Word was received in this city that Elmer Kaley had been found dead on his claim near Twin Falls, Idaho. He had lately taken over a ranch at that place and was doing well. Elmer was the oldest son of Abe Kaley and grew up here. His many friends here will be saddened to learn of his untimely death.
Just as much care, in fact a little more, should be exercised in buying electric sad irons, as in buying any thing else. Some irons use more electricity than others in doing the same work. Get your electric irons of MORHART BROS., they carry the authorized iron. Be careful of "just as good" electric irons.
Isaac Painter and Mrs. Catherine Painter, aunt and uncle to L. A.
Hussong visited with relatives and friends in Red Cloud over Sunday.
They are on their way from Marshalltown, Ia., to spend the summer and winter on the Pacific Coast. Uncle Isaac is now 81 years old but proves to be a spry traveler.
Here is something that is worth many dollars to every farmer to know: Sprinkle lime in your stock tank and not a particle of scum will form on the water. When the lime loses its strength scum will begin to form, which may be twice during the season; wash out the tank and repeat the dose. It is cheap, not only harmless but wholesome, keeps the water sweet and saves the live stock.
The Wright Brother's Aeroplanes will give exhibition flights each day of the State Fair, Sept. 5th to 9th.
Their contract calls for two flights between 10 and 12 each morning and two flights between 4 and 6 in the afternoon.
A couple of weeks ago at Indianapolis this machine broke the world's record for the highest flight ever made and the people of Nebraska may confidently expect to witness some record breaking flights at the State Fair.

The 4th annual session of the Red Cloud Chautauqua will begin August 6th and continue 8 days. No effort has been spared to make this year's Chautauqua in point of talent and attractions the very best. Some of the noted attractions which will appear this year are: Mrs. Florence E. Maybrick, George R. Stewart, Lucian Edgar Follansbee, Gertrude VonPetzold, Senator A. B. Cummins, Charles Grant Jordan and many others of equal prominence. A complete list of attractions will be published in next week's issue of this paper.
The trade territory of a town is not dependent upon the distance to neighboring trading points. The trade territory depends upon the enterprise of the merchants and the residents of the town. If a town does not reach after the trade, it will come only as fast as it has to, and it will grow as it is forced to. But if the merchants go after business in the surrounding country, advertising in every possible way, and making good every word of their advertising, trade will come from an ever-increasing radius, the town will gain a reputation for being awake and it will forge to the front.
It is the men in the town, and not altogether the men living within a certain number of miles from it that makes the town.

Mrs. Harriet E. Howard.
Harriet E. Pierce was born in Medway, County, Ohio, Nov. 27th, 1841 and died in Red Cloud, July 10th., 1910.
Her girlhood was spent on her father's farm, receiving her education in the country schools and later attending Oberlin college.
She then taught school until her marriage Dec. 29th., 1864, to Lieut.
Henry A. Howard who had served three years in the Civil war.
In the fall of 1876 they with their son removed to Nebraska, buying out the homestead right of a settler located five miles north of Red Cloud.
There they lived until 1888, when they came to Red Cloud, and soon built themselves a pleasant home.
Mrs. Howard became a professing Christian in early youth and with her husband transferred their membership to the Congregational church of Red Cloud Nov. 11, 1877. She was one of the first superintendents of the Union Sunday School held in the school building before any church had been built.
She taught the infant class without intermission for twenty-seven years and was a faithful attendant at all the services of the church, and its clerk for a number of years and a willing helper in times of sickness and sorrow. She had a strong personality, and was a capable woman in every respect.
Two children, Arthur P. Howard of Cleveland, Ohio, and Mabel O. Howard of Red Cloud, Nebr., are left to mourn the loss of a loving and faithful mother, her husband dying three years ago.
Of her father's family, two brothers and three sisters are still living.
Funeral services were held from her late residence July 12 at 3 p. m., conducted by her pastor the Rev. A. A.
Cressman. The sermon was preached from the text which she selected before her death. Psalm 34:22.
The funeral was largely attended and many floral offerings attested to the esteem in which the deceased was held.
She has passed on, and her works follow her. All who knew her mourn with the bereaved in this their hour of affliction and sorrow.
