During the progress of the storm last Saturday evening, (one of the severest of the way with which this country has been visited for many years) the roof of the carriage shed belonging to Mr. John W. Sanoon, gave way beneath its weight of snow, and several injured a great number of his fine pieces of vehicles.

We have been unable to learn the exact amount of damage done, but hope that it may be much less than was at first expected.

Mr. Mahin, of the Muscatine Journal, called on the Herald this week. He was the original founder of the Journal and has labored in the sanctum for the past fifteen years, until recently when he turned the management of the establishment over to his sons. Mr. M. has been speculating in land in Neb. and finds it a better paying business than publishing a paper.

The mail from Nebraska City arrived late Tuesday evening, two days out. The driver Mr. Roberts, started with a cough, but was compelled to abandon it and work his way through the snow with the mail on horseback. He did not attempt to follow the road, but wound around to avoid snow drifts, keeping in the timber as much as possible, being compelled to make a track through the drifts in many places before his horses could get through. Mr. Roberts was the first carrier in after the storm.

Snow commenced falling on Wednesday evening of last week, and continued almost incessantly till last Monday morning, when it fell about two feet in depth. The wind commenced blowing Sunday evening, and by Monday morning the snow was drifted so that it was a most impossible to go from house in any direction. Roads were impassable, mails stopped, and travelers were compelled to await the opening of lines of travel. It is the heaviest fall of snow ever known in the State.

Cash Paid for Pork. December 2nd, 1868. Messrs. M. H. & Foster of Muscatine, Iowa, are in the city looking about for a suitable tract of land to convert into a nursery. They are both experienced surveyors, and have, at Muscatine, one of the finest nurseries in that State. We understand they have decided upon retaining here, and are only waiting to decide upon which tract of land—among several they have viewed—they will purchase before commencing operations in the nursery line. We welcome them to Plattsmouth, and hope, as we doubt not, their enterprise will prove a complete success.

We have just had upon our table, the initial number of the Central Union Agriculturist and Missouri Valley Farmer, edited by J. Bohm, and published monthly by Redfield Bros., at Omaha, Neb. If the succeeding numbers should prove as entertaining as this, the first one, Nebraska will have an Agricultural paper of which she may well be proud. It is filled with articles which will prove of great interest to the Western farmer, and which will more than repay the cost of subscription, by the instruction they will afford. We would cordially recommend it to all live farmers of Cass county particularly, and everywhere generally.
