

Where are the pamphlets of the new Constitution, that $1,500 were spent for? We should like to see some.

The Committee on County matters are still at work. The opening of their report appears in this week's HERALD.

The Democracy of Missouri have petitioned the Constitutional Convention to abolish or modify the present public school system of the State.

Another newspaper consolidation with a part in the middle—(Globe-Journal); Falls City, Nemaha County. Republican. Ed Howe boss—That's right boys.

Geo. L. Brown, State Sec'y of Immigration, has written a very concise, and accurate statement on the Grasshopper question. It was published in the Republican of Omaha.

Harpers Magazine comes to us a week earlier than usual this month in consequence of the publication of Long-fellow's poem, delivered on the 50th anniversary of his class at Bowdoin College. It is a very fine production.

Gen. Frank P. Blair, Ex-Senator from Missouri, a prominent Union General during the war, and one of the ablest men in the country, died at his home on the 8th inst. He was shamefully treated by the Mo. democracy in his later years, but the people of St. Louis gave him a great ovation at his funeral.

THE LAST EXCITEMENT.

The City Council becoming tired of the "no fund" cry, has been punching up the Treasurer to levy on the property of non-taxpayers and test the validity of last year's taxes.

So on Monday the Marshal began by levying on Mr. Dovey's horse, Tuesday he went for Geo. Fairfield, D. H. Wheeler, James Buttery and Dr. Jno. Black. Wednesday evening the streets were blocked every few paces by curious readers of the notices of sale posted up by Mr. Murphy.

They gobbled Buttery's horses, Wheeler's carriage, Fairfield's light wagon and Dr. Black's horse and buggy.

The quiet and good-natured citizens of Plattsmouth awoke on Friday morning and found that Mr. Irving, Superintendent, with his clerks, and Mr. Cowles, with his clerks, had silently folded their tents the afternoon before and as quietly pulled out of the town limits for Omaha.

On Friday morning, when the information became well known, there was a grand whirl of excitement and much strong talk indulged in. The people crowded around the County offices, and began examining the records and the so-called bonds and agreements, by which the B. & M. were supposed to be bound to maintain headquarters in Plattsmouth. In so doing, it was found that the County Commissioners had surrendered the bond entered into by Mr. Strong, Attorney for the B. & M. in Iowa, at the time the original bonds were delivered to the R. R. Co. This caused

Excitement No. 2, and for a while absorbed the interest in the R. R. removal, and changed the course of indignation somewhat from the railroad officials to county officers and their legal advisers. If words could annihilate, both R. R.'s and Co. "Coma" would have fared hard on that day. A few of the quiet, determined, and better posted of our citizens began to hunt out every scrap of information bearing on the original transactions between the Strong and the County, and had not the B. & M. moved as quietly as they did, it is probable they would have needed a longer train and heavier engine to move them when they did go.

The merchants, and all the smaller business men felt exceedingly blue, charging that they had been sold out and defrauded of their rights somehow, and threatening dire vengeance on the true parties whenever it should be sifted to the bottom. The report of the "Investigating Committee" now in session sets forth very fairly the peoples side of the question, and we recommend its careful reading.

The railroad company's side. Desiring to give all parties a fair hearing in this matter, the HERALD has obtained the views of the railroad men, and herewith presents their side of the question direct from Mr. Irving himself. In the first place they emphatically assert that the county first broke faith with them in refusing to pay the interest on the original bonds, and after a wearisome and expensive litigation forcing them into a compromise, by which they surrendered $100,000 of bonds and interest, for the sake of getting the other $100,000 hereafter in peace and quietness.

They deny the validity of the Strong bond, claiming that he had no authority to enter into such an agreement, was never authorized to by the stockholders at Boston, and moreover, never was the Attorney or agent of the B. & M. in Nebraska. That the bond was so much waste paper in fact, but causing innumerable questions and annoyance to the company, in constantly explaining it to their factors and moneyed men.

This view was agreed in by all the Attorneys present at the settlement, and it was surrendered in open and fair daylight. That, as far as they were concerned, they had nothing to conceal and no favors to ask; they simply stood on their plain, square, legal rights, and were willing the whole world should have known of the terms of the settlement.

