NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLAT-FORM.

Adopted at Cincinnati, June 15th, 1876. When in the economy of Providence, his land was to be purged of human slavery, and when the strength of the government of the people, by the people, for the people, was to be demonstrated, the Republican party came into power. Its deeds have passed into history, and we look back to them with pride. Incited by their memories and high aims for the good of our country and mankind, and looking to the future with unfaltering courage, hone and purpose, we, the representatives of the the party, in intional convention assembled, make the following declaration of principles:

1. The United States of America is a nation, not a league. By the combined workings of the National and State Governments, under their respective constitutions, the rights of every citstional and State Governments, under their spective constitutions, the rights of every ciln are secured at home and protected abroad, d the common welfare promoted.

The Republican party has preserved those vernments to the hundredth analysisary of enation's birth, and they are now the enadiments of the great truths spoken at its crae; That all men were created equal; that ey were endowed by their Creator with cerin final enable rights, among which are life, erry and the puissai of happiness; that for enthantment of these ends governments have on instituted among men, deriving Tody party Passeager, (train each day) 3-50 p. m.

itrpolicy to be represented, but permitting all others to be filled by persons selected with sole reference to the efficiency of the public service and the right of all chizens to share in the honor of rendering faithful service to their country.

6. We rejoice in the quickened conscience of the people concerning political affairs, and will hold all public officers to a rigid responsibility, and engage that the prosecution and punishment of all who betray official trust shall be speedy, thorough and unstarting. speedy, thorough and unsparing.

7. The public school system of the several Sixtes is the bulwack of the American Republic and with a view to its security and permanance, we recommend an amendment to the constitution of the United States forbiding the application of any public fund or prooperty for the benefit of any school or institutions under secturian control.

We warn the country against trusting a party lines alike unworthy, recreant and incapable.

17. The National Administration merits commendation for its honorable work in the management of domestic and foreign affairs, and President Grant descrives the continued in the good of the country at heart and and hearty gratitude of the American people for his patriotism and his immense services in war and peace.

They are pretty fellows to talk about it. But there is no need of talk about it. But there is no need of discussing it, for all parties are agreed that the time has come to stop all these land grants. The wilderness that would not otherwise have been developing with sufficient rapidity, and nobody that has the good of the country at heart and understands himself wants any more land grants at present.
