Personal. E. L. Reed, of W. W., passed through to Omaha, last Friday. Frank Woolcot is in town yesterday; also R. T. Maxwell.

Superintendent Holdrege peeped in on us last week, and took Mrs. H. away to the village of Lincoln to rusticate.

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Chapman and a portion of their family came down from the Bluffs last week to attend the funeral of Mrs. S. M. Chapman.

Gen. Geo. S. Smith, our handsome man, returned from Washington and New York yesterday, and there was joy in that household—so note it here.

Gen. Cunningham passed through on the road to Wyoming, on Friday last; and Mrs. C., after visiting Omaha, dropped down to see old friends here a day or two.

Jno. E. Barnes, our old favorite, after a lengthy visit with our Southern brethren, returns to Plattsmouth convinced that Nebraska is the only State in the Union fit for a white man to live or die in.

Hon. Guy C. Barton, of North Platte, former member of the Legislature and now a large dealer in cattle and stock, visited our town Saturday. He was much struck with the improvements taking place in Plattsmouth, and the crowd of tens and people always on our streets.

Jno. Fitzgerald and R. C. Cushing visited Plattsmouth Monday evening and returned on the late train to Lincoln. It was Mr. "Fitz's" first visit to Plattsmouth since the fire, and he says the first paper he picked up, in Texas, said: "The Saunders House and six bluffs were burned in Plattsmouth."

Jno. R. Clark, banker, ex-Surveyor General and politician (now we know John B. he was), returned from Ohio, Washington, and other places, last week. He just sort of ignored his old love, Plattsmouth, and hardly stopped to see us. Never mind! Plattsmouth will beat Lincoln yet, if you don't look out. Our four roads are not consolidated into one yet.

The Board of Trade Met at the Court house last evening, at 8 o'clock. Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

Every wagon that crosses on Capt. Flannery's "New Era" has one or two Cloggs Plasters pinned on the sides, just printed at the Herald office.

By a mistake of one of the "Typers" the notice of Ang. Stohman's sale on the 21st last, was omitted from the paper last week. It appears this time, however.

Which the Herald forgot to chronicle. Through the most unparliamentary negligence, we omitted to make mention of the marriage of Mr. Lafayette O'Neill, of Plattsmouth, and Miss Hannah Burke, of Lincoln, which took place at the residence of Mr. Jno. Fitzgerald, in Lincoln, Thursday, Feb. 5th, 1880.

A pretty little box of very nice wedding cake ought to have kept our memory active, but perhaps it had the opposite effect, too much sweet impairing the digestive powers, which in turn acting upon the brain, rendered the faculty of memory dormant, and so we forget to make mention of the fact that two of our young people had embarked in the same boat upon the sea of matrimony.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill returned from Lincoln Friday afternoon, and received their friends Friday evening, at the house of the bride's sister, Mrs. Wm. Neville, where every one joined in congratulating the happy couple and enjoying the passing hour.

In these congratulations the Herald at this late day joins and wishes them happiness and wealth in abundance.

The undersigned, will offer for sale at his residence, Four mile Creek, on Monday, February 23, 1880, at 10 o'clock, a. m., the following property, to-wit: two cows, six yearling calves, two colts coming three, one lumber wagon, one grass mow and hay rake, one corn planter, three swarms of bees, eleven stears coming two years old, one span horses, one set harness, one read sulky and harness, one seeder and cultivator, one plow and harrow, and other small tools and implements, too numerous to mention. Terms of sale: all under $10, cash; all sums over $10, fourteen months time will be given at ten per cent. on good security.

Our facilities for book and pamphlet work are unsurpassed. We had occasion, last Sunday, to listen to the music at the Catholic church, during the morning service, and were most agreeably surprised at the new musical wonder the congregation has lately introduced. We refer to the new Mason & Hamlin organ, recently purchased through Mr. Petter, the agent here. This is a new style of organ, called the "Chapel Style," and is excellently adapted for the requirements of church music. The external swell, the principal feature of this class of instruments is simply grand in effect, and then the wonderful Sub-Bass stop reminds a person of the resonant pedal notes of a large pipe organ. The Dissonance, Seraphone, and Melodia stops also deserve especial praise. It is, in short, the "par excellence" of church organs, and can safely be recommended to all choirs.

A little row occurred on the corner of Main and Sixth, on Saturday night. It started through a small scuffle between Charlie Kinsler and A. C. Fry, followed by a good deal of chin music, and shaking of "fists under noses." It happened later that they met on the pavement when the fist of the boy dropped on top of the man's nose, leaving the imprint of his coat on the walk. The latter was burdened with a jug of 40 cent vinegar and didn't want to waste that in the squabble, and after deliberately setting that aside his antagonist was gone when the word "Halt!" was uttered. It was at 9 o'clock a. m., and at 7:30 p. m., on Tuesday next.

Remember the "Curly Cut" pure old Virginia Smoking Tobacco at Julius Pepperberg's, at 15 cents. The funeral of Mrs. S. M. Chapman took place on Friday morning, the 18th inst., from the family residence, Rev. Mr. Baird officiating; a large number of friends following the remains to their last resting place.

