Enterprise.

Enterprise, and describes the Baroccos De Lina's poultry establishment at Belair, in France.

Colonel Anderson concludes his papers on General Sherman in Europe and the East. The illustrations represent notable points on the Black Sea, in the Eastern Caucasus, and in Russia.

In a very interesting paper, apropos of the recent publication of Col. Pike's book on Mauritius, Mr. S. S. Coffan, under the title of "The Home of Paul Virginia," describes the natural scenery of the island, and some customs of its inhabitants.

Mr. M. P. Handy contributes "In Tobacco Factory," and her description of the manufacture of tobacco is characteristically illustrated by W. L. Shepard.

An interesting article, full of anecdotes of "Detective Pinkerton," is contributed by General Randolph B. Marcy.

Charles Beade's novel, "A Simpleton," is concluded in this Number. The publishers announce that this is to be immediately followed by a thrilling serial story, "The Living Link," illustrated by W. L. Shepard.

Three interesting novelettes are contributed for this Number—"A Loss to the Profession," by Mrs. Frank McCarthy; "who was Right" by D. R. Castleton; and "Dut Taddeus," a bright little juvenile sketch, by Ellis Gray.

The poetry of the Number is contributed by Alfred H. Louis, Ellis Gray, Nelly M. Hutchinson, Julian Hawthorne, Constance F. Woolson, and Annie Chambers Ketchum.

The five Editorial Departments maintain their usual standard of excellence; and it is especially noticeable that the Editor's Historical Record—the only monthly summary of events that is anywhere published—is being continually improved in its scope and thoroughness of treatment.