They consider that, by the breach of faith, in not paying the original bonds, and by the further successful attempt to force them into a ruinous compromise, they would be morally and legally released from all obligations on that bond.

But as a matter of fact, and justice, they want it distinctly understood, that they do not intend to remove ANY MORE SHOPS, PERSONS, OR EQUIPMENTS from Plattsmouth, and that the present removal was not made in a spirit of retaliation, nor to suit the whims of certain officers of the Company, but was an ABSOLUTE BUSINESS NECESSITY brought about by this state of affairs. The great freight lines on other roads centre in Omaha, the Stock shippers and traveling men centre there also, and the B. & M. found it impossible to compete with other roads and hold their own unless their Superintendent and freight department were placed where they could see and know this class of men, which could not be accomplished at Plattsmouth.

The wholesale trade of Omaha, shipping west, is considerable, and the shippers wanted to see the railroad men, together with all coupons attached to the bonds so surrendered, and also twenty thousand dollars of coupons attached to the bonds retained by the company. One condition of the compromise on the part of the company, was that the commissioners surrender to the company for cancellation a certain bond in the penal sum of $800,000, given to the county as a plain business proposition removed to Omaha for the present.

FROM WEeping WATER.

Mr. Editor—Dear Sir—I take the privilege of reporting to you the proceedings of a School Exhibition, given at the close of school in District No. 69. The exhibition was given under the management of our teacher, Mr. Howard W. Zink. The entertainment was given in George Lathrop's Grove, the night of the 1st of July. Although the weather was very unfavorable for a grove exhibition, still there were there two and three hundred people present. Everything passed off pleasantly, and the exhibition was decidedly all to be the most successful one held in this part of the county. Our school here is in a flourishing condition. The spring and summer term having an average of twenty-five scholars. Mr. Zink starts for Iowa on next Monday. He leaves the District with the good wishes of all, and the board have engaged his services for the coming fall and winter. The whole District seems to be pleased with his efforts.

NEBRASKA STATE SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

Respectfully yours, JOHN MURTYE.

NEBRASKA STATE SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

It is hoped every school in the State will be represented. One delegate is allowed each school of 100 or less, and one additional delegate for each additional 100 or fraction thereof above 100. A full report is expected from each school sending delegates. Officers of schools are requested to elect their delegates at once, and send names and addresses to J. W. Hartley or J. M. McKenzie, Lincoln, that entertainment may be provided.

Entertainment will be free. Reception committees will be found at M. E. Church on N Street between 11th and 12th.

Railroads will carry delegates as follows: Union Pacific, Burlington and Missouri River, and Omaha and Northwestern for round trip one and one-fifth fares; Atchison and Nebraska and Midland Pacific for round trip one fare.

Dear Brethren, this is your convention. Shall we make it glorious? I. P. GAGE, State Sec. Conductor.

Prof. B. D. WORLEY, Leader of Music.

THE WEEK.

Partial Removal of the B. & M. Headquarters to Omaha.

The week has been profuse of local excitements. Among the most prominent, and bidding fair at one time to cause trouble, was the removal of the Superintendent's Office and the head of the Freight Department to Omaha. The quiet and good-natured citizens of Plattsmouth awoke on Friday morning and found that Mr. Irving, Superintendent, with his clerks, and Mr. Cowles, with his clerks, had silently folded their tents the afternoon before and as quietly pulled out of the town limits for Omaha.

On Friday morning, when the information became well known, there was a grand whirl of excitement and much strong talk indulged in. R. Co. This caused

Excitement No. 2, and for a while absorbed the interest in the R. R. removal, and changed the course of indignation somewhat from the railroad officials to county officers and their legal advisers. If words could annihilate, both R. R.'s and Co. "Coma" would have fared hard on that day. A few of the quiet, determined, and better posted of our citizens began to hunt out every scrap of information bearing on the original transactions between the Strong and the County, and had not the B. & M. moved as quietly as they did, it is probable they would have needed a longer train and heavier engine to move them when they did go.

