All parties knowing themselves indebted to me, either by note or account, are hereby requested to settle the same, on or before the 10th, day of July, as I must settle my own indebtedness by that date, and need the money. Take warning.

JOHN W. SHANNON.

Uncle Thomas Jefferson Todd tells us a good one about how he once made a corn crop in spite of himself. He left home just about the commencement of corn-planting time, and he hired a man to plow corn at 50 cents a day, supposing he would plow till harvest, and is expected. A splendid Bat, Ball and then quit, as he could make better wages harvesting, even if the corn was not "laid by." Uncle Todd never got back home until after harvest, and the corn was all out in silk, but the hired man was still plowing away at the corn. It happened that it was a very dry season, and this constant stirring thrice happy. secured a crop to Mr. Todd, while his neighbors went hungry for corn that Health's Shield and Protection.

Health is universally admitted to be the most estrable of earthly blessings, yet it is jeopard-i as recklessly as if it were of no value at all. ed as recklessly as if it were of no value at all. Thousands who are compelled by their occupations and pursuits to breath unwholesome air, to expose themselves to violent aiternations of heat and cold, and to brave other evils inimical to health and life utterly neglect to fortify themselves against the dangers which surround them by proper course of tonic treatment. For many years it has been a public fact, undenied even by the martinets of the medicial profession, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the best antidote to malaria and the finest acclimating medicine in existence. In fever and ague districts, in tropical and other regions visited by epidemics, and indeed in all localities where the conditions are unfavorable to health, this famous vegetable invigorant and alterative has been found a potent safeguard even to feeble constitutions and fragile frames; while as a cure for indigestion, biliousness and all kindred complaints it is confessedly without a rival.
