the principals of penmanship.

I have been told that the precinct of Weeping Water has just finished harvesting a crop of eighteen babies this year. When we remember that the precinct has only about 100 voters we will see that the soil is remarkable productive. I do not believe Illinois or Missouri could beat that. The last one was a gift to the Congregational Parsonage. She was born a Sunday morning recently, and it was eminently fitting that a Parson's daughter should. They say (but I don't believe it) that she commenced quoting scripture the first day of her existence, namely: "Children are an heritage from the Lord. Blessed is the man who has his quiver full of them."

Porter made a speech of acceptance in the Omaha Convention in which he claimed the nomination was "very unexpected," and that he never gave his consent until the day previous. Oh, modesty! Thou certainly must have taken up thy permanent habitation in the breast of Mr. Porter. We suppose Mr. Porter will now claim that he never worked a minute to secure the nomination, but he will have a hard time of it making Croxon believe that. The democrats of this city did not appear to be much worried about obtaining his "consent," even months before the convention—even at the time they worked so hard to get him elected President of the Plattsmouth Pacific R. R. Co. in order that it might be used in this place as an argument in favor of his election.

Cash paid for Wheat by CLARK & PLUMMER.

There is a class of "roughs" in this, as well as in most other localities, who appear to think they can follow Frank Blair's doctrine of forcibly "tramping into the dust" the laws of the country without being held accountable therefor, by either the law or public sentiment. They will violate law with impunity, and then threaten dire vengeance upon those who dare to attempt their vindication or who dare to deny that they have the "Divine right," on account of their "blood," to carry into practice on a small scale the doctrine which Frank Blair proclaims on a more extensive plan. It may as well be understood at once that the Herald will never cease to denounce such violations of law, whether advocated by Frank Blair on a large scale or by those who confine themselves to "tramping into the dust" the laws of the city of Plattsmouth. We make these remarks at this time because certain parties seem to dispute our right to take this course. We hope we are now understood.

The Republican State Central Committee held a meeting in this city last Thursday, and the Grant and Colfax Club concluded it would be a fitting opportunity to have a few speeches. It was there fore announced, and as enthusiastic a meeting as we have ever attended was held in the Court House. In the afternoon, speeches were made by the Hon. John Taffa, Member of Congress, Gov. Butler and ex Gov. Saunders. They presented sound arguments for the Republican faith that was in them, in strange contrast with the windy harangues heard here last Monday. In the evening, the Court House was again filled to its utmost capacity, and stirring appeals to the lovers of free government were made by Maj. Strunk, Gen. S. A. Strickland, Hon. J. I. Redick, Capt. J. C. Cowin and Chief Justice O. P. Mason. We did not observe many Democrats in the audience, but we will guarantee that if there was one present who was not completely case-hardened he went away with his faith shaken in regard to the Democratic theory of conducting this government. Such logical arguments as were adduced by Chief Justice Mason, and the others cannot fail to impress the minds of honest men with the heresies of the doctrines of the Democratic party as applicable to a Republican form of Government. The day was very unpropitious for an audience, as the rain continued to fall all day; yet about 300 Republicans gathered to hear the speakers, and went away feeling that they were amply repaid.

Our Democratic friends have had their big demonstration in this city, and they do now rest from their labors. They had a big time, hoisted the American flag for the first time in eight years, and had about 300 Democrats and 200 Republicans to witness the strange sight. Speeches were made by Messrs. Goss, Cooper, Porter, Poppleton, Savage, Brown, Wakeley and Morton, and a great many funny things were said and done, some of which we shall take occasion to notice as soon as we have time to write them up. Frank Blair's speech did not amount to much, and the committee forgot to read the dispatch that he could not be here. Cooper received the flag and threatened the country with terrible war if the Democracy were not allowed to succeed—said the flag was a Democratic flag and no other party should bear it. (Now, Cooper, please do us Rads. have some interest in the "old flag. It is no reason your party should monopolize it merely because we have done so for six years.) Porter got a letter from some one and read it to the multitude (the multitude did not appear to be much interested in it—it may have been in relation to the price of butter). He bid hearty for the Republican vote of Cass county, but did not say whether or not he would have the Capital removed here if elected—he is too sharp for that. He paid his compliments to the Herald, and retired in good order, without uttering a syllable. Porter is endeavoring to run for Gov. of Cass county—or the State of Nebraska. He said no one could live upon the salary allowed the Gov.—or the feller that wrote the letter said so, but didn't tell how he expected to get the balance of his living. We did not hear all of Poppleton's speech, but understand he paid his compliments to the Herald like a little man, and held up on his speech when it rained. Poppleton is said to be a very weighty fellow, and we expect he is. We shall have something to say about this big meeting again. It was an immense affair, and gave general satisfaction to Republicans, and we suppose to Democrats too.

Judging from a brief survey of the "little page" of the "work" upon which Dan has secured the "copyright," we should pronounce it a "fat take." We hope to see various "abridgements" and "new editions" as time rolls on, which will all bear the "imprint" of the "author."

DIED. Near Eight Mile Grove, on Tuesday, August 11th, 1868, ABRAM, infant son of Michael and Mary Archer. Aged 4 months and 4 days.

Nine Years in a Hosiery Factory. For nine years past, I have been connected with hosiery manufacturing; and I am free to state that, of the different kinds of Sewing Machines, I have found none so well adapted for general use in making up hosiery goods as the Wilcox & Gibbs. Fifty per cent more work can be done on it than upon any other machine in a given time; while the cost for repairs is at least five times less.—Letter of J. P. DeLahunt, Overseer at Adams Hosiery Mills, Cohoes, N. Y.

BLACK HAWK Two Horse WALKING CULTIVATOR. By practical experiments in the field and by testification with the best Walking Cultivators made, they have been brought to a state approaching Perfection.

In construction, the cultivator consists of two vertical iron wheels, arched and well braced. The wheels are simply two iron beams with DOUBLE SHOVEL PLOWS attached to the axle by a double joint which gives the shovel an easy, but at the same time perfectly true vertical and horizontal motion.

The cultivator is simple and fastened to the arch of the axle by a double joint, that it can be raised or lowered at will, when the ground is rising, reducing draft, and raised when the ground is higher. The shovels are furnished with Reversible Teeth,

So that the soil can be thrown either to or from the corn. The Plows are connected by means of loose coupling, which enable the plowman to control both Plows by holding one.

The following are a few of the advantages of this cultivator which the Cultivator has over others: 1. It is stronger and lighter, being made almost entirely of wrought iron.

2. The double points by which the shovels are attached to the axle enable the plowman to move his plow either to or from the corn or lift it out of the ground with the least effort.

3. With this Cultivator the depth of the furrow can be regulated, plowing shallow or deep whether the ground is hard or soft.

4th. By means of the loose coupling which connects the two plows you can make the two plows run any distance apart that you may desire. With either plow it is almost impossible to hold both shovels when throwing earth to the side, and to keep them from crowding together when plowing from the corn.