The merchants, and all the smaller business men felt exceedingly blue, charging that they had been sold out and defrauded of their rights somehow, and threatening dire vengeance on the true parties whenever it should be sifted to the bottom. The report of the "Investigating Committee" now in session sets forth very fairly the peoples side of the question, and we recommend its careful reading.

The railroad company's side. Desiring to give all parties a fair hearing in this matter, the HERALD has obtained the views of the railroad men, and herewith presents their side of the question direct from Mr. Irving himself. REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF INVESTIGATION REGARDING THE COUNTY RECORDS.

To the People of Cass County: The undersigned, having been appointed a committee, held at Plattsmouth on July 6th, 1875, for the purpose of examining the records of said County, relative to transactions in regard to the building of bridges and other matters, respectfully submit the following:

The committee have examined the records of said county in regard to the so called compromise of the litigation between the commissioners of the county, and the B. & M. R. R. Company, and find that in the compromise, the company surrendered to the commissioners, one hundred thousand dollars of the two hundred thousand voted in aid of the construction of said road, together with all coupons attached to the bonds so surrendered, and also twenty thousand dollars of coupons attached to the bonds retained by the company. One condition of the compromise on the part of the company, was that the commissioners surrender to the company for cancellation a certain bond in the penal sum of $800,000, given to the county as a plain business proposition removed to Omaha for the present.

The committee have made a careful examination of the records, as far as the circumstances will permit, and find that in this particular case, Attorneys' fees, to the amount of $7,500, have been paid by the commissioner to E. Akeley and S. M. Chapman, the latter acting as the time as attorney for the county.

The committee are of the opinion, that the compromise, consummated under the foregoing conditions, was impolitic, injudicious, and detrimental to the best interests of the taxpayers of the county. By this compromise, the R. R. company became released from any liability of the bond for $800,000, thus leaving the said company obligated to perform nothing, while the citizens of the county by a decree of the District Court were obligated to assume the payment of $100,000, with $10,000 of accrued interest as well as annually thereafter, and that obligation so irrevocably fixed, that no person can get relief, without first invalidating a decree of Court.

The committee would state that they are unable to make any further report at the present time, not having had sufficient time to examine the official records, but will report to the people as the necessary examinations are made.

The Commissioner's report adverse to the location of said road—which report is approved. The Commissioner to view route for road, petitioned for by John Ring, recommended the location of said road. It is ordered that Wm. Young, County Surveyor, be and he is hereby appointed Commissioner to locate the same. The Commissioner to view and report upon proposed route for County road and to vacate part of road now in force, recommending the location and vacation, as petitioned for by Godfried Fickler: It is therefore ordered that Wm. Young be and he is hereby appointed to locate and vacate the same, as prayed for in the petition. Ordered, that Chas. Root be and he is hereby allowed the sum of $4.00 on Road Dist' No. 37 for Supervisor's receipt cancelled. Ordered, that E. A. Petition for the location of a County road, commencing 80 rods south of the centre of section 15, town 10, range 13; thence south and terminating at the centre of section 22, town 10, range 13, was then presented and R. O. Hoback appointed a Commissioner to view and report. Also Petition to vacate a road, commencing 80 rods south of the centre of section 15, town 10, range 13; thence running in a south-easterly direction, till it intersects a road running east and west through the centre of section 22, town 10, range 13, upon which R. O. Hoback was appointed to view and report. Also Petition for the location of a road, commencing on the County line, thence north through the middle of section 32, town 10, range 14; thence north to a point known as Laton's Springs—upon which it is ordered that R. O. Hoback be and he is hereby appointed to view and report.

In the matter of the petition for the extension of the time for the payment of taxes, it is decided that the Board has no authority to act in any matter of such extension, which gives longer time than is provided for by law. Ordered by the Board that an order heretofore issued to Noah Clemmons on Road Dist' No. 18 be and the same is hereby cancelled, and an order drawn on the land road fund for the sum of $30.33.

In the matter of the affidavit of J. Lynn and others, relative to the vacation of County road by N. G. Douge, no sufficient cause being shown for a rehearing, no action was taken on affidavit.

And Board adjourned to meet at 8 o'clock to-morrow morning.
