This has already been shown in the "Reform" (?) Legislatures. We were to have investigations and cor- rections of abuses in Ohio, Illinois, In- diana, Wisconsin, New York and Penn- sylvania when the Reformers came into power, but in not one of these States has a single investigation discovered a thing. The people of these States have already found out the humbug and fraud of this Democratic protestation of reform. They | displayed in our monetary system and the monopolles which it has engendered; this system being monarchical in its principles and subversive of republican government; and as experience demonstrates that we can have no hope of reform from existing political parties, it becomes our imperative duty to organize a new party, to the end that we may resist the encroachments of the money power upon the rights of the people, stay the tide of corruption and extravagance which overflows the hand, and place the control of the resources and finance of the country in the hands of the people. We, therefore, establish the Independent party, and declare its principles to be as follows: I lis the duty of the Government to establish the Independent party, and declare its principles to be as follows: I lis the duty of the Government to establish a monetary system based on the faith and resources of the nation, in harmony with the genias of the sources of all National and Biate banks should be withdrawn from circulation and paper money issued by the Government directly to the people, in payment of all debts, public and private duties on imports included, except that portion of interest and principal of the present public debt that is by express terms of the law creating it made payable in metallic money; this money to be interchangeable at the option of the holders with registered Government bonds bearing a rate of interest not exceed 3.65 per cent, per summer. This system of finance will, by stimulating our industries and commerce, soon make the unstates the depository of the precious metals of the world. |

Schultz testified, and the deposition of J. H. Drake, now in Europe, was read. The two former testified to the effect that the original charge against Mr. Beecher, as told them by Mr. Tilton, was that of improper proposals. The evidence of the two latter went to show that Mr. Moulton had denied that Mr. Beecher had violated the seventh commandment, and that he (Moulton) had asserted on more than one occasion that Mr. Beecher was a pure man. Several witnesses were examined on the 16th, who also testified that Mr. Moulton had denied to them the truth of the charges against the defendant. Mr. Beach said it was not necessary to call so many witnesses, as Mr. Moulton did not deny having used the alleged expressions, and Judge Neilson suggested that Mr. Shear- n.an should limit his witnesses, which he promised to do. Thos. M. Cook, jour- nalist, of Detroit, was sworn, and testi- fied that he had several interviews with Mrs. Woodhull and Mr. Tilton prior to the publication of the Woodhull story, and that Mrs. W. had, in the presence of Mr. T., urged him to write up the Beecher scandal. Schultz testified, and the deposition of J. H. Drake, now in Europe, was read. The two former testified to the effect that the original charge against Mr. Beecher, as told them by Mr. Tilton, was that of improper proposals. The evidence of the two latter went to show that Mr. Moulton had denied that Mr. Beecher had violated the seventh commandment, and that he (Moulton) had asserted on more than one occasion that Mr. Beecher was a pure man. Several witnesses were examined on the 16th, who also testified that Mr. Moulton had denied to them the truth of the charges against the defendant. Mr. Beach said it was not necessary to call so many witnesses, as Mr. Moulton did not deny having used the alleged expressions, and Judge Neilson suggested that Mr. Shear- n.an should limit his witnesses, which he promised to do. Drake, now in Europe, was read. The two former testified to the effect that the original charge against Mr. Beecher, as told them by Mr. Tilton, was that of improper proposals. The evidence of the two latter went to show that Mr. Moulton had denied that Mr. Beecher had violated the seventh commandment, and that he (Moulton) had asserted on more than one occasion that Mr. Beecher was a pure man. Several witnesses were examined on the 16th, who also testified that Mr. Moulton had denied to them the truth of the charges against the defendant. Mr. Beach said it was not necessary to call so many witnesses, as Mr. Moulton did not deny having used the alleged expressions, and Jadge Neilson suggested that Mr. Shear- nan should limit his witnesses, which he promised to do. Thos. M. Cook, jour- nalist, of Detroit, was sworn, and testi- fied that he had several interviews with Mrs. Woodhull and Mr. Tilton prior to the publication of the Woodhull story, and that Mrs. W. had, in the presence of Mr. T., urged him to write up the Beecher scandal. On the cross-examination witness said he had cor- responded with Mr. Shearman relating to the trial, and had received §150 to defray the ex- pense of two trips to the city made in con- nection with the suit, and that he had been engaged as a sensational writer for New York appers. Samuel P. EXIVE SION MAINS , PLATTSMOUTH MILLS, PLATTSMOUTH | In the Beecher suit, on the 15th, John Har- mon, Archibald Black and Jackson 8. Schultz testified, and the deposition of J. H. Drake, now in Europe, was read. The two former testified to the effect that the original charge against Mr. Beecher, as told them by Mr. Tilton, was that of improper proposals. The evidence of the two latter went to show that Mr. Moulton had denied that Mr. Beecher had violated the seventh commandment, and that he (Moulton) had asserted on more than one occasion that Mr. Beecher was a pure man. Several witnesses were examined on the 16th, who also testified that Mr. Moulton had denied to them the truth of the charges against the defendant. Mr. Beach said it was not necessary to call so many witnesses, as Mr. Moulton did not deny having used the alleged expressions, and Jadge Neilson suggested that Mr. Shear- n.an should limit his witnesses, which he promised to do. Thos. M. Cook, jour- nalist, of Detroit, was sworn, and testi- fied that he had several interviews with Mrs. Woodhull and Mr. Tilton prior to the publication of the Woodhull story, and that Mrs. W. had, in the presence of Mr. T., urged him to write up the Beecher scandal. On the cross-examination witness said he had cor- responded with Mr. Shearman relating to the trial, and had received $150 to defray the ex- pense of two trips to the city made in con- nection with the suit, and that he had been engaged as a sensational writer for New York papers. Samuel P. Halliday testified that in October, 1872, Mrs. Moulton find stated to him, in answer to a question, that she did not know why her name was mentioned in con- nection with the scandal. She said Mr. Beecher er washer pastor and she believed in him. As explosion occurred at the Austin Pow. der Company's mills, five miles south of Cleveland, on the 16th, and the works, com- posed of ten or twelve buildings, were com- pletely demolished. Of the eight or ten men at work in and about the mills at the time of the accident three were killed, the rest escap- ing with slight injuries | ton, relative, chiefly, to the action of Ply- month Church, but nothing of great moment was elicited. GEN. SHERDAN has issued instructions to feen. Terry at St. Paul and Gen. Ord at Oma- ha, directing them, in the event of the min- ing companies organizing at Sloux City and Yankton trespassing on the Sloux Indian reservation, to use the forces at their com- mand to burn the wagon trains, destroy the outif and arrest the leaders, confining them at the nearest military post in the Indian country. Should the miners succeed in reaching the interior, these officers are directed to send such force of cavalry in pursuit as will accomplish the purposes above named. Gen. Sheridan adds that should Con- gress open up the country for settlement by extinguishing the treaty rights to the Indians he will give a cordial support of the settle- ment of the Black Hills. The nomination of ex-Congressman David P. Lowe, of Kansas, as Commissioner of Pensions has been withdrawn by the Presi- dent, and he has been nominated for Chief- justice of Utan Territory, in place of ex-Con- gressman Isaac C. Parker, of Misseuri, who was previously nominated for the positon, but who has since been nominated United States District Judge for the Western Dis- trict of Arkansas. Among other recent nominations by the President is that of Hen- ry B. Brown to be United States Judge for the Eastern District of Michigan.