A police court is the place to see the queer side of human nature. Our judge and his "Bijal" had a round Monday morning with four meekies who reside over a shoe-shop on Main street. Mrs. Devores, Mrs. Duncan, Miss Johnson and Hattie Smith, was the way they read on the docket, and Marshal Murphy had them up for keeping a disorderly house.

Mrs. Devore (ore) had a pretty straight tale about herself and her lady boarders, in which she was backed up by Mrs. Duncan and Hattie S.

His Honor then asked Miss Johnson if she had anything to say for herself. "I have, for a fact, by G—" said the blushing Miss J., and she then and there streaked the pale air with asseverations of her temperance, modesty, charity, benevolence, and other thoroughbred qualities.

The Judge tried to wedge in edgeways, but to no go, and not till after she was run down, and the key lost, could his Honor find a place to speak thusly: "Mrs. Devore, it seems to the Court rather singular that you should have so many lady friends in such small quarters, viz: two rooms; and it also strikes the Court as anomalous that said lady friends and boarders should be visited at evening time by so many gentleman friends, as you hereby acknowledge. But as there is not sufficient proof before this Court to show that there has been a disturbance within the meaning of the law, or that yourself and inmates have been disorderly, you are hereby discharged in this Court."

Here the Judge paused, wiped his eyes, and perceptibly raised his voice. "But as for Miss Johnson, her case requires different treatment. It appears to this Court that she has scarcely a leg enough for two women, and decidedly too much for one. We, therefore, give the said maiden, Johnson, five hours to leave this town, and if she is after that time found within the said limits of our pious and virtuous burg, the Court will investigate her case further, and report a further punishment. Five hours, Miss Johnson; remember! Marshal, the Court is adjourned for lunch!"

Oysters. At F. S. White's; the best brands at low prices. For Sale. A good No. 8 1/2 life saving fire hat and belt. Original cost $7.45, for sale at half price. Enquire at this office. Genuine Virginia Smoking Tobaccos. The celebrated "Brown Dick" brand of Tobacco, at 20 cents a package, at Julius Pepperberg's. Mike Schnellbacher. Is there—at the old place, open and ready for work, but he wants some money right away, and all "you" say that over him, want to come up to the scratch at once, as Mike wants the seeds to pay on his new building. Now don't forget this warning, or there'll be trouble.

New Bill. Our former friends and others, having friends about to come in this direction, will do well to inform them that a first-class steam ferry boat is now, and will be in future making regular trips across the Missouri at this city. Mr. N. P. Pinner, the captain, promises accommodation to the public, and no teams will be obliged to turn back for want of a ferry.

Fees of Doctors. The fee of doctors is an item that very many persons are interested in just at present. We believe the fee of a doctor is $2.00, which would take a man confined to his bed for a year, and in need of a daily visit, over $1,000 a year for medical attendance alone! And one single bottle of Hop Bitters would save the $1,000 and all the year's sickness.—Ed.

Guar Washington Letter. FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT. If the enthusiastic welcome accorded the Hon. Chas. Stewart Parnell was a tribute to the cause his advocates, many an Irish heart must have been made glad by the reception given him by Washington's leading citizens.

From Louisville. LOUISVILLE, NEB., Feb. 7, 1880. ED. HERALD.—I saw a piece in the Herald from a man in Louisville who seems to be very much interested in a road running through Pankonin's land to Louisville. I will explain it a little better than he did about that road.

About two years ago Mr. J. Ferguson got up a petition to put a road through to Louisville. So Mr. Ramsey, after hunting up his man and telling him where to locate the road, started on the section line, and then on the line as far as Pankonin's land went. 35 rods east, and then north, then 100 rods east again, and then north to Louisville. Mr. Pankonin cannot read English; so he did not know anything about this until they were laying out the road. As soon as he found it out he was against it; but the County Commissioners, to which Mr. Ramsey, of Louisville, belonged at that time, did not listen to him, but opened up the road, and damaged his farm. Mr. Pankonin did all he could, but it did no good. The County Commissioners did not do what was right, but they did what Mr. Ramsey told them to do.

Again, he says that he stood at times at the entrance with a shot gun, and dug ditches, for all of which he got in to lawsuit, and they had many witnesses against him. But Mr. Pankonin had one witness after another on the stand, and they could prove nothing against him; but after a while they found a man that would swear just as they wanted him to, and the jury were all men from Louisville. And so you can see why Mr. Pankonin got into jail, and could not get a fair trial.

I think Mr. Richardson is a square and honest man, and if the rest of the Commissioners will act with him, the road will come back on the section line, and save the County costs. Mr. Ramsey was a poor Commissioner for the Germans, and they will remember him. They could not get any bridges, and there was no work done on the roads. Since he has been out, there have been two new bridges put in here, and the hill near Mr. Biesington's has been worked down. Mr. Ramsey would build bridges where there was no need for any—was in Louisville, for his own benefit. It is true what his brother said of him, that he was a boy; and we don't want any more boys as Commissioners. I think we are getting men now that will do what is right.

Justice demands that Mr. R. would stop his illegal proceedings, and that the road be put back on section line. T. S.
